Will Rogers Remarks:

TAHOE TAVERN, Aug. 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] We are up here at this beautiful lake near Reno, Nev., working on a picture, and today a fellow come up and wanted me to help him get into some soft job in the movies. I asked him what he was doing and he said he was "house detective in the big hotel in Reno where all the divorcees live." I said, brother, you must be hard to please; John Barrymore is not doing as well as you. Why, you got a better job than Coolidge writing a gag a day. I told him to go back to work and don't even envy Hoover; but if you are going to give the job up consult me, I'll change with you.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

TALKIE FILM SIMPLIFIED

Sensational New Device Found

Invention Carves Sound on Celluloid Like Record for Phonograph

Revolutionary Process for Color Pictures Also in Prospect

NEW YORK, Aug. 21. (Exclusive) A new process for making talking pictures by mechanical instead of electrical means, based on entirely new principles, which promises, according to the inventors, to revolutionize talking picture production technically and economically was revealed here today by George K. Spoor, pioneer in the motion-picture industry and co-inventor of the recently announced stereoscopic natural vision camera.

Instead of converting sound into light and then back into sound again by means of photo-electric cells, amplifiers and other electrical devices employed in the industry from its inception until the present, the new process, to be known as the intersound system, actually carves sound grooves by purely mechanical means on the photographic film, resembling the grooves on a phonograph record. A small "pick-up" device on the projection machine, with a sapphire roller, acts in the capacity of the phonograph needle to transfer the sound to the loud speakers in the theater.

IT'S FITTS VS. ROLPH

Young is Third in Governor Race

Independent Straw Ballots Show Bay City Mayor Ahead in North

Los Angeles Man's Margin in the South is Even Larger, However

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21. (Exclusive)—Basing their conclusions on the results of several political polls on the Republican governorship race taken throughout California, independent political observers here today were agreed that Gov. Young has dropped far down into third position and that the fight-to-a-finish race between Mayor James Rolph of this city and Dist.-Atty. Fitts of Los Angeles will be one of the closest in the history of California politics.

That Rolph will sweep Northern California by a large plurality is seemingly assured on the basis of the straw ballots, Fitts being shown in second place and Young close behind in third position. In Southern California Fitts is leading by an even larger margin. Rolph is second and Young a poor third.

In the State as a whole Fitts has a slight lead.

Figures for the entire State show:

Fitts	36,100
Rolph	32,664
Young	19,111

For the northern section of the State, including reports from a majority of the forty-eight counties north of the Tehachapi, the poll places the contenders in the following positions:

Rolph	19,663

FITTS LEADS IN SOUTH

The San Francisco Mayor's lead in Northern California seemingly is canceled by the preponderance of Southern California sentiment favoring Fitts, but the relative position of the Governor is not changed by the sectional tally, which follows for the ten southern counties:

Fitts	23,197
Young	8296

Although the figures, based on a total poll of 87,864, are less than 10 per cent of the anticipated vote in the Republican gubernatorial fight, it is believed that they may be considered fairly reliable inasmuch as they are consistent with similarly taken straw ballots and other pre-election indications.

In San Francisco Mayor Rolph is apparently running 2 to 1 over either of his two leading opponents and has a lead, on the basis of figures included in the State total, of approximately one-third over their combined votes. This is shown on a total of more than 5000 straw ballots, as follows: Rolph, 3146; Young, 1137, and Fitts, 962.

In Alameda county, where the Governor makes his official residence, Rolph is ahead with Young second. In the city of Oakland, however, the Los Angeles county prosecutor is at the top, Rolph barely nosing out Young for second place.

ROLPH CLOSE HERE

Supporters of the Mayor are greatly heartened by returns from Los Angeles city, which show Fitts ahead, but with Rolph surprisingly close behind. In a tabulation of smaller Los Angeles county communities and in the county of Orange Fitts has a total almost equal to that of the combined vote of Rolph and Young.

Imperial county gives Young the best of it, with Fitts in second place, three votes ahead of Rolph on a tabulation of 1375 votes. Large majorities for Rolph are reported from Stockton, Salinas, Modesto, Tulare, Sacramento and Vallejo.

Virtually all important Southern California communities show a healthy Fitts sentiment. Little wagering is being indulged in, despite numerous rumors to the contrary. Unless a last-minute switch in the trend of popular opinion is encountered it is felt that either Rolph or Fitts may pick up sufficient impetus to head the ticket.

NECK WILL BE NO TRELLIS

Hair Hanging Down Feminine Backs Banned by Style Edict of French Coiffeurs

PARIS, Aug. 21. (Exclusive)—The feminine neck will be bare this year and the hair will be cut close to the head, it was solemnly decided this afternoon by the French Federation of Master Coiffeurs holding an annual convention here.

While not advocating a boyish bob and other extreme fashions in coiffures, a death blow was dealt to timid efforts to revive long hair. Long clinging evening gowns and the tendency toward the revival of romanticism of dress resulted recently in the hybrid fashion of wearing the hair down on the neck, either brushed back loosely or giving a manlike effect or gathered in a loose knot. A few even developed fancy curls and fluffs hanging down the neck, recalling the coy, languishing beauties of the pre-Victorian era.

All of this is doomed. Not only will the necks be seen in public this year but fluffs and wind-blown waves will be frowned upon. The French coiffeurs pronounced favor for the neat, carefully arranged styles in hair dressing presenting a brisk, modern profile.

DAIRYMEN UNITED IN MARKETING

Associations With 33,000 Members in Three Coast States Sign Agreement

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—Completion of a co-operative marketing agreement between three large west coast dairy associations representing 33,000 producers was announced today by the Federal Farm Board.

The associations are the Challenge Cream and Butter Association of California, the United Dairymen's Association of Washington and the Interstate Associated Creameries of Oregon.

Although the associations have their central organizations in the States named, it is said at the Farm Board that members of the groups are to be found in most of the Pacific and Northwest States.

BIRTH LICENSES FORECAST

London Churchman Tells Conference State will Ban Children to Poor and Unfit

(Copyright, 1930, by Pass Publishing Co.)

LONDON, Aug. 21. (Exclusive)—The possibility that a time may come when a government license will be necessary for a child to be born was suggested by Rev. C. F. Russell at today's session of the modern churchmen's conference in progress at Oxford.

"There are many unemployed," he said, "who intend to remain unemployed and to go on having children, knowing that the state will maintain them. If a child has a claim for state maintenance the state must say whether it is to be born or not.

"We may come to a time when a license will be necessary for a child to be born, though that measure is not politic for the present parties. At least the state should be satisfied that parents are physically and economically fit."

That Dr. Russell's suggestion is not merely wild speculation was revealed by a speech on birth control delivered by Dr. C. H. Bond, consulting surgeon to the Leicester infirmary, before the conference this morning.

"My advice was recently sought by a statutory committee charged with supervision of the blind," he said. "This committee, rightly wishing to discountenance marriage of blind workers under their care, has passed a rule which provides that persons so marrying without consent of the committee shall cease to receive benefits and employment by the committee unless one or both parties to the marriage can produce a medical certificate that such marriage will be childless.

"Two blind young couples under the care of this committee have expressed in writing their willingness to undergo sterilization and so comply with the committee's rule. One of the couples is now married and the other is to be married shortly."

The total amount of fines for the month was $218,752.48 and the total number of days in jail imposed 127,804.

INCOME TAX RISE LIKELY

Low Rate Hopes Dwindling

Survey of Returns for 1930 Indicates Resumption of 1928 Schedule

Diminishing Collections and Increasing Expenditures Present Problem

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—Slight hope for continuing next year the lower level of income tax rates now in effect was held today by Treasury officials, after a preliminary survey of the 1930 returns.

Daily financial statements show collections dwindling and expenditures increasing to such an extent that the tax experts believe it will be impossible to recommend to Congress a repetition of the emergency 1 per cent reduction put into effect this year.

Unless Congress takes some action at the short session beginning in December, the permanent and higher schedule of income tax rates enacted in 1928 goes back into effect on this year's income, upon which taxes are to be paid next year.

APPROVAL OF CUT

Last December, Congress quickly approved the recommendation of Secretary Mellon for a $160,000,000 cut in this year's income tax. That was just after the collapse of stock prices on the New York exchange and at a time when the government was looking for means to stimulate business. However, the reduction was made to apply only on taxes paid during 1930.

Customs receipts and income tax collections are falling behind last year's returns since the opening of the fiscal year July 1, last.

COLLECTIONS DROP

Figures as of last Tuesday showed collections this fiscal year of $45,912,860 on customs, compared with $83,778,094 a year ago, and $41,664,094 from income taxes, compared with $83,018,423.

Returns from miscellaneous internal revenue taxes, which were not affected by the emergency reduction for this year, showed a slight increase over last year's collections from this source. Meanwhile ordinary government expenditures during the first six weeks of this fiscal year are higher than those for the similar period last year.

STORK GOES TO CASTLE

Duchess's Baby a Princess

Heir-Presumptive to Throne of Britain Arrives in Wild Storm

Rulers Send Felicitations and Plan Visit to Grandchild

GLAMIS (Scotland) Aug. 21. (AP) King George's only daughter-in-law, the Duchess of York, in Glamis Castle tonight gave birth to a daughter, her second child.

The baby is another heir-presumptive to the English throne. In the line of succession she stands fourth, following her uncle, the Prince of Wales; her father, and her 4-year-old sister, Princess Elizabeth.

The royal mother and the little Princess are "making highly satisfactory progress," an official bulletin from the gray old castle stated.

News of the birth was immediately flashed by telegraph to King George and Queen Mary who are staying until tomorrow at their Norfolk estate of Sandringham. Their Majesties quickly sent back messages of congratulation to the Duke and the Duchess.

TALK OF NAME

The baby is the fourth grandchild of the King and Queen. The others are Princess Elizabeth and the two sons of Princess Mary, Countess of Harewood.

Already there is a talk of a name for the new Princess. Loyal Scotsmen are suggesting "Margaret," the old Scottish royal name. As the Princess is the first royalty born in Scotland in 300 years, they feel they can press their desire.

John R. Clynes, Home Secretary of the Labor government, officially attested the royal birth. He and H. R. Boyd, ceremonial secretary to the Home Office, were both at the castle in accordance with an ancient tradition that the government in power must guarantee the genuineness of heirs-presumptive to the throne.

Nurse Bowyer, who attended the Duchess and Princess Elizabeth, was with Her Highness tonight. Dr. David Miller, who, with Sir Henry Simson, noted London obstetrician, assisted with the birth, has attended the Duchess since her childhood. He is the family doctor of her parents, the Earl and Countess of Strathmore.

As soon as the King and Queen had been notified, a telegram was sent to the Home Office in London.

PEOPLE JUBILANT

By telephone, telegraph and cable the tidings were flashed to the empire and the world at large. Everywhere loyal subjects of the crown breathed with relief after an anxious three weeks of waiting, during which the baby was expected daily.

Tomorrow night the great beacon of logs piled by the country folk on Hunter's Hill, two miles from Glamis Castle, will be lit to celebrate the event.

In the village of Glamis, nestling near the castle, men and women tonight shouted to each other: "A daughter."

Mingled with the rejoicings were expressions of disappointment that the baby had not been a boy, a young prince in the direct male line of succession.

STORMY NIGHT

Outside, while the little Princess was being born, there was a night of wild weather, with whipping rain, thunder and lightning—a hurly-

CHILD'S NOTE WINS HOOVER

Little Texas Miss and Brother Granted Audience as Other Visitors and Affairs of State Wait

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (Exclusive)—An appealing little note in childish scrawl was laid on President Hoover's desk today. The President read it carefully while important papers, with impressive seals and signatures, lay for the moment neglected. Then he read it a second time and, after finishing, pushed a button for his secretary.

Not long afterward the writer of the note was ushered into the executive office, past all the Senators or Cabinet officers or whoever the important people were waiting to keep appointments with the President. Finally she found herself right in the office with Mr. Hoover himself.

The young lady in question is Gertrude Anne Windsor, 11 years of age, of Tyler, Tex., and a young fellow whose hand she held firmly as White House attaches led her to the President, is her 8-year-old brother, Billy.

UNUSUAL HONOR

President Hoover smiled cordially and pulled up chairs. This is not the custom for any save distinguished visitors. On the desk lay Gertrude's note, which read:

"Dear President Hoover: Billy and I came all the way from Tyler, Tex., to see you and now they tell us that we cannot see you because the Senators we know are away from Washington.

"I don't blame you for not wanting to shake hands with so many people, but isn't there some way we could just see you before we leave? I am 11 and Billy is 8.

"We have begged mother and daddy for nearly a year to bring us here and I am afraid we won't get to come back for a long, long time.

"With love from Gertrude Anne Windsor."

MADE TO FEEL AT EASE

Mr. Hoover made the children feel at ease as soon as they entered the office with their parents. He pushed back the chair from his desk and, after asking Gertrude and Billy some questions about themselves and their Texas home, he told them something about the White House and the things that happen there. He also told them a story.

The parents of the children, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Windsor, were very apologetic for their daughter's act in writing to the President without telling anyone in the family, but Mr. Hoover assured them that no apologies were necessary. The parents explained they had visited the White House yesterday in an effort to shake hands with the President, but were told they must obtain a letter from one of their Congressmen. Gertrude and Billy were terribly disappointed, as the note to Mr. Hoover clearly disclosed.

PRESIDENT'S STORY

The story the President told them had to do with Yukon, the Eskimo dog, which was one of the White House pets until several months ago, when it was sent to a cooler climate.

Little Billy later said, "That must have been a dandy dog." Mr. Hoover said he came from a very cold country, but found Washington very warm and every time the iceman came and delivered his ice this dog would hop upon a piece of ice and stay there a long time."

Mr. Hoover found time to chat with the two children for more than ten minutes. Finally he presented each with an autographed photograph of himself.

CITY OUTSTRIPS RURAL DISTRICT

Two-thirds Census Increase Swells Urban Centers

Ten States Hold More Than Half of Population

Los Angeles Leads Nation in Phenomenal Gain

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (Exclusive)—The trend of population away from the rural sections and into the cities stands out very clearly in an analysis of the 1930 census figures.

That such a shift has been taking place has been apparent to everyone, but the extent of the movement from rural to urban life rather exceeds expectations. The record-smashing gain of Los Angeles furnishes the most striking illustration. It has set a pace in the last ten years which no other populous center has even approached.

The recent census showed that comparatively few rural communities had gained in population since 1920, while many of them had actually suffered a decrease. As a general thing the large, already populous States recorded the most gain, while those devoted mainly to agriculture showed the least.

TEN STATES MAJORITY

Nearly all the large cities in the country are in the ten most populous States—New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Texas, California, Michigan, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Missouri. This group of States showed a population increase in the last ten years of more than 11,000,000 out of a total gain for the entire country of about 17,000,000. In other words, the largest States absorbed more than two-thirds of the increase for the whole nation. They now have within their borders more than 50 per cent of the people of the United States. The count gives them a combined population of 64,741,000, as against 57,907,000 for the other thirty-eight States and the District of Columbia.

There has always been a trend toward the cities, although the United States started out predominantly rural and remained that way for the first 100 years. The first census in 1790 showed only a small portion of the population in the few cities scattered along the Atlantic seaboard. By 1900 approximately 30,000,000 people out of a total of 75,000,000 lived in cities or towns of more than 2500 inhabitants. In the new century the drift became more pronounced and the census of 1910 showed 42,000,000 out of 90,000,000 living in cities of the category just mentioned.

COUNTRY DISTANCED

But it was not until 1920 that the urban population gained a definite majority, the census of that year showing 54,000,000 living in cities and towns and 51,000,000 living on farms and in the smaller villages. Turning the figures around during the decade from 1919 to 1920, the urban population was swelled by 12,000,000, while the rural population gained only 2,000,000. Census officials say the 1930 figures will show, when fully analyzed, an even more extraordinary trend cityward.

The population count for the principal cities recently announced shows twenty-six new cities entering the 100,000 class. This makes ninety-four now in this charmed circle, compared with sixty-eight in 1920. These ninety-four cities have approximately 38,500,000 persons within their corporate limits, or considerably more than one-fourth of the entire population of the nation. And this does not include any of the millions of people in the metropolitan areas surrounding these cities. It is estimated conservatively that if the suburbs immediately contiguous to these cities in the 100,000 class were included, their total population would run well above the 50,000,000-mark. Los Angeles readers may judge from their own local situation.

THIRTY-YEAR MARK

In 1860 New York passed the 1,000,000-mark and occupied a solitary position until 1890, when it was joined by Chicago and Philadelphia. These three cities had the million class all to themselves for thirty years. The 1930 census shows two newcomers—Los Angeles and Detroit. These five leading cities today contain more than 15,000,000 inhabitants. Taking their suburbs into account, it is safe to say that fully one-fifth of the people of the United States reside within the metropolitan areas of New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Detroit and Los Angeles.

With 6,959,195 inhabitants New York now disputes London's claim to the distinction of being the largest city in the world. Chicago has 3,373,753; Philadelphia, 1,961,458; Detroit 1,573,985, and Los Angeles 1,233,561. New York gained more than the entire population of Los Angeles, but its percentage of gain was only 23.8. Chicago gained 34.8 per cent, Philadelphia 7.5 per cent, and Detroit 87.4 per cent, while Los Angeles far outstripped them all with a gain of 113.9 per cent.

PHENOMENAL GROWTH

The collective gain of these five largest cities has been nothing short of phenomenal. When the first census was taken 140 years ago, New York had 49,401 inhabitants and Philadelphia 28,522. Chicago didn't exist and neither did Los Angeles. Detroit was a tiny outpost on the northwest frontier.

In 1860 New York had 1,174,779; Chicago, where the Republican party held its convention that year and nominated Abraham Lincoln for President, had 109,260; Philadelphia had 565,529; Detroit had grown to 45,619, and Los Angeles had just broken into the population column with 4385. Their combined population was 1,900,000. When the 1900 census figures were announced the country was amazed at the rapid growth of these five cities, but even then their combined population was only 6,815,000, or less than the present population of New York City alone. Since the beginning of the present century they have more than doubled their population, gaining at a rate far more rapid than that of the country at large.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN CALIFORNIA SMALL

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (Exclusive)—Unemployment in California was an even 3 per cent on April 1, hart according to complete preliminary figures for all fifty-eight counties gathered in the 1930 census and summarized here today.

The Los Angeles county unemployment figure, previously announced locally, was 3.9 per cent.

WITHOUT JOBS

For the entire State, among 5,672,009 persons enumerated the census-takers found 172,556 who reported themselves as of the April 1 date as "usually working at gainful occupation," but at the time without a job, able to work and looking for a job.

The statistics show Sacramento county as having the worst unemployment figure, 4.7 per cent. San Benito county was next, with 4 per cent of unemployment. Then came Yuba and Los Angeles counties with 3.9 per cent each, followed by San Francisco county with 3.3 per cent, Shasta and Trinity counties with 3.2 each and Imperial county with 3.1 per cent.

ALPINE BUSY

Alpine county with a figure of 0.8 showed the least unemployment in the State and in a position nearly as favorable was Sierra county with 1.1.

The Los Angeles county statistics show 94,912 unemployed out of 2,202,131.

Conditions have changed for the better since the census was taken and the figures are given out by the Census Bureau for what they are now worth.

UTAH SUMMARY SHOWS GOOD GAIN

STATE GAINS IN RADIO RANK

Census Figures Show California Entitled to Increased Quota of Broadcasting Stations

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (Exclusive)—One of the many advantages gained by California under the 1930 census, it developed today, is the right to an increase in radio-broadcasting facilities.

An analysis made by the engineers of the Federal Radio Commission shows that while the State still has more than its share of wave lengths and power, this excess has been reduced from 7.19 units to 2.68 units on the showing of its population in 1930, as compared with the estimates made for it in 1928, the year the present radio law was enacted.

The result, it is believed, will be to place in a slightly more favorable light California applications for new broadcasting stations and for power increases and better wave lengths for stations already existing.

The analysis reveals California as being entitled now to 46.08 per cent of the radio facilities allowed the Pacific zone, as compared with 40.44 per cent given the State under the 1928 population estimates, and that total units due the State are 38.9 instead of 32.34.

Total units assigned to California as of June 30, last, were 39.53, which put the State 7.19 over the quota under the 1928 population estimates, but only 2.68 over on the basis of the recent census. The radio situation in California is expected to be eased proportionately with these figures.

RULER LIST INCREASED BY GERARD

Giannini and Two Others Added to Galaxy of Those Who Control America

NEW YORK, Aug. 21. (AP)—In a telephone conversation with the New York Times from Newport, R. I., James W. Gerard, former United States Ambassador to Germany, today added three more to his list of men who "rule America."

They are Sidney Z. Mitchell, chairman of the board of Electric Bond and Share; Walter Edwin Frew, chairman of the board of Corn Exchange Bank Trust Company, and Amadeo P. Giannini, founder of the Bank of Italy and of Transamerica Corporation.

Mr. Gerard thought they should be included in the list "by virtue of their ability" and because of their influential industrial and financial positions.

pictures which he expects to be a vast improvement on the present methods. The new system, he said, would make it possible to get what is known in the industry as "critical resolution," giving sharpness to the background of the picture as well as to the foreground and the middle-ground. The present methods, he said, produce a "feathery," out-of-focus background.

The first step in the new sound engraving process, the inventor said, is the making of a "master record," which is carved on plain, not emulsified, celluloid, at the same time the photographic negative is being taken. From this master record, when the photographic positive prints used in the theater are completely assembled, the sound record is engraved into the edge of the positive prints by means of an engraving machine which reproduces the master record faithfully in every respect.

PROCESS EXPLAINED

"By placing a roll of clear celluloid," said Mr. Spoor in describing the new process of manufacture, "upon a disk and passing it over a sprocket drum into another receiving disk, the record is carved into the edge of the film, while it passes over the drum, with a steel knife point, which is actuated by the vibrations of the microphone. This produces the master record.

"The duplicates from the master record are also made by mechanical cutting means."

BANK OF ITALY FOUNDER DIES

Lorenzo Scatena Associated with Stepson

A. P. Giannini Loses Race Home from Paris

Immigrant Boy Became Head of Financial Chain

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21. (AP)—Lorenzo Scatena, 80 years of age, Italian immigrant who helped found the Bank of Italy, fifth largest in the nation, died today at his beautiful new home in Sausalito, across the Golden Gate from San Francisco.

His death came while his stepson, A. P. Giannini, former president of the bank, was speeding home from Paris. Giannini lost his race with death by eight hours. He left France a week ago on the liner Bremen and flew across the country.

BORN IN ITALY

Scatena, who started his career as a farm boy, died after an illness of three months. During the last hours oxygen was administered in the unsuccessful effort to keep him alive until his stepson's arrival.

The financial leader came from Italy when 18 years of age in 1868. He worked on a farm near here until he established a trucking business in San Francisco. This grew into a commission business that became one of the largest in the West.

In 1905 Giannini started the Bank of Italy and seven months later his stepfather was made president. The bank grew and in 1909 it started the first of its many branches.

BECAME PRESIDENT

Ten years after he became president, Scatena retired and was elected chairman of the board of directors. Giannini was then made president.

Scatena continued to serve on the board until his death.

Scatena's wife died ten years ago, but his three children and his three stepsons are living. Three of the children were at his bedside. They are Mrs. L. R. Sevier, Los Angeles, a daughter; Henry Scatena, son, and George Giannini, stepson, a San Francisco commission merchant.

Two of Scatena's stepsons became bank leaders. A. P. Giannini served as president of the Bank of Italy for more than ten years and Dr. A. H. Giannini is chairman of the board of the Bank of America in New York.

Government Proceeds Against Nine Implicated in Kentucky Aerial Attack

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Aug. 21. (AP)—Warrants charging conspiracy to violate the national aviation code were issued today against nine men implicated in the airplane bombings at Providence, Ky. They were sworn by Federal District Attorney Sparks.

Paul Montgomery, Murphysboro, Ill., aviator who admitted piloting the bombing plane; James Malone, another Illinois aviator accused of introducing men who planned the bombing to Montgomery; Edward Heckelbeck and Raymond Edmond, Zeigler (Ill.) miners, and Noble Harris, Angus Melbritt, Edward Riley, Harvey Davis and E. L. Grant, Webster county (Kentucky) miners.

All except Heckelberg and Edmond are under arrest on State charges.

Hoover Visitor Says Tariff Act No Bar to Trade

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (Exclusive) — Representative Bloom, Democrat, New York, conferred with President Hoover today and later told callers at the White House that he found no indications during a recent trip to Europe that other nations plan to adopt retaliatory tariff laws in protest against the Smoot-Hawley bill.

Mr. Bloom asserted that the recently approved tariff bill will have little effect on American trade, expressing the opinion that if Europeans want American products the tariff will not be a barrier to their obtaining them.

Business Leads Residential Construction Total

New York Easily First with Eleven Huge Structures

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—A total indicated expenditure of $164,-067,983 in building operations during July in the nation's principal cities—an increase of 2.4 per cent over the previous month—was reported today by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

A decrease of 2.2 per cent in residential building in the 288 cities of over 25,000 population included in the survey, the bureau reported, was offset by an increase of 5.1 per cent in nonresidential construction.

The borough of Manhattan led in contemplated construction in any single locality with plans filed for four office buildings to cost $15,000,-000, a hotel to cost $3,250,000 and six factories to cost nearly $5,000,-000.

New Orleans with a contract for a government marine hospital to cost $1,178,000, Jersey City with a public utility building to cost $1,500,00 and Boston with an office building to cost $1,200,000 were among the other leaders.

The Middle Atlantic States led other sections with estimated residential construction during July of $24,415,922 and nonresidential buildings estimated at $39,020,900.

STATE ALTERS JULIAN ATTACK

Receivership Suit Dropped for Contempt Charge

Oil Operator will be Cited by Field Umpire

Proration Order Violation Basis of Action

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 21. (AP) W. L. Murphy, assistant Attorney-General, announced abandonment today, of plans to seek a receivership for the oil and royalty company headed by C. C. Julian, former California oil operator now operating in the South Oklahoma City field, for asserted violation of the proration orders of the Oklahoma Corporation Commission.

Instead, Murphy said, the company will be included in citations filed before the commission by the field umpire.

HEARING DATE SET

Stating that as a result of a conference with Julian's attorneys today no suit will be instituted against Julian or his company at present, Murphy said the operator, along with others, who have been reported as violating the order, will be cited by the Corporation Commission and given a hearing September 8 for contempt.

The Attorney-General announced last week he would ask receivership for Julian's company, after operators complained Julian had violated the proration order by allowing an oil well in the Oklahoma City field to flow more than the twenty-four hours permitted after its completion.

MANY CITATIONS

Issuing more than seventy-five citations against sixty-one oil companies and operators, charging violation of the general oil proration and curtailment agreement in flush pools of the State, the Corporation Commission today moved toward strict enforcement of its order.

The citations, directed at some of the largest oil companies in the State, including the Gypsy, Slick, Phillips, Continental, Shell and Texas ordered the officials to appear before the commission September 8 to show why they should not be fined for contempt of the commission's orders.

Man Who Got Alimony Attacks Will of His Wife

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21. (AP)—William B. Elliott, first man in California to receive alimony from a divorced wife, filed suit in Alameda county Superior Court today opposing the admission to probate of his former wife's will, which disinherited him of her $445,640 estate.

Elliott charged the deceased, Mrs. Grace Elliott, "was not mentally competent for many years prior to her death."

Mrs. Elliott died September 16, 1929, willing her estate to relatives and friends. She was the daughter of a prominent Stockton family.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 21. (AP)—Roy French and Frank Bloss took off on their third attempt to set a new record for sustained flying at 6:37:55 this evening. A broken oil line, which caused the second effort to end after six hours in the air, was repaired and the flyers went aloft again in little more than an hour.

HELIUM PRODUCTION IN YEAR SETS MARK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—The Bureau of Mines plants in Texas manufacturing helium, the non-inflammable gas used in government lighter-than-air craft, reached peak production last year with 9,801,000 cubic feet. The bureau announced today that compared to a cost of $21.29 for each 1000 cubic feet produced in the previous year, the cost has been reduced to $11.18 as a result of a new plant in the Texas Panhandle.

MISS KANE MAY LOSE CASH GIFT

Bankruptcy Referee Cold to Lisping Baby-Talker

Suitor's Creditors Insist on Getting that $50,000

Therefore Counsel Agree to Put Money in Escrow

NEW YORK, Aug. 21. (Exclusive) Baby-talking Helen Kane may lose that $50,000 that her suitor, the cloak and suiter, Murray J. Posner, gave her just before he went broke.

Broadway's lisping singer a few days ago tricked attachment servers who put a plaster on her bank account at the Plaza Trust Company—for the money was not there. The forgetful little miss had transferred it to another bank. However, Helen's bad memory—last week she couldn't quite place the big-time spender, Posner, or her estranged husband, Joe Kane—does not cut any figure with a referee in bankruptcy whose business it is to apportion the assets of defunct concerns in an imperial way.

So the $50,000 was put in escrow today by agreement of counsel for the baby-talk lady, and creditors of the Bond Dress Company, owned by Posner. If Posner's creditors have their way, the $50,000 will go into the general pool of the Bond Dress Company assets, along with proceeds of the sale of his large stock of cloaks, suits and dresses.

Dixie Event for Women to be Started Today

By the Associated Press

A score of eager pilots, racing for fame and fortune, put their trim, speedy planes to earth in five widely separated parts of the country last night, tinkered a bit with their motors, then sought sleep in preparation for another dash toward Chicago and the National Air Races.

Before another nightfall five more planes will have been added to the list of planes racing Chicagoward, where fleets of the world's most modern heavier-than-air craft are assembling for the opening of the ten-day air classic Saturday.

DIXIE RACERS SET

These five additional planes, piloted by expert women flyers, will hop off from Washington, competing in the women's Class B Dixie Derby over a 1575-mile route through Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Missouri and Illinois. The Dixie derby will be the sixth to get under way since the 17th inst.

The seventh and final derby of the 1930 races, a nonstop competition for ships of unlimited power, may start on any day from Saturday until September 1. A change in rules yesterday will enable the four pilots entered in this gruelling competition to choose their own days for starting. But they must finish at Curtiss Airport by 7 p.m., central daylight time, the day they start.

Two derbies got under way yesterday—the men's Atlantic Class B event from Hartford, Ct., and the men's Pacific Class A from Seattle, Wash.

HALT AT SPOKANE

The five flyers from Seattle took lunch in Portland and hopped on to Spokane, Wash., landing there for the night. They placed in following order at the end of the first lap: Mark Mamer, Spokane; John Blum, Seattle; Frank Kammer, Wenatchee; Floye Keadle, Portland, and Bert Reuff, Seattle. They will continue their flight over a 2136-mile route through Washington, Idaho, Montana, North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin, and are due to cross the finish line at Curtiss Airport the 29th inst.

Flyers from Hartford are competing over an 1176-mile route through New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, and are due in Chicago the 24th inst. They stopped overnight in Syracuse, N. Y. Entered in this competition are Lee Brusee, Glendale; Henry A. Little, Jr., Philadelphia; Verne Roberts, Moline, Ill.; Charles Meyers, Cleveland, O., and J. Wesley Smith, Philadelphia.

The trio of pilots in the derby from Miami spent the night in Augusta, Ga. Art Davis of Lansing, Mich., who took the lead after leaving Jacksonville yesterday, was the first to land in Augusta.

MRS. O'DONNELL GAINS

Aided by a tail wind, Mrs. Gladys O'Donnell of Long Beach, Cal., today added to her lead in the national women's air derby, from Long Beach to Chicago.

Mrs. O'Donnell averaged nearly 170 miles an hour from Lubbock, Tex., to Amarillo, her elapsed time totaling 42m. and 11s. for the 120 miles. Mrs. O'Donnell won both legs of yesterday's flight, speeding from Roswell, N. M., to Lubbock in 1h. 2m. and 41s.

The leader said she loafed along yesterday after observing that Marjorie Doig, Danbury, Ct., in second place, was detained at Lubbock by a flat tire. Miss Doig, who finished second in today's first lap, and fourth in the Lubbock-Amarillo hop, still retained her second-place position in total elapsed time. She trailed Mrs. O'Donnell thirty-three minutes, however.

Several thousand spectators jammed the landing field here to greet the women flyers.

Unofficial elapsed time of the entrants: Mrs. O'Donnell, 8:06:52; Miss Doig, 8:39:56; Jean La Rene, Kansas City, 11:01:01; Mildred Morgan, Beverly Hills, 11:14:36; Ruth Stewart, St. Louis, 13:25:30; Ruth Barron, Hollywood, 25:57:51.

Jack Livingston, Aurora, Ill., held a lead of an hour and twelve minutes over W. G. Moore of Kansas City at the end of yesterday's leg of their flight from Brownsville, Tex., to Chicago. These two flyers, the only two in the race, spent the night at Tulsa, Okla. They will take off for St. Louis, stopping en route at Springfield, Mo.

Two Hundred Married Men Given Jobs on His Estate in East

TARRYTOWN (N. Y.) Aug. 21. (Exclusive)—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., the wealthiest resident of this village, today lent a hand to the unemployment situation here by hiring 200 married residents of Tarrytown to work on his Pocantico Hills estate.

The changes to be made by the new employees were not to have been made until two years hence, but owing to the stress of unemployment in the village, Mr. Rockefeller said, it was decided to do the work immediately as a means of giving employment to needy Tarrytown husbands.

SKY WINDMILLS ON RECORD HOP

Four Autogyro Airplanes En Route to Chicago

Philadelphia Sees Start of Interesting Journey

(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21. (Exclusive)—One of the world's most interesting aircraft developments reached a new status when two new autogyros — windmill airplanes—left here for Chicago, where they are to be demonstrated in connection with the national air races, beginning Saturday. Their route totals 650 miles, the longest cross-country flight ever undertaken by the "windmill" type of craft.

The planes left this city late yesterday afternoon piloted by C. J. Faulkner and J. Paul Lukens, and now are flying in easy stages by way of Harrisburg, Pa., and Cleveland, O. A third one, piloted by James G. Ray, left today and another is to follow later.

MARK NEW STEPS

Three of the planes are the newest product of the Pitcairn-Cierva Autogyro Company of America. The fourth was built in England by the Cierva Autogyro, Ltd., another development company associated with the American concern.

The four planes embody all of the autogyro development in America and Europe up to the present and mark a new step toward increased safety and economy in flying. The outward appearance is little changed since the last public appearance of the type in this country a year ago. Beneath their gray, green, yellow and black colors, however, there are numerous new features to be subjected to severe tests on the flight to Chicago and return.

SPEAKS FOR SELF

On the outcome of these tests hinges the next step the development of these planes is to take. Meanwhile, Harold F. Pitcairn, who is devoting vast resources and untiring energy to the development, makes no claims or promises for the place the gyroplane is to attain. But the plane has already begun to speak for itself.

One of the new features of the most advanced model is a mechanical starter, which rotates the windmill lifting surface for starting. This eliminates the long ground run required by previous types to take off. It formerly took ten to twenty minutes taxi-ing to make the windmill rotate fast enough to fly and then it took considerable run to get it off the ground.

Miner's Slayers Both Convicted

PIOCHE (Nev.) Aug. 21. (AP)—Joseph A. Morlock, Jr., and Kenneth Carter, both of Cleveland, O., were convicted today of first-degree murder for killing Herbert Hulse, Irish Mountain miner, last December. The jury recommended life imprisonment for the youths.

Hulse's body, bound and gagged, was found buried in the stable at his mining cabin. The youths testified they grappled with him in self-defense when he threatened them with a shotgun after finding them ransacking the cabin.

The two are due to be tried this month for the murder also of Hulse's partner, Joseph A. Morlock, who was killed with a shotgun.

YOUNG BOXER'S BEATING FATAL

Bay City Boy Succumbs to Mauling in Ring

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21. (AP)—John Anderson, 19 years of age, preliminary boxer, died today from the effects of a terrific beating received last night from Jack (Red) Kuehl in a four-round bout at National Hall. Kuehl was arrested on a technical charge of manslaughter.

Hemorrhage of the brain caused death. It was Anderson's second professional fight. He lost his first bout in the same arena two weeks ago and afterward complained of severe headaches. Emergency hospital physicians expressed the belief head injuries received in that bout were aggravated with fatal result by last night's beating.

HYDE SURVEYS DROUGHT AREA

Relief Committee Head on Tour in Virginia

Special Aid Program to be Mapped Monday

Relief Agents Summoned to Washington Parley

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—A survey of the drought-devastated farm areas nearest the nation's capital to get first hand the effect of the long summer was begun today by Secretary Hyde, chairman of the federal drought relief committee.

Leaving Washington, the Secretary motored driving through the Shenandoah Valley, where the drought is said to be a large measure to blame for crop failures, and also planned to see the farmlands of Virginia and West Virginia.

BANKERS SUMMONED

There was no indication that any action of the trip into other drought areas is in view. Hyde will announce the first of next week. At that time he will direct the co-ordination of financial aid for drought-stricken farmers. Henry L. Robinson of Los Angeles, in charge of the credit corporation, will arrive Monday.

Banking representatives on the drought relief committees have been called to Washington for a meeting next Tuesday to discuss the advisability of creating local production credit corporations to loan money to farmers on easy terms through intermediate credit banks.

Secretary Hyde had no fixed itinerary on leaving Washington and arranged for no conferences.

NO CAUSE FOR PANIC

Assistance the drought-relief machinery will be functioning soon was given today by Dr. C. W. Warburton, director of extension of the department of Agriculture.

In a radio address directed particularly to farmers in drought areas, Dr. Warburton told how communities could be made with relief organizations through county agents.

He said there was "no occasion for any panic buying of feeds or selling of live stock."

Scattered showers over the Plains states were reported to the Weather Bureau today as having aided in relieving drought conditions.

Rains were reported from Western North Dakota and Northeastern South Dakota, Central and Eastern Montana and Southwest Wisconsin, with light showers near Oklahoma City, Okla., and Northeastern Texas.

Wants Every Sufferer to Know About It

"Its marvelous for words!" "No other medicine like it." "A blessing to suffering humanity."—are some of the expressions of those who have found new and glorious health through Sargon.

MRS. ELIZABETH MARVIN

Read the enthusiastic statement made recently by Mrs. Elizabeth Marvin, Hollenbeck Home, Los Angeles:

"When I think of the many ills that ailed me and realize how well and strong Sargon has made me, I'm so grateful I just want to tell everybody!

"There's been many a time in the past two years that I've stayed awake all night long, suffering with terrible headaches. My troubles usually started with an attack of stomach poisoning that left my stomach and my whole system disordered. Nearly everything I ate would put me in misery, and I had spells of biliousness that would last for days. I was always having to take laxatives for constipation and none of them did me any good for more than a day at a time.

"Since I took Sargon I'm always ready for mealtime, and nothing I eat distresses me in the least, and it's just wonderful the way my strength and energy have come back! I never have those terrible headaches like I used to; I'm entirely free from nervousness and feel just grand!

"Sargon Pills overcame my constipation and biliousness, and acted in such a pleasant, natural way. I never did mind taking them. The Sargon treatment is just marvelous and I'd be glad to have anyone who is interested get in touch with me so I can tell them more about it."

Sargon may be obtained at all Liggett Drug Stores and Liggett Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—(Advertisement.)

DRY LAW ISSUE TO BE SHUNNED

Illinois G.O.P. Drafts Plan for Harmony Plank

Question May be Left to Popular Referendum

Mrs. McCormick to Detail Her Attitude Today

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Aug. 21. (AP) A "middle-of-the-road" platform to prevent dissension in party ranks on the prohibition question may be offered to Republicans of Illinois in convention here tomorrow. The Democratic State Convention yesterday demanded repeal of all dry laws.

The proposed platform, which may be changed by the resolutions committee and further modified by the delegates, is the work of candidates for the major offices of the State and other party leaders. Final touches were added to it today at two conferences.

DRY TREND SHOWN

While the group which formulated the tentative platform worked in secrecy, various participants in the work indicated the plank concerning the prohibition issue will be relatively dry as compared with the attitude of the Democrats.

Makers of the platform during the discussions today favored a plank that would let the referendum in connection with the November election decide the party's attitude on modifications or repeal of dry laws.

The extreme wets, headed by Cook county and Peoria delegations, are prepared, however, to make demands for a repeal plank similar to the one adopted by the Democrats.

MRS. McCORMICK'S STAND

Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican candidate for United States Senator, has indicated that she would approve permitting the people to decide the prohibition issue for themselves in the fall election rather than making it a campaign problem.

She announced here this afternoon that in the course of her keynote speech tomorrow morning she will give a complete statement of her attitude on the liquor question for the first time.

Mrs. McCormick is also expected to make some reply to the Democratic campaign issue centering around the expenditures in her primary campaign. "In a brief statement today she said she felt flattered because she had been made a "whole plank" in the Democratic platform.

FARM-RELIEF PLANK

Democratic charges that the Republican party has failed to keep its promises to the farmers and workers of the country and State will also be touched on in the platform, it was indicated.

With Gov. Louis L. Emmerson as chairman, little controversy over any issue other than the prohibition discussion is expected. In his opening address the Governor will sound a general note of harmony and party solidarity.

ALABAMA REPUBLICANS WILL SUPPORT HEFLIN

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) Aug. 21. (AP) The general election in Alabama next November will find only two tickets in the contest for State and Senatorial offices, the State Republican convention meeting here today having decided it would not be "expedient" for that party to nominate candidates.

A resolution providing for the elimination of a State party ticket this year was adopted unanimously after speakers from the floor had declared their intention of supporting Senator J. Thomas Heflin and Hugh A. Locke, independent candidates for Senator and Governor, in opposition to the regular Democrats.

Delegates from strong Republican sections of the State declared the party "owed Heflin a debt" for his part in the Hoover campaign in 1928. One expressed the opinion that the election of Locke with the aid of the Republican vote would "tear up" the Democratic party for fifty years.

Senator Heflin and Locke were excluded from participation in the Democratic primary the 11th inst. because of their activities against Alfred E. Smith in 1928, and with Dempsey Powell, candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, are running on a "Jeffersonian Democratic" ticket.

PORTES GIL LABOR CODE SMOTHERED

Socialistic Scheme Put Forth by Interior Chief Pigeonholed by Congress

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 21. (AP)—It is reported in political circles today that the Portes Gil labor code submitted by the provisional President last year and tabled by Congress has died out and will not be discussed again.

President Ortiz Rubio, it was said, has decided to offer a new project, formulated by the departments of the Interior and Industry, which will not be a labor code but merely a regulation of labor laws.

The Portes Gil code last year caused much opposition. One provision would have compelled each employer who hired more than twenty workers to enter into collective contracts with them. Another would have required employers to build homes for workmen, while still another provided a discharged worker who lost his position "without just cause" should receive a bonus of a minimum of three months' pay plus an additional month's pay for each year he had served the employer.

"Ukulele Ike" Offers Songs to Pay Alimony

Cliff Edwards, radio performer, known as "Ukulele Ike," appeared in Superior Judge Archbald's court yesterday to answer demands for $250 per week alimony, made by his wife, Mrs. Irene Edwards.

Mrs. Edwards stated she was $1000 in debt for household expenses and needed the money right away. Edwards replied that all he had was his ukulele.

"If my wife thinks my songs are so valuable, I'll sing her one or two for alimony," Edwards said.

Mrs. Edwards replied, sotto voce, that she had listened to her husband's song long enough.

The hearing will be continued today. Attorney Roger Marchetti represents Edwards, and the firm of Hunsaker Britt & Cosgrove the defendant.

Canadian Autos Lose Preference

WELLINGTON (N. Z.) Aug. 21. (AP)—The government of Premier Forbes today announced New Zealand has decided to place Canadian motor vehicles and accessories on the general tariff list, thus depriving them of the preference now accorded.

The Premier pointed out that of the twenty-seven makes of American cars on the New Zealand market only five are paying the rate of duty charged on American car, the remainder being admitted under the preference as they are assembled in Canada.

Jumpers Quit Army Airplanes in Formation

MITCHEL FIELD (N. Y.) Aug. 21. (AP)—Three Army Air Corps men have proved parachute jumps can be made from planes in a military formation without failing into the other ships or tangling the formation.

Three planes in formation went up Tuesday to a 2000-foot altitude and at a signal from the leading ship a man jumped simultaneously from each. They dropped more than 100 feet before pulling their ripcords and cleared the formation by a safe margin.

The men who volunteered for the experiment, which settled a point long moot among Air Corps officers, are Sergt. James Pearson, Corp. John Marchewka and Private J. Frain.

Philippine Bill Hits Roosevelt

MANILA, Aug. 21. (AP)—Fiscal boycott of Vice-Governor-General Roosevelt was proposed today in a concurrent resolution introduced in the Philippine Legislature. It stipulated the Legislature should refuse to approve a single centavo for public instruction throughout Roosevelt's term as Secretary of Public Instruction, a part of his portfolio.

Appointment of Roosevelt, said the resolution, was made despite protest of the Legislature, indicating desire by the Washington administration to disrupt harmony in the Philippines.

Aid Offered Hoover on Drought Relief

BOSTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—A number of important recommendations were presented to the board of directors of the Knights of Columbus by the committee on resolutions during the closing business session of the forty-eighth annual convention here today.

One, recommendations, regarded as lacking of prime interest, were the suggestions that higher degrees than the present fourth degree within the membership of the organization be established, and that funds be appropriated to insure the continuance of the national Catholic radio hour.

A special committee of the directors received a resolution asking provision be made for a home for the aged and infirm members, while the establishment of a special commission to set forth the true attitude of Catholics on questions of society, economics, education and industry was also recommended.

Other recommendations made were for the erection of a monument over the grave of Brother Benedict, founder of the Knights of Columbus boys' work program, at Santa Fe; for the creation of a commission to devise a course of study in Catholic culture, and that the supreme board authorize a commission on architecture, law and finance to control the purchase of real estate and the erection of buildings by subordinate councils.

The final resolutions, signed by delegates from nine western States, which have been seriously affected by the current drought, called for the support of the order's aid to President Hoover in meeting present distress in constructive and effective ways.

Machine Guns of Bandits Cow Nebraska Town

WAUSA (Neb.) Aug. 21. (AP)—Three men, two of them town watchmen, were captured by a quartet of robbers who held villagers at bay with machine guns as they proceeded to blast open a garage vault here today.

Completing their job the men, always protected by machine guns, loaded their captives in two cars and drove them 200 miles before tying them to a fence near Waterbury, Neb.

Though the vault was rifled nothing was found in it, the robbers taking $60 from a cash drawer.

Boundary Plan Gets Approval

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—President Hoover today approved the recommendations of the American-Mexican boundary commission for the rectification of the course of the Rio Grande.

Notification of the President's action, which followed State Department recommendation for approval, is expected to be sent to the Mexican government tomorrow. Together with the notification will be instructions to Ambassador Morrow to proceed immediately to negotiate an agreement with the Mexican government to make the boundary commission's plan effective.

TONS OF APRICOTS ROBBERS' PLUNDER

SAN JOSE, Aug. 21. (AP)—Police searched today for three masked robbers who stole a truckload of seven tons of dried apricots after binding John Giacomilli and Dominic Frank, Sunnyvale, and locking them in a tank house of their ranch.

EACH A RULER OF ITSELF....

The law fixes the minimum safety requirements of institutions for savings. Beyond that, each institution, broadly speaking, is the ruler of itself.

The self-rule of Pacific States Savings has always been guided by its determination to maintain a strength and liquidity amply sufficient, not merely for ordinary but extraordinary demands.

That is the reason for the distinctive factors of protection you will find in our financial structure...such as the largest non-withdrawable legal reserve fund of any building and loan association in the West... the largest voluntary cash and bond reserve... an absence from our Statement of real estate, furniture and fixtures, and bank indebtedness.

It is the reason, too, for our 7% loan rate, made purposely low to bring us the choicest first lien collateral offered to any California building and loan association.

On the basis of these distinctive factors of protection we solicit your consideration of our 6% and 5¼% facilities for savings. Send for our Statement.

JAKE-PARALYSIS DRUG ISOLATED

Hitherto Unknown Poison Experimented With

Attacks Only Muscles That Control Extremities

Thousands of Victims of Bootleg Concoction

WASHINGTON, Aug 21. (NANA) Chemists of the National Institute of Health and the Prohibition Bureau have obtained small quantities of what is apparently a unique poison, hitherto unknown, with a strangely specific action on men and animals.

They found it after analyses extending over four months of samples of Jamaica ginger extracts which caused the so-called "jake paralysis" in thousands of persons.

The new poison is described as a "cresol-phosphoric acid-ester." Its exact chemical nature remains unknown and is the object of further research. The remarkable feature of the substance is the specificity of its action on the human body.

It attacks directly and solely, experiments indicate, the lower motor neurons whose cell bodies are in the spinal cord. But its action seems restricted to those neurons which control the distal muscles of the extremities—those of the hands and feet. The rest of the nerve cells and other body cells are left unaffected. Few known poisons act so specifically, picking out the microscopic cells set aside in the body for a particular function.

SYMPTOMS UNIFORM

Victims exhibit about the same symptoms. Nearly all cases are characterized by "wrist drop and foot drop" on both sides. The sufferers seem to lose control over hands and feet. Milder cases can get around with canes and crutches. Severer cases are bedridden and unable to feed themselves. In no case, illustrating the remarkable specificity of the poison, does the muscle paralysis extend above the elbows. A few very severe cases are found where it extends into the thighs.

Neurologists found no change in touch, pain or temperature sensations, even in the affected parts, showing that the effects of the poison did not extend to neurons involved in sensation. All the superficial reflexes remained normal and there were no visual disturbances such as are customary from the effect of alcohol on the nervous system. Further tests showed that there was no effect on the brain or central nervous system above the spinal cord nor on the nerve tracts leading from the cranial ganglia, or nerve centers, in the skull. The only exception to these findings was in the case of the well-known "knee jerk," which was nearly normal in the milder cases, could not be obtained at all in some very severe cases and was greatly exaggerated in some lightly affected persons.

INJURY PERMANENT

Nearly as remarkable is the permanence of the lower motor neurone involvement. Replies to a recent questionnaire sent to State health officers by the Public Health Service show that among the thousands of cases to date there have been no recoveries and practically no improvement except such as would be expected in paralysis as the victim became more familiar with his condition and learned to do such things as feed himself without the aid of the paralyzed muscles.

Health officers also reported that in severe cases the condition is growing worse through the atrophy of the involved muscles, a condition that naturally would follow lack of nerve control and long disuse; in Louisiana, the State health officer reported, considerable hope was aroused by reported cures from mud baths, but this treatment has not fulfilled the early promise. The only deaths reported are four from Kansas.

The final isolation of the suspected poison, believed to be the result chemically of some adulterant placed in "Jake," comes from a fine case of chemical detective work in the laboratories of the National Health Institute, which ran into seemingly unsurmountable obstacles at every corner.

First the "Jake" was administered to rabbits with a stomach tube. All the suspected samples produced a generalized placid paralysis, general muscular weakness and hyperexcitability which showed a rather general nervous involvement, rather than the specific one noted in men. The poisoned animals died. Those taking uncontaminated "Jake" extract showed no ill effects.

POISON ISOLATED

Then the suspected extract was administered to monkeys. There was no effect. The same was true of dogs. The ginger extract apparently was broken down in the digestive processes of dogs and monkeys. This curious specific effect remains unexplained.

The next step was fractional distillation. First the water and alcohol were taken out of the extract and the remaining substance broken up step by step into its component parts, in an effort to find the guilty agent by elimination. Finally the distillation yielded a tiny amount of a substance showing a close relationship with the phenol group, widely used as disinfectants and with highly poisonous effects on the nervous sytem. This was then injected into the muscles and under the skin of monkeys. The results were roughly similar to those of the whole "Jake" extract in man. There was flaccid motor paralysis of the upper and lower extremities. The monkeys at first went into comas, from which they soon recovered, but the condition resulted in death in four or five days.

The chemists still are far from knowing exactly what the poison is. The group to which it is believed to belong is rather ill-defined. The isolation of the material does not suggest any drug which will tend to have a counter-effect, so that it could be used as a remedy.

Physicians still are helpless in the face of the paralysis, hoping that eventually nature will create its own counteraction in the body. Meanwhile the only relief suggested is through re-education to do without the affected muscles as far as possible, and through keeping the victims in as good physical condition as possible to allow nature to concentrate its forces.

FILM STAR MAY FIGHT RENO SUIT

Douglas MacLean Surprises Friends by Apparent Move to Oppose Divorce

RENO, Aug. 21. (Exclusive)—Indication that Douglas MacLean, film actor, intends to contest the divorce suit now being prepared here by his wife, Mrs. Faith Cole MacLean, was given today when it was learned he has retained James D. Finck, Reno attorney, to represent him.

This news was a surprise to their Hollywood friends, who said they expected MacLean to allow the suit to go uncontested.

Whether some financial difficulties have arisen between the two in connection with the situation will not be known until Mrs. MacLean files her papers. She is expected to do so in a day or two.

Mrs. MacLean and her husband were married fourteen years ago. She is the daughter of a wealthy New York attorney and former speaker of the New York State Senate.

AERIAL COMBAT FEAR LIGHTENED

Ex-Navy Official Declares Terrors Overdrawn

Principles of Sky Attacks Unchanged Since War

Limitation of Planes for Fighting Doubtful

WILLIAMSTOWN (Mass.) Aug. 21. (AP)—Terrors of aircraft activities in predictions of future wars are sometimes overestimated, Edward P. Warner, former Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Aeronautics, told the Institute of Politics today.

The record of experience, so far as experience exists is of more value than speculations on the frightfulness of future aerial warfare," he said. He recalled Great Britain had been warned of disastrous air attacks two years before the last war and her defenses proved more effective than had been anticipated.

He pointed out while aircraft have been improved since 1918 they haven't changed in essential nature and fundamental principles of bombing attack and repulse remain the same.

The gas bomb, he said, "is an ugly possibility" of the next war, but the power of gas is sometimes overestimated. He declared competent scientists have estimated 10,000 tons of bombs would be required to gas a city of the size of New York.

Admiral Arthur J. Hepburn, Chief of Staff of the United States fleet, said he saw no possibility of utilising the naval limitation principle to limitation of aircraft.

Discussing the relation of air forces to the Navy, Admiral Hepburn said "aircraft are factors of tremendous importance but they are strictly an auxiliary service to the Navy as a whole."

Chinese famine conditions and relief possibilities were discussed at the round-table conference on "the Far Eastern situation" by Walter H. Mallory and Grover Clark, both New Yorkers and authorities on Far Eastern affairs.

Mr. Mallory said he doubted "any permanent improvement of conditions" in China is now possible.

Mr. Clark laid the primary cause of famine to the drought and said the maladministration, civil wars and banditry contributed to its severity.

ATTIRE OF MEN HELD HANDICAP

Health Authority Asserts Heavy Male Clothing Sapping Vitality

NEW YORK, Aug. 21. (AP)—Dr. Thomas Darlington, formerly City Health commissioner, believes that men must wear fewer clothes in order to compete with women.

Man's vitality and mentality have not greatly improved in the last twenty-five years, he says, whereas the average woman is taller, stronger and much more vigorous and mentally alert, and there is every indication she will continue to improve if she retains her present style of dress; man's heavy clothing lowers disease resistance.

American Threat of Closing Bridge Adds Force

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 21. (Exclusive)—President Ortiz Rubio has sent telegraphic orders to authorities at Ciudad Juarez, to close all gambling houses there, he announced at a conference with representatives of the "confederation of Chambers of Commerce here. This announcement was made when representatives of the Ciudad Juarez Chamber of Commerce requested the President to take immediate steps toward suppressing gambling in the border city. President Ortiz Rubio replied that he had already telegraphed orders to that effect.

Emilio Araujo, counsel for the confederation, presented a letter from the Ciudad Juarez Chamber of Commerce reading as follows:

"The American authorities are preparing to close the international bridge between 5 and 9 o'clock as a consequence of the opening last Saturday of gambling houses in this city under the name of lottery tables. Realization of such a threat will signify the ruin of our commerce. Earnestly we entreat you to dictate such dispositions as necessary for the closure of the said gambling house."

Senator Cadet Taylor Gives Reasons for Faith

Candidate and Former Soldier Lauded

[illegible]NA, Aug. 21.—Citing his [illegible] years of experience as State [illegible] in the California State [illegible] with the present bureau[illegible] administration of State af[illegible] State Senator Cadet Taylor, [illegible]-old local staunch Republi[illegible] today, reiterated his absolute [illegible] in the ability of Buron Fitts [illegible] fully take charge of the [illegible] government and put it upon [illegible] business basis. He also [illegible] with emphasis that, all things [illegible] equal, or between a civilian [illegible] who had served his country [illegible] of his ability, the [illegible] be given the prefer[illegible]

[illegible] the four years I was in [illegible] Senate I made a study [illegible] State government, and I [illegible] believe the people of Califor[illegible] understand the point that has [illegible] reached," Senator Taylor said. [illegible] of government of the peo[illegible] for the people and for the peo[illegible] has become a bureaucratic [illegible] of State affairs.

[illegible] CONSTITUTION NEEDED

[illegible] Governor is wholly re[illegible] for this condition. [illegible] constitutional amend[illegible] the people have voted for [illegible], neither the Gover[illegible] Legislature can reach. [illegible] of this situation, I want [illegible] the necessity for the [illegible] as the coming election of [illegible] constitution.

[illegible] my investigations, I found [illegible] there are forty-two so-called [illegible] bureaus. They col[illegible] from the business men of the [illegible] $17,000,000 during a two-year [illegible], retaining $12,000,000 for sal[illegible] and expenses and turning in [illegible] general fund about $5,000,000. [illegible], business men have to [illegible] this immense burden on to [illegible] consumers.

[illegible] understood Gov. Young to [illegible] that there are a total of 130 [illegible] independent bureaus in exist[illegible] I know Gov. Lowden of Illi[illegible] which is my native State. We [illegible] same condition there and [illegible] consideration reorganized the [illegible] government under six depart[illegible] California with little more [illegible] one-half the population of [illegible] already has under Gov. [illegible] reorganization plan, thir[illegible] departments.

[illegible] DISAPPOINTMENT VOICED

[illegible] 1929 I had a bill prepared [illegible] the Illinois plan, but when I [illegible] that Gov. Young was work[illegible] along similar lines, I decided to [illegible] drew my bill and support his [illegible]. Everybody is familiar [illegible] the fact that many of the [illegible] bureaus are overlapping and [illegible] work. Whether any [illegible] or overlapping have been [illegible] out by the thirteen depart[illegible], I do not know. No infor[illegible] on this has been developed [illegible] present campaign.

[illegible] am frank to say that I am [illegible] disappointed in Gov. Young's reor[illegible] program.

[illegible] a boy in Illinois I carried a [illegible] in Lincoln's campaign and [illegible] been a consistent Republican [illegible] that day to this. In the 1927 [illegible] of the State Legislature I [illegible] that a bill had been in[illegible] and was up for passage [illegible] could make, if carried out, [illegible] Legislature nonpartisan. I im[illegible] got busy and secured [illegible] promises to defeat the bill. [illegible] in charge appealed to [illegible] my opposition, remarking [illegible] if I would it could pass the [illegible]. Of course, I declined, and [illegible] bill died an easy and natural [illegible]. Subsequent events seemed to [illegible] that Gov. Young and his [illegible] had been advocating this [illegible] for years, something I did not [illegible] at the time.

[illegible] YOUNG AGAINST CHANGE

[illegible] the 1925 session I introduced [illegible] to amend the State primary [illegible], cutting out everything except [illegible] one idea, that of compelling [illegible] to file according to repre[illegible]. I appeared before the com[illegible] and asked them to report [illegible] out, either favorably or ad[illegible]. Gov. Young, then Lieuten[illegible]-Governor, then appeared and [illegible] the bill. Of course, he ap[illegible] the Committee on Elections [illegible] I was in a hopeless minority.

[illegible] Gov. Young and I are personal[illegible] and I hope we always will. [illegible] surely will not separate on [illegible] of the selection [illegible] candidates for office. I have [illegible] word to say against Mr. [illegible] as a citizen and a man [illegible] and integrity, but I [illegible] like the machine adminis[illegible] that is being so ably con[illegible], which in my judgment [illegible] be used against the Hoover ad[illegible] two years hence. Pres[illegible] Taft was a warm personal [illegible] of mine and it may be s[illegible] of information to many new[illegible] in this section to know that [illegible] the vote of California elec[illegible] was lost to him through ma[illegible]

Baby Girl Lacerates Her Deaf Mother's Eye; Now She Hears

BELL, Aug. 21.—A most peculiar accident happened to Mrs. Arthur Haught when her baby girl suddenly snatched at her right eye and lacerated a section of the surface, causing intense suffering, and necessitating the services of an eye specialist. For several years, Mrs. Haught has been very deaf, but for some reason, since the accident, her hearing has improved until it is almost normal.

chine politics. I do not want to see the same thing happen to President Hoover.

WHY HE'S FOR FITTS

"I am for Fitts for Governor because I think he has the experience and ability to reorganize the State government and put it upon a business basis. In passing the reapportionment bill, if any disposition is shown, as in the past, to deal unjustly with Southern California in giving us our full proportion of Congressmen, I am sure Southern California people will feel much safer with Fitts in the Governor's office than any other candidate.

"Another thing, as between a civilian and a man who served his country as a doughboy, other things being equal, the people owe a debt of gratitude which can never be fully paid. As such a man, one who has served his country well, both as a doughboy and as a civilian, Buron Fitts has appealed to me very strongly."

Fish-Packing Plant Starts in September

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 21.—The Newport fish-packing establishment will be operating again in September, giving employment to 150 in the plant and fishing to more than 100 fisherman, if plans made known today are carried into effect, according to W. I. Turck.

Turck is president of the Newport Packing Corporation, Ltd., a new California company just organized. Turck and B. O. Nicholson operated a cannery here last year. A permit has been issued by the State Corporation Commissioner to issue $20,000 worth of stock in the concern.

Fishermen here have agreed to take approximately half of the stock issue and expect to float the other half in a few days, Turck said.

Fred Siefert of Costa Mesa is vice-president and Miss Myrtle Pickas, secretary-treasurer of the new concern. Miss Pickas was associated with Turck & Nicholson last year.

The plant last year gained a reputation for its high-class products, said to be the only plant in the country to pack mackerel caught by hook and line only. Besides orders filled in California, shipments were made to other States and to several foreign countries. Sardines and tuna also will be packed by the new company, it is planned.

DEAD MAN SITS IN HIS BATHTUB

Mystery Surrounds Demise of Fred Moehrl

Thirty Empty Wine Tonic Bottles in Effects

Sheriff's Office Sifting Monrovian's Death

MONROVIA, Aug. 21.—Mystery surrounds the death last night of Fred Moehrl, who was found dead sitting up in his bathtub in the Orange Avenue Apartments, 118 West Orange avenue, where he was rooming. Whether he died from the result of drinking wine tonic or from some other cause is yet to be cleared up by the investigating officers, as thirty empty wine tonic bottles were found among his effects, along with $72.11 in cash and an Elks' Lodge membership paid up until October.

The tragedy was revealed by James Algeo and Mrs. Marie B. Davenport, the latter manager of the apartment-house. Becoming alarmed, they forced their way into the bathroom, where they found Moehrl sitting upright in the bathtub. They immediately notified police and Dr. E. H. Kelly, who found the man to be dead. Officers Lotz and Creager, detailed to the case, called in Officers Hutchinson and Vejar of the homicide detail of the Sheriff's office.

The dead man is a brother of George B. Moehrl, well-known local business man, who is now in the East and who could not be reached. However, identification of the body was made by Dean Moehrl of 804 Crescent avenue, who told police that the man was his uncle.

The body was removed to the Temple mortuary and an autopsy will probably be performed tomorrow.

HOSPITAL CONTRACT AWARDED

Construction Totaling Nearly $200,000 Soon to Start at March Field

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 21.—Additional building construction totaling nearly $300,000 will get under way at March Field about September 1, next, following award of the contract today for the new post hospital and twelve sets of noncommissioned officers' quarters.

The Los Angeles Contracting Company was the lowest bidder when bids were opened today by Lieut.-Col. W. C. Gardenhire, quartermaster in charge of the extensive building and improvement program at March Field, and was awarded the contract. The bid was $186,200. Twenty-two other firms competed in the bidding.

The contract calls for complete construction of the hospital and the noncommissioned officers' quarters. The hospital will have a capacity of forty-five beds. It will face the parade ground and will be one of the largest structures at the aviation post. The buildings contracted for today should be completed within four months, Col. Gardenhire said.

The government intends to proceed with a broad program of development of the local air base, according to Col. Gardenhire. It has been estimated that $5,000,000 will be expended in making March Field one of the leading aviation centers of the West.

Removal of the air corps primary training school will make way for conversion of the field into a base of operations for the South Pacific Coast pursuit squadron of the Army Air Service, according to Col. Gardenhire.

Montebello's Valuation Not Less, but More

MONTEBELLO, Aug. 21.—City Clerk J. P. Walker has issued a statement showing the assessed valuation of the City of Montebello as shown on the tax rolls for 1930-1931. The authentic information was obtained by his office from the County Auditor. There have been many rumors to the effect that on account of the oil depletion in the local oil field and realty conditions the city's assessed valuation would decrease from that of 1929-1930.

The announcement shows that, on the contrary, Montebello has an assessed valuation of $9,948,335, which, with taxes collected on unsecured personal property and taxes on stocks and solvent credits will make the city's gross assessed valuation slightly in excess of $10,000,000. Last year's assessed valuation was $9,809,633, including the unsecured personal property. This year shows an increase of over $500,000.

The cost of the city government, or the current operating expenses here during the fiscal year just ended was $89,323.42, represents a per capita cost of $16.26, based upon the recent census returns, which placed the city's population at 5467. The other expenditures in connection with the city, such as the operating expenses of the city plunge, which is actually paid out of the revenue derived from the plunge, interest and principal payments due on outstanding bonds, the purchase of fire trucks and other equipment of a permanent nature, etc., amount to $90,930.69.

TWO RALLIES ANNOUNCED

HUNTINGTON PARK, Aug. 21.—A Thatcher rally is to be held at Municipal Park in this city tomorrow night, when Hugh A. Thatcher, candidate for Supervisor of the First District of Los Angeles county, will be one of the speakers. Judge Rex Goodcell is to speak at the Malabar schoolhouse, in the interest of the "Young-for-Governor" campaign.

WIDELY TRAVELED EVANGELIST DIES

Rev. Edgar A. Ross

AZUSA, Aug. 21.—Last rites were conducted today for the Rev. Edgar Anderson Ross, retired minister and evangelist, who died last Saturday following a protracted illness.

Mr. McDowell of Los Angeles, a friend of the Ross family for years, read the service at 1 p.m. in the chapel of the White Funeral Home. Interment was made in Inglewood Cemetery.

Mr. Ross, who was 67 years of age, was born in Eatonton, Ga., March 25, 1863, coming to California thirty years ago. He was known as the traveling evangelist, and lectured all over the world. He retired from active work several years ago after coming to Azusa, where he has made his home for fifteen years.

He leaves a widow, Mrs. Irene Jerusha Ross.

KERN WILL BACK FITTS STRONGLY

He will Get Heavy Vote in County, Says Woman Republican Leader There

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 21.—"Buron Fitts will get a heavy vote in Kern county," today declared Mrs. Mary E. Abbott, vice-chairman of the Republican Central Committee of Kern county.

"Gov. Young's supporters declare that he has been exceedingly kind to Kern county, but this has not been noticeable to the great mass of men and women of the county who depend upon industry rather than politics for a living.

"No special notice has been taken by the Governor as to the unemployment situation, a terrible situation that has now prevailed for about eight months, with many skilled men, including carpenters, railroad workers, mechanics and others, having soul-trying experiences in an effort to obtain even part-time work.

"True, a few office-holders and beneficiaries of the Young administration are faring pretty well and these are the main ones on the Young band wagon. We believe that Gov. Young and other governors of these United States are failing us in not leading in attempts to solve the unemployment problem."

"Although they have not gone forth with the blare of trumpets, the women of Kern county in the Fitts-for-Governor organization have worked steadily and quietly and when all is said and done we in Kern county expect to head the list," Mrs. Abbott prophesied.

BALDWIN ROAD ORDERED

Arcadia City Council Awards Osborne Company Contract for Extension from Pasadena

ARCADIA, Aug. 21.—Work of extending Colorado street from the east city limits of Pasadena to Huntington Drive, here, will be started at once by the Osborne Construction Company, it was announced today. The contract was awarded last night by the City Council on Osborne's bid of $130,402.

Entire cost of the project, toward which Los Angeles county has contributed $90,000, will be approximately $145,000. Upon completion, the new road will provide a 100-foot highway link between Pasadena and this city.

Another project of similar type which will connect Sierra Madre and Pasadena is now being considered. This calls for extension of Central avenue.

The Colorado-street project calls for extending Colorado street through the Baldwin ranch to the old Arcadia balloon school in a long, swinging curve to connect with Huntington Drive in Arcadia.

FILIPINOS MAY HAVE TO LEAVE

Knifing of Alta Loma Girl May Result in Banning Them to Prevent Race Riot

ALTA LOMA, Aug. 21.—Filipino field workers may be sent out of this district to forestall any possibility of a race riot following a knife attack upon 15-year-old Eunice Lawyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawyer, prominent residents of this district, by Santiago Raynas, 25-year-old Filipino worker, it was indicated today following a meeting of employers of labor last night.

Fifty men of the district who employ Filipino labor, met last night to study the situation. When it was evident that race feeling might result in a clash, the employers offered to transfer their Filipino workers to other fields. There are about 100 Filipino pickers in the district.

When captured, Raynes begged arresting officers not to take him back to Alta Loma, for fear that the white people would kill him. The condition of the girl was reported a trifle better today at San Antonio Community Hospital, Upland.

No trouble between Filipinos and whites was evident today.

Huntington Park Tax Rate will be Unchanged

HUNTINGTON PARK, Aug. 21. The tax rate in the city of Huntington Park will remain at $1 on each $100 of assessable property, this rate being the same as last year, and covers the entire city. However, there are a number of additional taxes for some of the various districts.

In the original city of Huntington Park there is a 34-cent tax rate; in the annexation of 1914, or the high school district, there is a rate of 31 cents; in the annexation of 1921, or the Alameda territory, there is a 21-cent tax and in the Walnut Acres and Sunday tract annexations there is a 16-cent tax.

The district known as No. 3, which includes the Marimonte, Wilson, 1925 annexation, Fruitland, Huntington Park Square, Bell annexation and Maywood annexation, only the rate of $1 is carried, there being nothing additional.

The municipal improvement district No. 1, or the Tract 2589 water system, carries a tax of 43 cents and municipal improvement district No. 3, or Pacific Boulevard, carries a rate of 31 cents.

"LA GOLONDRINA" ENJOYED

Enthusiastic Throngs Attend Forest-Enclosed Theater at Tujunga to See McGroarty Play

TUJUNGA, Aug. 21.—John Steven McGroarty's favorite play, "La Golondrina," now playing in his forest-inclosed theater at McGroarty Park here, is playing to enthusiastic audiences. Never in the history of the drama has a more unique theater been conceived than the one that is the home of McGroarty's plays. It is comfortably inclosed by colored canvas to harmonize with the green of the live-oak trees which it covers. Rustic tree-branch chandeliers, the lanterns of which are colored to add a touch of brilliance to the picture, hang from the high ceiling. In all, it is a most enchanting setting for McGroarty's immortal plays, those who have seen it declare.

It is doubtful that a more excellent array of talent could be assembled than has been gathered to enact the beautiful love story of La Golondrina. The play has been cast with intelligence and the direction of it is splendid. The scenic and lighting effects are equal to the best obtainable in the most up-to-date theaters.

Hanley Stafford, La Verne Mohr and James Nudeen head the large cast of proficient actors. The story develops around these three impersonating the characters of the Russian Count de Resanof, the beautiful Concepcion Arguello, and the dashing Spanish caballero, Ignacio Ayala. With great feeling these three make vivid the lives of the characters they impersonate. The bombastic work of Malcolm Jelks portraying the character of Bustamente is a most commendable piece of character acting. Elwyn Eaton as the sympathetic padre measures up to the most idealistic portrayal of the character. The funny antics of Lee Morris in the part of Pomposo, the minstrel, is occasion for many hearty laughs.

The music and dancing of the play reaches a beautiful climax in the fiesta scene of the second act. It is seldom that such exquisite dancing is seen as that done by Nadine and Raoul Ramirez in their original cape number. The "Ramblers" male quartet achieved new ◆honors in singing the Spanish number.

McGROARTY'S BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED

TUJUNGA, Aug. 21.—John Steven McGroarty will long remember the 20th inst., when neighbors entertained the entire cast of "La Golondrina," one of the plays being produced in McGroarty Park here in the festival of plays written by McGroarty, in honor of his birthday anniversary.

Yesterday the party was in full swing when Gov. Young stepped into the picture escorted by motorcycle police. His visit was a complete surprise to everyone, as he was on a tour of the valley towns.

The neighbors provided a huge cake for the playwright, pink rosebuds adorning each square cut by McGroarty, who presented the first piece to Mrs. Jules Madson for her month-old daughter, Miss Connie Madson, the youngest guest present. The second piece went to Elwyn Eaton, the padre in "La Golondrina."

The Ramblers, the quartet whose singing is so much enjoyed in the plays, gave numbers specially written to honor McGroarty. The big tables under the oaks were decorated with bowls of purple asters, while McGroarty presented each of the fifty guests present with a red carnation. Gifts were given McGroarty, who thanked the donors, giving a short talk on his contemplated European trip when he will receive the knighthood of St. Gregory from Pope Pius XI, in Rome.

Boy Prefers His Sleep to Marathoning

ONTARIO, Aug. 21.—Ontario's teeter-totter marathon came to an unexpected end at 100 Acacia Court today when Everett Barton, one of the two boys contesting with two girls, chose to sleep rather than continue going up and down with the board.

The marathon started Tuesday evening on the front lawn of the Barton home. Everett Barton was paired with Fay Gentry of 140 Acacia Court. The second team on the adjoining teeter-totter numbered Rovelle Remington, 110 Acacia, and Lenore Barton.

Each two hours the youngsters took out fifteen minutes to rest. During the night one of them slept at the end of a teeter board while the other partner kept it in motion.

Barton today crawled into bed for his fifteen-minute rest and when his refuelling team came to call him he refused to get up.

His partner, Miss Gentry, couldn't manipulate the teeter-totter board by herself and they couldn't get Barton to change his mind about sleeping.

So the whole deal was called off and the teeter-totter apparatus removed from the front yard and thrown on the junk pile.

The rest of the marathoners expressed their feeling about Barton's love for his bed.

Roads May Surround New Beach School

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 21.—The Newport Harbor Union High School, costing $410,000, now under construction at Fifteenth and Irvine streets, Newport Heights, scheduled to open on September 22, may be surrounded by new macadam roads.

Grading of the new road running from the coast highway near the bridge over the upper bay to Irvine via Sixteenth street is almost completed by the county and today Supervisor George Jeffrey said that the county is ready to improve its half of Fifteenth, from Irvine to Newport Boulevard, if the city of Newport Beach would improve the other half. Fifteenth street is the northern boundary line of the city.

The road almost completed by the county will provide a short cut for Balboa Island and Corona Del Mar to the new high school and also a cut-off for traffic between south coast points and Santa Ana and other inland cities, eliminating the traffic congestion at the Arches, the busiest intersection on the Orange county coast. The proposed Fifteenth-street work would afford another improved avenue between the high school and Newport, Newport Heights and Balboa.

His first wife, Helen Mitchell of Philadelphia, died in 1892 and he later married Florence Baxter, who survives him. He also leaves a daughter, Elizabeth, an author, now in Paris; and two sons, Charles Jr., of San Diego, and Louis of St. Helens.

FIREWORKS IN TRANSFORMER

Belated Fourth of July Pyrotechnics Seen As Apparatus Explodes

ONTARIO, Aug. 21.—Fourth of July made its appearance in Ontario somewhat belated, but provided as much pyrotechnic splendor as any Independence Day celebration, when a transformer on a pole between Ontario Boulevard and Campus avenue on Grove street caught on fire late at night and blew up.

A short circuit in the power line ignited oil in the transformer. Blazing oil ran down the pole, set fire to dried weeds and grass, and was creeping toward the Exchange Orange Products plant when the firemen arrived.

Flames shot the full length of the pole, and roared from the transformer.

The climax came with a shower of burning oil, when the transformer burst.

RECREATION ACTIVITIES DISCUSSED

Oxnard Mass Meeting Held to Decide Upon Questions but Little Action Taken

OXNARD, Aug. 21.—At a mass meeting called for the purpose of deciding the fate of community recreational activities in Oxnard, it was definitely decided that some sort of concerted effort be carried on by a competent organization. Thus the work started by community service will be continued here in some form or other.

Following the recent resignation of F. J. Hokin, former executive secretary, much doubt was expressed as to the future of the local organization. Various ideas and suggestions were made at the meeting last night, but no action was taken on many of them. Among these was the plan to combine community service and Chamber of Commerce work; have two separate boards of directors, one secretary and an assistant, cut down the operating expenses of the community service work and reduce chamber overhead by putting the chamber headquarters at the Community Center Building, which is owned by the city.

The most important decision made was that community work should continue. Second, that there should be a secretary, and third, that a committee be named to confer with the City Council to ask the appointment of a city playground commission whose powers would include control over community service work with the expenses of the work borne by a special city tax to be submitted to the people.

The meeting was presided over by R. B. Haydock, president of community service and superintendent of local grammar schools. Other prominent Oxnarders who participated in the discussions were Miss Ethel Carroll, W. S. Riley, Joseph Powers, Henry C. Downes and Caryl Krouser.

District officers of the women's division also will be present.

WORST FIRE OF SEASON FOUGHT

More Than 1000 Acres Swept Near Palomar Mountain

Crew Still Battling for Control of Blaze

Flames Roar Through Valley of Chihuahua in Night

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 21.—With more than 1000 acres blackened and smoldering, men still are fighting for control of the worst San Diego county brush fire of the season, which roared last night up the Chihuahua Valley, northeast of Palomar Mountain. The situation still is regarded as serious, according to Mrs. Luther Gordon, wife of County Fire Warden Gordon, who with State Rangers Ed Neilander and Ed Miller, is directing a seventy-man crew. Yesterday the fighters were able to deflect the flames around a ranch house.

The site of the blaze, Mrs. Gordon explains, is about fifteen miles of hard going from the nearest telephone, so frequent reports are not to be expected. The valley, near the Riverside county line, has been experiencing high temperatures and much lower humidity than has prevailed along the coast. A brisk east wind late yesterday drove the flames toward the mountain rampart that borders the desert, recalling the disastrous blaze of two years ago that burned over approximately 1,000,000 acres in this area.

Although no reports have been received from the fire fighters themselves, generally improved weather conditions in near-by regions justified a more optimistic attitude, it is believed.

MAN SEVERELY BURNED IN BRUSH FIRE NEAR VENTURA

VENTURA, Aug. 21.—One man was severely burned and 1800 acres of brushland were swept by flames this afternoon when sparks, said to have come from a passing train, lighted dry grass near Oak View Gardens.

The victim was Claire Ashcraft, 26-year-old filling-station employee who was burned about the face and arms when an explosion occurred as he attempted to spray water on the blazing brush through a portable gasoline pump. It is believed that gasoline vapor remained in the tank struck the fire, and ignited.

Ashcraft was given first aid at the scene and rushed to the Big Sisters' Hospital here.

At one time 300 men were on the fire line under the direction of Deputy Sheriff Robert Clark and County Fire Warden Walter Emerick.

A county fire engine from Santa Paula and a tool truck from Ojai responded to the alarm.

Damage was confined to the brush and small amount of timber destroyed. At one time it was feared that several dwellings in the path of the Lower Santa Ana Valley section would be lost.

Auto's Plunge off Road Fatal to Passenger

OXNARD, Aug. 21.—Joe Flaherty 37 years of age, of Los Angeles died at 6 p.m. yesterday at St. John's Hospital here from injuries sustained sixteen hours previously when a car in which he was riding left the coast highway four miles southeast of this city and plunged to the beach below.

Flaherty suffered a fractured skull, internal injuries, paralysis of right side and a lacerated scalp. He never regained consciousness after the accident.

Bert Brown, 45, of Los Angeles driver of the death car, sustained a spinal injury in the crash and was recuperating today at his home while J. D. McNeil, another occupant of the car, was nursing severe cuts and bruises at his Los Angeles home.

An inquest probably will be held tomorrow night by Coroner Frank Reardon at the Diffenderfer parlors here.

MUNICIPAL PUBLICITY POST DISCONTINUED

SOUTH GATE, Aug. 21.—South Gate's City Council has decided to discontinue the municipal publicity bureau which was established a few months ago, and will also discontinue the salary of the secretary of the City Planning Commission. These two positions have been taken care of by Harold E. Pomeroy, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce. Each position paid a salary of $100 per month. The action of the Council becomes effective September 1.

SCION OF OLD FAMILY DIES

Domingo Aguilar of Azusa Succumbs to Lingering Illness at Homestead in that City

AZUSA, Aug. 21.—After suffering from a lingering illness for weeks death today suddenly took Domingo Aguilar, 55-year-old city employee and member of the famous old Spanish pioneer family, who died at 2 p.m., at the family home, 1044 Dalton avenue.

The deceased had suffered a severe sun stroke two years ago and had never fully recovered. He began sinking late yesterday, but his wife and attending physicians fully expected him to rally and pass the crisis of his illness today. His wife was at his bedside when death came.

Aguilar was well known here having been with the city street department for eight years. He took pride in his work and was recognized as one of the city's most faithful employees.◆ Due to his failing health this summer, the city allowed him a month's vacation, during which time his illness became serious.

His widow, Mrs. Ella Aguilar, is a city police matron, and he also leaves a daughter, who is with the Los Angeles County Social Welfare Bureau.

Funeral services, to be announced at a later date, are in charge of the White Funeral Home.

Four Hopkins are on the ballot. Remember Ed W. is the 1.—[Political advertisement.

BANKRUPT LAW CALLED VICIOUS

Solicitor-General Condemns Act in Bar Address

Says it Abets Recklessness and Dishonesty

Hughes Delivers Welcome to Foreign Visitors

CHICAGO, Aug. 21. (AP)—Solicitor-General Thomas D. Thacher condemned the American bankruptcy law in an address today before the fifty-third annual convention of the American Bar Association.

He described the law as one "perfectly designed to encourage dishonesty and reckless disregard of business integrity on the part of large numbers of people" and outlined what he regarded as needed changes in the law.

Relating the results of an investigation in New York he said, "It is obvious that estates are badly administered, with much needless delay and wasteful expenditure of money. There is little benefit in the statute for the creditor and the ease with which debtors procure discharge from their debts, without investigation of the causes of their failure, seems to encourage fraud and dishonesty in trade."

Mr. Thacher named, as three purposes which a bankruptcy law should be designed to accomplish, prompt and efficient realization, liquidation and distribution to the creditors of the commercial wreckage of the bankrupt estate; the discharge from their indebtedness of honest debtors overwhelmed by financial misfortune through no fault of their own, and the prevention of reckless and dishonest practices in trade.

In the delivery of several standing committee reports before the convention today, only one—that on uniform State laws—provoked serious discussion. Vigorous objection was made to the inclusion of a recommendation for a uniform child labor law by William Montgomery of Philadelphia. He opposed the recommendation, he said, because of the different conditions in the various States. The report, nevertheless, was adopted.

The lawyers also studied international law, radio and aeronautical statutes and proposed changes in the enforcement of the antitrust laws during the day sessions.

Praise of an international court was voiced by a committee on international law.

"In an international sense," said the report, "a permanent court of nations is destined to be, in the long run, the means whereby justice, expressed in rules of law, shall overcome force in the form of physical conflict, between and among the various but unifying peoples of the civilized world."

In the evening the convention moved to Chicago's new Civic Opera-house to hear Charles Evans Hughes, Chief Justice of the United States, deliver an address of welcome to foreign visitors.

The woman is the mother of eighteen children, including the triplets and three of the sets of twins. Her grandchildren number fifty-six, including six sets of twins. The oldest of the grandchildren is 15 years of age.

Magistrates' Court Charge Airing Sought

Appellate Division Directed to Find Facts

New York Tribunal Under Graft Stigma

ALBANY (N. Y.) Aug. 21. (AP)—Gov. Roosevelt has sent a letter to Victor J. Dowling, presiding justice of the Appellate Division, first department, urging the division to investigate on its own motion "the Magistrates' courts under its jurisdiction and the justices thereof so that the public may know the facts."

In his letter the Governor said in part:

"Recent charges against certain magistrates have raised a question as to the conduct of the Magistrates' courts and the magistrates themselves.

"While it is true that no specific charges have been presented to me with respect to any magistrate now sitting on the bench, the Appellate Division is, nevertheless, in my opinion charged with the broad responsibility of seeing to it that public confidence in the inferior courts is maintained. May I, therefore, urge that the Appellate Division investigate on its own motion, the Magistrates' courts under its jurisdiction and the justices thereof so that the public may know the facts."

The Governor had previously ordered State Attorney-General Ward to supersede Dist.-Atty. Crain of New York in an investigation of reports that former City Magistrate George F. Ewald paid $10,000 for his appointment to the magistracy.

WITNESS STICKS BY BOMB STORY

Estelle Smith's Mother Denies Retracting

Says She Saw Billings at Dental Office

Brands Defense Assertion to Court as Lie

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 21. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Alice Kidwell Fedderson, aged mother of Estelle Smith, a star witness in the Billings-Mooney case, today branded as a "pack of lies" a statement presented to the State Supreme Court in San Francisco yesterday in which she was quoted as saying she did not see Warren K. Billings in the dental office at 721 Market street.

"I did not make that statement," said Mrs. Fedderson, who lives at 2227 H street, "it is all a pack of lies."

Mrs. Fedderson is ill and says she has not long to live.

"Billings was at 721 Market street, with a suitcase on the day of the San Francisco Preparedness Day explosion," declared Mrs. Fedderson, emphatically, "he was there as sure as I am here now. And so was Tom Mooney."

Mrs. Fedderson also said another person, a woman, hitherto not identified with the group at 721 Market street, was at the dental office on the day of the explosion. The woman named was a witness for the defense in the four 1916 and 1917 trials and before the State Supreme Court in the Billings hearing.

DEFENDS IDENTIFICATION

Mrs. Fedderson declared it was she who first identified a picture of Billings run in a newspaper shortly after the explosion, as the man who was in the dental office with the suitcase. Later she picked out both Billings and Mooney from a line-up at the city prison.

"I was not assisted," she said, "by Mr. Fickert or Capt. Goff, or any one else. I picked them out myself."

She insists Billings came into the dental office where her daughter was employed, carrying a suitcase and posing as a photographer. He complained of being ill and Estelle Smith wiped his face with a wet towel and at the time detected the scar on his forehead.

"Lew Rominger," said Mrs. Fedderson, "helped Billings up the stairway with the suitcase, and Lew came back and complained how heavy it was."

CORROBORATES FICKERT

Mrs. Fedderson said her recollection is that Dr. Charles Strub, who owned the dental offices and was Estelle Smith's employer, was the first to notify the police of the appearance of Billings at 721 Market street. This corroborates a statement of Charles L. Fickert, former District Attorney, before the Supreme Court yesterday.

"My answer to the Billings people is this," declared Mrs. Fedderson, "if that man with the suitcase was not Billings, why hasn't the person who was there come out and admitted it during the fourteen years?

"Would there be any harm in any one saying he was at 721 Market street with a suitcase unless it was Billings?"

Mrs. Fedderson denied, phrase by phrase, the statement purporting to have been made by her, as submitted to the Supreme Court yesterday by Edwin V. McKenzie, Billings's attorney. She refuted all references to promises of reward.

"I never got a cent from anyone," asserted Mrs. Fedderson. "And, if anybody offered me money—I don't care whether it was Mr. Fickert or McNutt—I would slap him in the face. I would not tell a lie for any one."

WITNESS SAYS HE SAW MOONEYS ON ROOF

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21. (Exclusive)—Dean Parrish, Berkeley auto mechanic, announced yesterday as one of those who can throw new light on the 1916 Preparedness Day bombing, told newspaper men today he saw Thomas J. Mooney and Rena Mooney on the roof of the Eilers Building during the time of the parade, thus adding to the alibi set forth by the Mooneys. However, Parrish's statement was declared "absurd" by Edward A. Cunha, Mooney case prosecutor.

Parrish said Mooney and Mrs. Mooney were on the roof looking over the parapet at the parade and he saw them from the street. Cunha said "it is practically impossible for a person standing behind the parapet to be seen from the street. It is odd Parrish never came forth with this story before in the years this case has been before the public."

Cunha declared he also has received actual copies of letters sent out by Mooney from his headquarters and these letters all bear Mooney's signature. These form part of the documentary evidence Cunha sought to introduce during the Billings pardon hearing and the admissibility of which remains to be acted upon. Cunha considers them highly damaging to Mooney and Billings.

What Specialization Means For You In Dentistry

By PAINLESS PARKER
Founder of E. R. PARKER SYSTEM

Modern economic conditions have compelled nearly every class of professional man to specialize. The idea of "specialization" is that each man should do that which he can do best, thereby giving not only better but also more economical service.

Dentists using the E. R. Parker System are pioneers in dental specialization. Upon this idea the E. R. Parker System was founded nearly thirty-five years ago.

There are twelve branches of dentistry, and it is obvious that no dentist can practice all branches equally well. Some dentists try to do everything in dentistry with one pair of hands, but the most economical service rendered only by specialization between dentists limiting their practice to one branch of work. This is the Parker System of dentistry. In each of its offices a dentist who specializes in each of the twelve branches of dentistry is constantly on duty. Thus, no matter what kind of dental service you need and no matter what dentist you select, you are sure of getting a dentist who specializes in that particular line. Specialization is practiced by dentists of the E. R. Parker System and you receive the best quality of dentistry at reasonable prices.

Head Man Who 'Muscled in' Stands on Rights

Victim Shows Scar on Head Gangsters Caused

NEW YORK, Aug. 21. (AP)—Witness testified today that Daniel Richter "muscled in" as head man of associations virtually controlling the flour business in New York, levied tribute on both jobbers and truckmen and, when his mandates were disregarded, punishment was meted out by gangsters armed with iron bars.

Richter himself was called to the stand by Dep. Atty.-Gen. Groat, who is conducting the State investigation into food prices, but refused to waive immunity and so was not examined lest possible later legal action against him be weakened.

Today's session opened on a sinister note, when Groat cleared the hearing room in the Attorney-General's office on the ground that a previous witness had been intimidated right in the room and made to fear for his life.

Since it occurred before today, the intimidation is thought to have been in connection with investigation into an asserted boycott of Utah eggs by jobbers and their truckmen, as it was not until today that attention of the inquiry was turned from eggs to flour.

First direct evidence of actual violence in connection with reputed food racketeering came today when Jacob Green, owner of a Brooklyn trucking business delivering flour from jobbers to bakers, took the stand. His head was shaved on top and the bald circle was crossed by a long wound.

Truckmen and jobbers testified about Richter's organization of both branches of the business and said that increased retail prices are the direct result, the members passing along their association dues to the consumer.

Race Drivers DEMAND the TIRES WE SELL!

THE Indianapolis 500 Mile Endurance Race is famous as an endurance test and battle of tires for no driver can win this race who has tire trouble. He races over a hot brick track at a speed of 100 or more miles per hour. For eleven consecutive years Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have been on the winning cars.

FOR years the winner of the hazardous race of Pike's Peak climb — where a slip meant death — used Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires.

1. THESE men buy Firestone Tires. They are not paid to use them. The Pike's Peak racers buy the Firestone Super High Speed Gum-Dipped Balloon Tires from local dealers — the world's premier tire which every Firestone Dealer sells. The race track drivers use the same tire, except for the racing tread.

2. THESE drivers do not simply choose Firestone Tires. They demand them. They know by experience that this tire never fails. It never fails because it is built not to fail by the special Firestone processes of tire building.

   (a) Every fibre of cotton thread going into the making of the cord fabric, which is the foundation of the tire, is coated and embalmed in rubber by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process.

   (b) Under the tread is the Firestone patented Gum-Dipped Double Cord Breaker—which means not only two extra plies where most needed, but also sets the Firestone Tire apart as an all cord tire, while others are woven fabric and cord.

   (c) Firestone Super High Speed Tires now have 32% more rubber in the tread, giving deeper grooves that will give you over 50% more non-skid wear before the tire is smooth.

3. THESE are not just features. They are basic differences in tire building proved by service on every kind of road and track.

4. YOU may never intend to race. You may never intend even to speed. You may never climb Pike's Peak. But, every day—whether you know it or not—your life depends upon your tires.

5. WE HAVE these Super High Speed Gum-Dipped Balloons for sale today. They are the same tires that the racing drivers demand — the premier tires of the world. Their first cost is low. Their cost per mile of service makes them cheaper today than even cheap tires. They are inexpensive, not only because the price of rubber is low, but because we have joined with Firestone to bring into the sale of tires the same degree of efficiency which goes into their manufacture. The benefit of all this is in the price to you.

6. DRIVE in today. We will examine your tires and make you an allowance for your unused mileage. We can equip your car with new Firestone Super High Speed Tires at a much lower cost than you ever expected. They will give you unequalled service and satisfaction.

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

In the city of Castra Sanguinarius, the betrothal of Dilecta, daughter of Dion Splendidus, to Maximus Praeclarus, had excited the populace romantically, for it was known that Dilecta had rejected the Emperor's son and the chance of being Empress for love of the young officer. The garden of her father's home was the scene of the lovers' meetings.

Copyright 1930 by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

But Pastus had sworn revenge for the insult to his princely honor when he was turned out of the garden after his humiliating encounter with Tarzan. Now came his opportunity. An hour after he had learned that Praeclarus had protected Tarzan, he sent a messenger to the officer's home, commanding him to a banquet that night.

Pastus was strangely cordial when Praeclarus arrived and the officer was puzzled. He always suspected something when the rat-faced prince smiled upon him. He excused himself as early as possible from the banquet hall. As he got out of his litter in front of his home, he frowned at seeing no slave there, according to custom, to receive him.

The house seemed unusually quiet and lifeless. The night light, which was always kept burning in the forecourt when a member of the household was away, was absent. The door was ajar. For an instant Praeclarus hesitated upon the threshold, and then, throwing back his cloak to free his arms, he pushed the door open and stepped within.

Transamerica's Rate Policy to be Maintained

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—Commenting on the status of the Transamerica Corporation, Elisha Walker, chairman, who arrived here today from New York for conferences with other officers, said there is no question concerning the payment of the 25-cent quarterly dividend in October.

In the course of conversation about general market conditions, it developed that Mr. Walker, the largest holder of Transamerica shares, has never sold any of his stock.

"Intimate acquaintance," he said, "with Transamerica's affairs has served only to strengthen further a conviction I have previously held of the foundations upon which the corporation was built, foundations which are firm and sound.

"With its resources largely invested in banks controlled by it, there can be no doubt of substantial productivity at those investments.

"It is a structure strong in fundamentals and built for permanence. The statistical compilations of the corporation's recent statement to its shareholders has brought a gratifying response from them."

The extension of Transamerica to the board of the New York Stock Exchange is another step in our development. The simplification and unification of our corporate mechanism is now receiving attention. The number of shareholders is greater than ever before and is increasing month by month. In this marketplace of Transamerica I am happy to say that in my judgment its growth—whether it be in the west or east or overseas—will indicate the faith and labor that its founders put into it here.

"Naturally, there is a particular interest on this coast, concerning Transamerica activities. The recent acquisition of the First National Bank of Portland may be cited as indicating the feeling of the officers of the corporation that its interests in the West should not fail to keep pace with the national and international developments which management and directors of Transamerica hope to bring about."

Paper Company to Pay Regular

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—I. Zellerbach, president of the Crown Zellerbach Corporation, today denied rumors persistent along the street that the corporation would pass its next common dividend.

"No consideration has been given to any change in the present dividend policy of the company," said Mr. Zellerbach. "I have been informed that the large turnover of the stock today was the result of forced liquidation. The monthly meeting of the board will be held the 26th inst. and it is anticipated that the usual dividend action will be taken. With regard to the current business situation, I am glad to be able to say that sales are showing a healthy increase this month over the previous month."

IMPLEMENT INDUSTRY OUTLOOK SURVEYED

Few industries can face the future with as definite an assurance of a huge increase in the demand for their products as can the manufacturers of agricultural implements, according to Philip A. Fisher of Gorman, Kayser & Co. In a survey entitled "A Keystone Industry of the Next Period of Prosperity" four reasons are cited as the bases for this conclusion. The circular is for free distribution.

RAILROAD EARNINGS IN SHARP DECLINE

NEW YORK, Aug. 21. — New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad reported today for the seven months, net income of $681,485 after taxes and charges, equal to $1.89 a share on 360,654 shares of 6 per cent preferred stock, as against net income of $4,016,886 or $8.15 a common share in like period of 1929. Net income for July amounted to $35,171, as against $516,502 in the same month of 1929.

SCOTT PAPER NET INCOME INCREASES

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—Scott Paper Company reported today for the seven months ended July 27, last, a balance of $437,906 after charges, Federal taxes and preferred dividend requirements, equal to $2.76 a share on 158,909 no-par common shares as against $397,582, or $2.50 a common share computed on the same number of common shares in the like period of 1929.

WESTERN PACIFIC TO ISSUE BONDS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—The Western Pacific Railroad obtained permission today from the Interstate Commerce Commission for the issue and sale of $5,000,000 of first mortgage gold bonds. The proceeds will be applied to capital expenditures which the railroad has undertaken in California territory.

STOCK DIVIDENDS SHAKY

Pacific Finance Statement Follows General Tendency Toward Elimination; Others Questionable

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Elimination of the stock dividend of 6 per cent annually on the shares of the Pacific Finance Corporation, as predicted by President Leo A. Phillips, will likely stimulate speculation on the possibility of other California companies taking similar action.

If the Pacific Finance decision to abandon stock dividends in connection with cash payments is accepted as a general policy for the Phillips companies, the question of Cladding, McBean & Co. and its stock disbursement will come up for consideration. The next semiannual payment of 2 per cent in stock is scheduled for declaration in October.

POPULARITY WANES

Stock dividends are dwindling in popularity in reflection of unsatisfactory stock-market conditions, which accounts in part for the general tendency toward abandonment. High yields offered by cash and stock in combination apparently have little influence on investors and speculators, and corporate managements are realizing the stock is wasted so far as winning of additional public interest is concerned.

Poor business conditions and unsatisfactory earnings account for the suspension of stock payments in some instances. Whether Cladding, McBean & Co. is to be placed in this category is not known, since this is one of the few companies still following the antiquated practice of issuing only annual balance sheets.

The stock-dividend policy of Claude Neon Electrical Products is fairly well defined, and there should be question raised about this company. The 6 per cent distribution made semiannually will be replaced by increases in the cash rate, the management has said, when and if earnings justify. No reduction in return to stockholders is contemplated, according to this expression of policy.

STATUS NOT DEFINITE

Union Oil of California's stock dividend of 1 per cent quarterly may become the subject of some doubts, particularly since the omission of the Shell Union cash dividend and the pessimistic expression by this company on the petroleum outlook. The Union Oil management has refrained from giving the stock payment the status of a regular, stating only the payment would be continued if warranted by earnings. The course of affairs in the oil business between now and the time for action on the next dividend will probably determine the policy of this company. The next dividend is payable to stock of record October 17.

Transamerica's stock dividend policy will also depend on the turn of events. Four per cent in stock has already been paid this year and the cash dividend for the October quarter reduced from 40 to 25 cents. What form the January dividend will take will undoubtedly hinge on the business situation at the time.

Southern California Edison and Pacific Mutual Life Insurance, two companies issuing annual stock rights, are committed to this program on a definite basis. Pacific Mutual will increase its capitalization over a ten-year period through the issuance of new stock, and Edison plans the annual sale of common to maintain a balance between its various securities.

By specializing in one well-known soft drink "Coca-Cola," now sold in practically every country in the world, this company has grown to be the leader in the beverage field with an output in 1929 of almost 27,000,000 gallons. Production is largely sold to large sectional distributing concerns who supply 1350 bottling companies in the United States and foreign countries. Twenty-two hundred jobbers, 105,000 fountain retailers and 600,000 bottle retailers are included in the great distribution system that markets "Coca-Cola" in seventy-six countries of the world.

Since 1924 production has increased by 57 per cent and profits have gained 134 per cent. The present low cost of raw materials, especially that of sugar, has been a distinctly favorable influence in making for the increased earnings reported in the first six months of 1930, when per share figures were $3.58 as against $3.19 last year.

BONUS SYSTEM UNDER FIRE

Bethlehem Steel Policy May be Scrapped Following Disclosures in Merger Suit

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The Bethlehem Steel Company's "bonus system," through which half a dozen higher-up officials of that company received millions of dollars in extra compensation during 1929, probably will be revised, no matter whether the Bethlehem Steel-Youngstown Tube merger is finally approved or not.

Harry G. Dalton of Cleveland, a director in both the Youngstown and Bethlehem companies, said on the witness stand that he thought the system "should be revamped if the merger is finally approved."

"If you had known that Mr. Grace was getting $1,500,000 in 1929, and the high executive officers collectively were getting about $3,400,000, would that have made any difference to you?" Mr. Dalton was asked.

"I don't think so," replied the Cleveland capitalist, explaining that Mr. Grace and his associates had transformed the Bethlehem Steel from a "war-time" concern to a "peace" institution in a way most satisfactory to the stockholders.

No subject in the business world has been discussed more widely since the Bethlehem-Youngstown fight began than this bonus system. Judge David G. Jenkins, who heard the testimony, said that the question of the amount of bonus paid to Mr. Grace and the other officials has "absolutely nothing to do with the questions at issue"—namely, whether or not all information regarding the bonus should have been given to the Youngstown directors "before they passed on this merger," and "to the stockholders before they voted on its ratification."

So the bitter Eaton-Grace fight continues.

It looks as if the "investment guaranteed" market, a term which refers in investment circles to the sale of new security issues below the public offering price to certain buyers who agree to hold them for a period of time, will have to be changed.

This has grown rapidly in recent years, coincident with the vast expansion of securities offered and sold. The original object was to prevent gluts on the securities market, for the aim was to assist in an orderly marketing of the various securities offered.

But it hasn't worked out. Roland A. Wilbur of Mitchell, Herrick & Co., who is heading a committee of the Investment Bankers' Association, wants the practice ended upon the ground that it "threatens the orderly conduct of syndicate and retail distribution of securities."

The investment guaranteed market is hotly well loaded up now and has become a real handicap in recent bond distribution.

BULL UPSWING HITS SETBACK

New York Prices Soften on Selling Wave

Short Covering Near Close Cuts Back Losses

Final Quotations Mixed as Trading Slackens

NEW YORK, Aug. 21. (AP)—Stock market operators, who have once more endeavored to start a bull movement in the past week, were forced to dig in today, to permit a flurry of selling to blow over.

Speculators for the advance held their ground only in a few spots, while the list generally sagged 1 to 3 points. Net losses of more than a point were not numerous, however, and the price index of ninety leading shares showed a net loss of only 1 9-10 point, about two-thirds of the gain of the past two sessions.

Trading continued of a wholly professional character, retaining its aspect of being merely a pastime for floor traders unoccupied by commission business. Total sales of only 1,712,810 shares were about 100,000 shares under yesterday's turnover.

The day's selling had the earmarks of a bear drive, and was accompanied by some unsettling and generally discredited rumors such as almost always bob up in brokerage circles when the market starts to slip. The decline reached rather sharp proportions for a time in the afternoon, several leading shares dropping 2 to 3 points, but short covering in the last ten minutes reduced the losses substantially.

PROFITS LOWER

The day's actual news developments were as meager as might be expected during the vacation period of late August. Report of electrical output for the second week of the month, showing a slight decline from the previous week, was a little disappointing to observers looking for seasonal improvement.

Conspicuous among the day's earnings statements was that of Vanadium Corporation. Net of $3.30 a share was reported for the first half, but it was explained that a substantial portion was from security transactions, so operating profit was actually well below the $3.13 reported for the like period of last year.

United States Steel sold off 2 points, but closed down only ½; American Telephone lost 3 points, then regained 2. The motion-picture stocks were well supported, on reports of improvement in theater attendance, Radio-Keith reflected large-scale bullish activity and closed a point higher. Loew's gained 2 points. Radio Corporation, United Aircraft, General Motors, Case and Columbian Carbon closed steady to firm. Worthington Pump gained about 4, and International Harvester and Purity Bakeries were up 1 at the close.

SANTA FE DOWN

The safety razor stocks were weak. Gillette dropped 1⅝ and closed near the bottom. Autostrop sold off 7, and rallied only moderately. In the rails, Atchison lost 6, and Southern Railway sold off about 5, touching 75 for the first time in six years. Rails displayed group weakness.

Warner Brothers sagged more than a point to the year's low, then regained its loss. Shares closing off about 2 included Air Reduction, American Power and Light, Consolidated Gas, Pacific Lighting, Safeway Stores, Auburn and Byers. Allied Chemical lost 4 and Eastman, 3.

Call loans renewed at 2 per cent, and outside funds were offered at 1½. The weekly brokerage loan statement, issued after the close, showed a reduction of $27,000,000, carrying the total to another new low for the past three years.

Investors Turn to Public Utility Bonds

The generally unsettled economic conditions during the past ten months have resulted in a marked swing on the part of conservative investors to high-grade public utility bonds. Such issues enjoy a long record of stability which has won for them a premier place among the holdings of banks, institutions and conservative individuals.

To meet this demand, we offer the following selected issues which combine a broad geographical diversification with an unusually liberal rate of return.

Motorist Held on Drunk and Hit-Run Counts

HUNTINGTON PARK, Aug. 21. Wallace R. Coates of this city, charged with driving on a public highway while under the influence of liquor and failing to stop and render assistance, was before Judge Edward H. Miller yesterday for arraignment. He was placed under bail of $500 on the former charge and $1000 on the latter and will be given a preliminary hearing here on September 8, next.

It is reported by Deputy Sheriffs K. Johnson and D. L. Stockton that Coates crashed into a car at the corner of Nadeau street and Alameda Boulevard in Compton Tuesday afternoon and that Mr. and Mrs. David Hoffman and J. W. Schaum, all of Los Angeles, were injured. Both fenders of Coates's car were said to have been smashed when he was placed under arrest.

The complaints were filed against him by Schaum.

Kosmos, Here for Oil, Sails for Ross Sea Tonight

Craft, from Norway, Largest of Factory Tankships

Dozen Vessels Undergoing Repair at Local Yards

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

The steamer Kosmos, world's largest factory tankship, came in from Norway yesterday and after loading 120,000 barrels of fuel oil at the Shell dock will sail tonight for eight months' whaling on Ross Sea, deep in the Antarctic.

Five hundred and fifty feet long, and with a beam of 77.5 feet, the ship literally swallows whole whales at a gulp, through a slipway in her stern. As many as twenty-five blue whales ninety feet long may be hauled aboard, cut and reduced into oil in a day, according to Capt. H. Andreson, commander. Last season, her first, she took back to civilization 119,000 barrels of whale oil, the largest cargo on record, and incidentally worth about $2,500,000.

Departing here the ship will resemble a small village, with 317 souls aboard, some to man killers now in the Antipodes. The vessel is fitted out with a four-room hospital, carries two physicians, has a band and an orchestra aboard, and two indoor baseball teams, with a broad play deck illuminated by searchlights for sport at night.

Fifty gramophones and sixty loudspeakers also help rout loneliness through the cold months under the Southern Cross.

The Kosmos is owned by Andres Jahre of the Kosmos Whaling Company of Stenjefjord, which has under construction a second vessel of the type. Gunnar Sconhort is local agent.

The Kosmos will be followed here by the new factory ship Sir James Clark Ross, just completed in Norwegian yards, and due here September 12, also en route to the Ross Sea.

RUSH OF ACTIVITY AT SHIPBUILDING PLANT

Yards of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corporation are taking on increased activity, with upward of a dozen large and small ships scheduled for service in the next fortnight. Among them is the Imperial Oil Company tank steamer C. O. Stillman, one of the largest petroleum carriers in the world, which arrived yesterday and will go on dry dock tomorrow for a week's cleaning, painting and voyage repairs. William Arnberg, marine superintendent at Ioco, B. C., is here to attend the job. Now on dry dock is the Texas Oil Company tanker California, while the British motorship Silvereim of the Kerr Line will follow the C. O. Stillman on dry dock next week.

Another Los Angeles product making its debut in sea lanes is wood yarn, seventy-five tons of which will be dispatched on the Christenson-Hammond steamer Watsonville the 25th inst., to Janssen Knitting Mills at Portland, Or. It is manufactured at the Worth Brothers' factory in Los Angeles. The Christenson-Hammond Line started its northbound general cargo service a year ago today. The first ship carried only sixty tons. Now the fleet carries fifty times that much monthly out of Los Angeles alone, according to George T. Darragh, contracting freight agent.

Recommendations for a $750,000 mooring project accommodating 480 fish boats at Fish Harbor, yesterday were adopted, contingent on available finances, by a committee headed by Burt Edwards, port manager, and including executives of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce. The report will be submitted to the harbor commissioners next Wednesday.

Two hundred and thirty passengers will sail for Hawaii tomorrow noon on the Lasco cabin liner Calawaii, Capt. A. A. Sawyer, commanding. Many are island teachers returning from a vacation on the mainland. Others include Prof. Oscar Allen, University of Wisconsin; William Kretzchmar, Los Angeles landscape engineer; Franklin Padan, chief deputy public defender, Los Angeles county; W. L. Latchford, local glass manufacturer, and Prof. Emilio Aninio, Wailua, T. H.

Three Douglas seaplanes manufactured at Santa Monica went out on the Grace steamer Cacique yesterday, consigned to the Minister of Marine of Peru.

The Navy radio compass station at the Farralon Islands, off San Francisco, will be out of commission until September 20, next, according to a warning issued to mariners yesterday by the local hydrographic office.

Mushy Callahan and Benny Miller, pugilists, are among the 500 passengers who sailed for San Francisco yesterday on the Lasco coastwise liner Harvard. As many more arrived from the Bay City yesterday morning on the sister liner Yale, including Paul Dick, vice-president of the United States National Bank, Portland, Or., accompanied by Mrs. Dick.

not to be disturbed," said Miss Burbeck.

"Well, I guess that's about all. Come on, let's go," said the spokesman, and the committee walked to an automobile and drove away. Efforts to secure names at that time were met with a curt refusal.

EVANGELIST SEEN

The new outbreak of hostilities between the two women followed closely Mrs. McPherson's first public "showing" and short interview since she was discovered by The Times Monday night in seclusion in the seaside cottage recuperating.

"No one ever needed her mother worse than I," the evangelist murmured for the benefit of interviewers permitted to stand at her bedside. Hardly an hour later the elders had met with their resolution.

Daylight yesterday found many reporters clamoring at the cabin door for an interview with Mrs. McPherson, pictures of her in bed, and any new statements on her condition that might be forthcoming. She had been reported critically ill by spokesmen in her flock although her physician said but little ailed her, but the reporters wanted to know and see for themselves.

TRUCKS RUMBLE

After a bit, arrangements had been made to admit the persistent but they gravely were warned to conduct themselves in the best sick-room manner. The photographers had to make some noise, however, and their apparatus rattled in the chamber of illness while the evangelist was recorded prostrate and silent.

The room where the woman lies reported suffering from the fearsome ague of acute nervous tension is barely fifty feet from the roaring Roosevelt Highway, over which large commercial trucks rumble and grind by the minute and passenger cars speed by continuously with screaming horns and screeching brakes. Peace is broken with much clatter and bang.

With the photographers out of the way with their noisy gear, the gathering of those chosen for the first interview was toned down to something like respectable silence and the sick-room door was slowly opened.

PROSTRATE AND SILENT

There lay the evangelist—prostrate and silent—in a cabin room that juts out over the Malibu strand. Outside the sunlight sparkled and played on the golden sands, but inside the room all was gloom. The blinds were tightly drawn and all inside — even the healthiest — appeared bluishly pale.

The evangelist lay on one of the twin beds in the small, but comfortable room. The covers were drawn carefully and tightly under her chin. The bluish tint played ghostly over her face. It is thin; she has lost weight. Her eyes were closed, lips parted, and she breathed heavily while a nurse held her hand.

ANSWERS IN GLOOM

If there are any traces of the asserted plastic-surgery operation they were not directly visible. Her reddish-blond hair came well down over her cheek, however, an ice-bag of calico design rested on her forehead, and her left ear and cheek were hidden by covers and pillow.

In the half-light of the room there was an awkward moment of silence and a shuffling of feet of the visitors, but the prostrate woman lay as dead.

"Mrs. McPherson," some one said out of the blue gloom, "are you able to make any statement on affairs between you and your mother and do you plan any direct action against her for what she's said about you?"

Another silence in the gloom, broken only by the rumble of traffic on the near-by highway—but presently the woman's eyelids fluttered, the leaden-colored lips moved and she murmured:

"No one ever needed their mother worse than I." Then she was again silent, apparently through speaking.

"CUB" SPOILS ALL

"Well, what didja smash her nose for?" A cubbish youngster blurted out.

It was not necessary to announce the end of the interview. Mrs. McPherson began twitching and squirming, breathing heavily and the lips moved in incoherent mumble. And the nurse hustled the visitors onto the highway.

Later on Mrs. McPherson made known that she does not intend any legal moves against her mother for anything the elder woman has said, nor does she intend to issue any detailed statement replying to Mrs. Kennedy's assertions. Her principal hope and effort now is to regain her health sufficiently to carry on at the temple.

Mrs. McPherson gives no response to questions relating to the asserted facial operation on herself or her mother. She likewise is silent on inquiries pertaining to the scuffle—as charged by Mrs. Kennedy—in which the elder woman suffered a broken nose.

On the heels of a day and evening of interviews of sparse quotations, a sound newsreel company appeared in front of the beach cottage with intentions of making a movietone recording of the woman. They were told Mrs. McPherson was too agitated to act for them and to come back some other time.

SERENADE ENJOYED

Her physician appeared in the evening with a statement in which he said Mrs. McPherson is suffering no organic blindness nor is there any organic affliction of the optic nerve. He ascribed her condition to loss of strength and nervous strain from overwork which, he said, would cause a haziness but not a functional loss of vision.

As to visitors—after the incident of the "interview"—there were few yesterday. Several brought flowers but did not see Mrs. McPherson.

Last night the Angelus Temple choir stood in the sand under her bedroom window and sang a collection of church songs. She was reported to have enjoyed the music. It was announced unofficially that tonight the Silver Cornet Jubilee Band will play.

FLOOD-CONTROL TAX LEVY FIXED

mately $1,864,042 had been lopped off the figures of the preliminary budget adopted by the board several weeks ago. Much more will come off before the budget conferences are over, Sidney T. Graves, chairman of the board, said yesterday.

CUTS TO DATE

The cuts to date are as follows: County Farm, $620,614; Olive View Sanatorium, $167,198; health department, $159,230; new nurses' home at General Hospital, $350,000; voting machines, $250,000; leasing of a county airport, $210,000; new service building at Juvenile Hall, $107,000.

Every county department is being asked to cut its budget 10 per cent or more. It is the determination of the Supervisors to keep the county's tax rate for general purposes down to 88 cents, the same as last year, if possible.

The preliminary budget, however, shows expenditures proposed amounting to $62,739,789 for the fiscal year of 1930-31. The final budget as adopted for 1929-30 amounted to $56,348,686.

AD FUND TO SUFFER

One of the items listed in the present preliminary budget is the request for $1,260,400 for exploitation purposes in advertising Los Angeles county. It will probably receive a slash, however, before the budget conferences are ended.

The spot to suffer the most in the conferences yesterday was the County Farm, where more than $500,000 was lopped off the proposed appropriation for new infirmary buildings.

"Every effort is being made to cut down the items just as much as we possibly can without impairing the efficiency of the county government or slowing up improvements to the detriment of our needs and progress," said Chairman Graves last night. "However, reductions will have to be made if we are to keep down the tax rate until financial conditions show brighter for the taxpayers of Los Angeles county."

The tax rate for flood-control purposes, it was explained, is not included in the county's rate for general purposes.

CINEMA TRUST CASE SETTLED

diate relief to numerous independent exhibitors in Southern California. If the terms of this decree are violated by any of the defendants summary proceedings for contempt of court will insure immediate relief to the independent exhibitors."

LAW'S END GAINED

After the adjournment of court the two special prosecutors further explained the government's attitude by pointing out that if the criminal cases had gone on and convictions had been secured and fines assessed the government would still have been under the necessity of starting an injunctive action to achieve the same result as is embodied in the consent decree.

When the government's statement had been read and the defense attorneys had signified their assent to the consent decree, Judge Cosgrave ordered the decree entered. Then, as a formality, the jury which had been impaneled in the morning to hear the criminal case was sworn in, the government attorneys moved the dismissal of the indictment and information, the defense attorneys gave their formal assent to this move, and Judge Cosgrave ordered the indictment and the information dismissed.

FORBIDDEN PRACTICES

The consent decree enjoins the defendants from "collusively, concertedly or by concert or agreement" excluding or attempting to exclude unaffiliated exhibitors from contracting to exhibit first or second or first suburban-run pictures in Southern California; from excluding or attempting to exclude them from contracting to exhibit films to be shown in competition with exhibitions of the same films by theaters of the Fox West Coast chain; from enforcing or attempting to enforce clearance schedules providing for unreasonable or discriminatory clearances for every theater of the West Coast chain; and from excluding or attempting to exclude from inter-State trade and commerce in motion pictures all unaffiliated exhibitors who either show two feature pictures on one program or donate gifts or premium to their patrons.

The decree further enjoins the defendants from taking concerted and agreed action to "prepare, publish, adopt or attempt to enforce any uniform plan, system or schedule of zoning or clearance with the intent or for the purpose of unreasonably" excluding unaffiliated exhibitors from contracting to exhibit first or second-run or first suburban-run pictures in Southern California, or giving certain theaters operated by the West Coast chain an arbitrary or unreasonable protection over competing theaters operated by unaffiliated exhibitors.

In addition to Fox-West Coast Theaters, the defendants in the criminal action and the objects of the injunction are the Fox Film Corporation, Paramount - Famous-Lasky Corporation, Metro - Goldwyn-Mayer Distributing Corporation, First National Pictures, Inc., Universal Film Exchanges, Inc., Vitagraph, Inc., Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., Pathe Exchange, Inc., United Artists Corporation and Vitagraph Company of California.

MATE RELATES MADMAN ACTS

She Declares He Tried to Beat Her to Death

Child Thrown Clear Across Room in Frenzy

Pleaded for Gun to Commit Murder, Spouse Says

In a voice at times reaching an anguished wail and again sinking to an almost inaudible lament, Mrs. Miriam Keaton yesterday branded her husband as insane to a jury of six men and six women in Superior Judge Schauer's court.

And while the sobbing woman told her story of misery, Frank D. Keaton, whom she married in 1921, slayer of Motley H. Flint, now on trial as to his sanity, propped his head in his hands and went to sleep.

"He tried to beat my brains out with a chair," whispered the grief-stricken wife fighting to keep her husband from the hangman's rope by proving him to be insane.

THREW CHILD

"He seized our little child and threw her at me clear across the room and if I hadn't caught her she would have been killed." Terror swept across Mrs. Keaton's face as she recalled the scenes in the bedroom of her little home when her youngest child was in danger.

"He said he was sinking in black, black mud and he wanted me to get a gun so that he could kill some one," burst in a high shrill wail from the lips of Mrs. Keaton under the gentle prodding of Defense Counsel Paul D'Orr.

"With twisting fingers and a horrid look in his face he attempted to choke our oldest little girl and when I rushed between them he grabbed me by the throat and chased me into the darkness and fog of the night."

And with his wife's last charge Keaton's chin slipped out of his hands and his head sunk on his breast. He muttered a little in his sleep and the sounds cut through the woman's voice and Defense Counsel Tom Reynolds shook him by the shoulder.

With a jury in the box after three days of questioning, Mrs. Keaton took the witness stand as her husband's first and principal witness in an effort to prove that he was insane at the time he walked into Superior Judge Collier's courtroom close to noon on July 14 and shot Flint, retired banker, to death as he completed his testimony in a civil action.

EARLY MARRIED LIFE

From the peaceful life of a social worker and missionary, Mrs. Keaton told the jury of her marriage to Keaton in 1921 and of her life with him up to the fatal day of the shooting.

"He was a good husband and sweet and kind during the first two years of our married life," testified Mrs. Keaton.

"It was in 1924 that I first noticed anything wrong with him. Then he began to have spells when he was moody and once or twice had some kind of a fit. He told me just to leave him alone," she continued, "and then he explained to me that he had been shocked by contact with an electrical wire, once had a block and tackle fall on his head, and had been struck by lightning at one time.

GROWS WORSE

"He seemed to be very nervous and as time went on he got worse and worse," Mrs. Keaton testified. Then she went on to tell that he did not seem to remember his outbreaks and when she would remind him of them he would ask her to forgive, claiming not to remember what had taken place.

"It was along in 1926 and 1927 that he really got bad," Mrs. Keaton declared. "When I would tell him of his various actions he would tell me that I was crazy. Once he attempted to run his automobile up a tree and I was injured and so was the little baby. Another time he banged my head against the wall and I was hurt and called the doctor.

"With the crash of the Julian Petroleum Corporation and the general stock market collapse some months later my husband seemed to have lost his reason all together," declared Mrs. Keaton.

"He raved and swore at me," sobbed the woman. "Some one got a judgment against him because of an automobile accident and when he heard of it he wrung his hands and moaned. He told me that he was ruined, that 'they' had taken all his money and that he wanted to find his first wife's grave so that he could cry. Then he wanted a gun so that he could shoot some one and then he didn't speak for a week."

And through the entire afternoon session of the court Mrs. Keaton went on and on with her story of horror and terror and all afternoon the man she was talking about slept.

Today, according to Attorneys D'Orr and Reynolds the woman will complete her story and then Dep. Dist.-Atty. Burgess and Russell prosecuting the case will cross-examine her.

STATEMENTS DIFFER

Statements taken from Mrs. Keaton by the police and the two prosecuting attorneys, which, according to them, differ from her present story will feature the cross-examination, it was learned last night.

Just before Mrs. Keaton took the witness stand as the first defense witness, the jury of six women and six men that it took three days and a half to accept was sworn in by the court clerk. The members of the jury are:

Mrs. Olive E. Drew, Mrs. Anna Hall, Jacob R. Helmke, Lloyd E. Wyatt, Mrs. Minnie Farrington, Pierce B. Kinsman, William H. Mitchell, Mrs. Florence S. Murray, M. Alfred Flichinger, Mrs. Josephine Yinger, Charles Shellman and Thela M. Barnard. Two alternates also were chosen.

All of the defense testimony will be presented to the jury before the prosecution evidence because the burden of proof in insanity pleas rests upon the defendant and with the exception of a few witnesses on each side most of the testimony will be given by alienists who have examined Keaton since the murder.

According to the present plan three alienists appointed by the court, two by the prosecution and two by the defense will tell the jury their opinions of Keaton's condition.

DISMISSAL APPROVED

Removal by Chief Scott of Fireman William E. Kearns on the ground that he failed to report for duty and that he had occasioned trouble because of tardiness and insubordination, was approved by the Fire Commission yesterday.

Today's Bible Text

For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows.—1 Tim. vi, 10.

THE TEST

We often hear boosters declare, "I'd rather be a laborer in California than a rich man anywhere else," but it took Theodore Gedda, who refused a titled estate in Sweden, to prove it.

FLYING HIGH

Our Department of Commerce lists 1325 commercial airplanes as now in regular service in this country. This is not a vast number. Yet it proves that the industry is rapidly expanding and that lots of our business is up in the air.

LARGE FAMILY

More big families in the running. A Missouri matron has just given birth to her eighteenth child. All have the same daddy and they are all well and hearty and at the home nest. There must be quite a rush in that household when the dinner bell rings.

AUSTRALIA'S DILEMMA

Australia appears to be embarrassed in several ways. There are not only deficits and abnormal budgets, but there are now nearly 200,000 idle workers. The external credits of the country have shrunk from $900 to $200 per capita and the government is obligated to pay more than $60,000,000 a year in old-age pensions. The Laborites who are in the saddle are having a hard time making ends meet.

GOOD MONEY

The Treasury Department has been making a survey of the nation's new paper money. It is mentioned that the currency has been found acceptable. Citizens are taking it in as fast as they can get it and practically no one is turning it down. When the money was first put out there was some kicking by financiers. They seemed to like the size of the old stuff better. But it is all right now and very little counterfeiting is being done. The money is here to stay—if you can hold it.

GETTING TOGETHER

An organized movement is under way for the adoption by all the States of uniform laws on marriage, divorce and the use and sale of firearms. On these three propositions there is a unanimity of opinion which should make co-operation easy. The only thing is to get the approved regulation before all the legislatures. That takes a lot of time. Efforts have already been made to get the States together on divorce legislation, but there have been many delays and difficulties. Also there are some States which have sought rather to make divorce attractive than repugnant. It will take some time to improve this situation. But there is a general feeling that both the seller and buyer of a pistol should be properly identified and that this lethal tool should not be in the hands of anybody without warrant and justification. If all the States could agree upon this proposition it would ease the murder column.

GETTING THE FACTS

There has been comment over President Hoover's extensive use of what are known as fact-finding commissions. Most of these operate at little expense. The appointees are honored by their selection and they enter upon their duties with all the energy that was manifested by the dollar-a-year men at the time of the World War.

It must also be remembered that this is about the only way in which the executive can gather expert opinion. Members of the commissions are usually authorities upon the matter they are to investigate. They know what is before them and can rise to it very readily. They understand that the President has confidence in their outlook and their judgment and they are not going to disappoint him.

Incidentally it may be mentioned that other executives have made still larger use of those informal bodies. In his day Roosevelt named no less than 107 of these observing commissions. Wilson appointed 150 and at that he did not often make serious use of the material gathered for him.

But there is a distinct mission for the fact-finding commissions and they can do much to ease and simplify the problems of government.

AS TO GOV. YOUNG

Gov. Young and his backers seem singularly resentful of unfavorable discussion of the administration's record. What they seem to have overlooked in their indignation over the unfavorable comment against the executive is the fact that it is Young's public, not his private, record which is under consideration.

Despite the heavy barrage of plausible propaganda issued in his behalf, not the least persuasive of which have been his own self-plaudits, Gov. Young has not been a success as the head of California's State government.

Placed in office by the political machine which has controlled State politics, with few exceptions, for two decades, the Governor from the first has not possessed an independent grasp of his responsibilities. The support he has received other than from machine sources has been that due to his high office, rather than to any demonstrated qualities of leadership.

The Young regime has been marked by a consistent policy of political machine building since its inception. By political appointments, rewards and punishments. If it has not been extremely bad, it has at no time risen above the mediocre.

The machine of which—from the machine's standpoint—Gov. Young is a worthy and useful product derives its power and, in fact, its very existence, from the unjust and illegal preponderance of northern influence in the State government. If Southern California elects a Governor this year—she has had just one in a generation—or if she is able to get representation in the Legislature proportionate to her population and taxes, the end of machine rule for sad by the north will be in sight.

California, as a member of the Union, needs a strong, responsible, ably led Republican party; for Republican principles, policies and purposes in State as well as national affairs assure California of the protective tariff which, for the prosperity and progress of its citizens, California must have. Gov. Young not only has repudiated the Republican party as a factor in State matters, but has done as much as any other politician, north or south, to break down party lines and to destroy party strength.

By reason of his temperamental tendency to hedge, qualify, hesitate and equivocate, Gov. Young has been unable to carry to fruition many pending State problems, chief among them a settled policy on water conservation, highway construction and various needed additions to State institutions.

Hundreds of millions of dollars expended for State purposes during the Young regime have been collected by indirect taxes from the people and the results therefrom are so generally confused as to constitute the principal point of controversy in the current gubernatorial contest.

The Governor, who promised his way into office four years ago, still is promising, still is explaining. Four more years of such tactics will not prove beneficial. California needs a new Governor and this need can be filled by the defeat of Mr. Young in next Tuesday's primary. His retirement is no reflection on his personal good qualities, but should be accomplished wholly on the basis of public policy. On that score the Governor and his coterie of office-holding supporters should not complain.

WHY CRAIL IS OPPOSED

Representative Crail, whose candidacy for re-election to Congress from the Tenth District is being opposed by George H. Barnes, Los Angeles business man and noted conservationist, has embarked upon a campaign of deliberate misrepresentation in his appeals for public confidence and support.

Evading the real issues of the campaign, which are solely concerned with a question of the relative abilities and qualifications of the incumbent candidate and his opponent, Mr. Crail is seeking popular sympathy by accusing The Times and its publisher of attacking the Congressman because of his asserted support of the Boulder Dam project. Those who have followed closely Mr. Crail's other efforts to deceive his constituents well recognize these tactics as characteristic.

The Times indorsed the candidacy of Mr. Crail four years ago after he had unconditionally indorsed the Boulder Dam program and supported his campaign, despite an admission by him that he knew little or nothing about the project or its possibilities. The first indorsement was given in the hope that Mr. Crail might develop into a useful public servant less concerned with political expediency after assuming the responsibilities of office than before.

After his election, Mr. Crail spent two more or less do-nothing years in Washington and returned to his constituency, seeking re-election. Again The Times, with increased misgiving, but with a feeling that perhaps a new Congressman might need an initial training experience of one term before assuming his place as a useful worker in the national legislative body, hopefully supported him for re-election. The hope was vain. The second two years spent by Mr. Crail in Washington, like the first, were virtually barren of results.

Recognizing the futility of expecting substantial service from a man whose official record shows him to be a consistent poser and a mere player to the political gallery, The Times in justice to its sense of public obligation suggests that the Tenth District cannot longer afford the luxury of Mr. Crail's complacent, but ineffective occupancy of a position that requires the attention of an abler, more active and better-informed representative.

The Times has supported Mr. Crail in the past with no personal or political prejudice or bias and now, with a feeling of having accorded him more than ordinary consideration, recommends, without prejudice or personal feeling, his retirement to private endeavor. The Boulder Dam bill was passed without material assistance from Mr. Crail, whose faked speeches on the subject in the Congressional Record even the incumbent candidate cannot seriously present as any contribution to the undertaking.

The fairy story which Mr. Crail retails in his campaign speeches to the effect that The Times threatened him with defeat four years ago if he supported the Boulder Dam program is as silly as the plan which, as a Congressman at Washington, he seriously advanced of depriving Arizona of her Statehood to punish her for opposing the same project.

The Times was the first newspaper in America to urge control and conservation of the waters of the Colorado by a dam at Boulder Canyon, a project advanced by The Times after long, costly and independent investigations of its own. Its support of that plan has never faltered. The Times did oppose the original Swing-Johnson bill because of its numerous economic fallacies—a position in which the government engineers themselves concurred. The Times supported the rewritten Swing-Johnson bill and contributed substantially to the effort which finally accomplished its passage, though The Times still believes the All-American Canal part of the project far too great a burden for the already overtaxed lands of Imperial Valley to bear.

The simple, unadorned reason for opposing Mr. Crail is found in the obvious fact that he is a distinct failure as a Representative of the Tenth Congressional District and that he should be removed to make way for a successor who can, and will, industriously and effectively attend to the multitudinous demands of the office.

THE WINGLESS PLANE

A wingless aircraft has been successfully flown over Long Island. It is described in a New York dispatch as similar in appearance to a seaplane, save that it is without wings. Its principle of upward propulsion is based on that employed by the Flettner rotorship, while traction is supplied in the regular way.

The dispatch does not tell the height or rate of speed attained by the new aircraft. But if it is proportionately as slow in the air as the rotorship is in the water it hardly will compete with the swift-winged planes of today. The rotorship is propelled by two cylinders sixty feet high turning on ball bearings. Its maximum speed is ten miles an hour.

However, the speed of the rotor plane may be developed to a satisfactory degree, though if it travels no faster than the much-touted gyroplane it will not be in very high favor with aviators, though its safety features appeal to the less intrepid ones.

Meanwhile what has become of the helicopter? In June in this strange-looking aircraft the Curtiss-Bleecker aviators made what were called successful flights over Long Island, but since then nothing of a satisfactory nature has been reported concerning it. Cierva, who claims to be the inventor of the helicopter, flew his windmill apparatus over Central England a fortnight ago, but it caused no sensation and the standard types of planes still seem to be having it all their own way.

TO MAKE THE FARM PAY

Marion Talley has the real "artistic temperament." After a stormy time in New York operatic circles she "retired" to the life of a farmer. Then came the drought. Now she announces her return to the stage.

LEE SIDE O' L.A.

By Lee Shippey

THIS amazing new industry, miniature golf, is growing so rapidly that nobody can keep track of it. It has been a lifesaver for business in a dull spell, giving the labor and material markets help which was entirely unexpected. It has converted thousands of Southland vacant lots and weed patches into bright spots, each of which daily gives employment to from three to thirty people. One of the owners of one of the courses now building tells us the cost of construction, including a clubhouse, will run to $150,000, and it is probable that the average cost of the courses now going in will run above $20,000, the range being from $5000 to $150,000. The recent estimate that the courses all over the United States represent a total investment of $125,000,000 seems very conservative if the rest of the country is going in for miniature golf as Southern California is. Will Rogers recently said that there were 3500 courses in Los Angeles alone—but we doubt that Will got out and counted them.

Not so Bad as Some Estimate

Fewer than 300 courses now are in operation in Los Angeles, including San Pedro, Venice, Wilmington, Van Nuys, West Los Angeles, North Hollywood, Eagle Rock and Watts. The day this is written the electric light and gas companies are servicing 277. At the license bureau in the City Hall we were told a few days ago that only 223 had been licensed, though others had been licensed by deputies who have branch offices of the license bureau in the suburbs named. Most of those branch offices, however, are open only part of the time and fewer than fifty courses have been licensed by all of them together. The great majority are issued at the City Hall, where three or four a day are licensed. When all the courses now building are in operation there will be fewer than 500 within the city limits.

The Miniature Golf Widow

Nothing could rise so suddenly from nothingness to magnitude without having romance all its own or without twisting many people's lives into its skein. Miniature golf has saved many a man from drowning when the bottom fell out of something else. A course may represent the hopes of widows and orphans or the desperate gamble of a property owner who couldn't afford either to put up an apartment-house or keep on paying special assessments on vacant ground.

Mrs. Olive White, who owns the Terrace Garden course at 1716 North Western, is a widow who counts on her course for both occupation and livelihood. Jack Platt, manager of a course at Pico and Vermont, is a Montreal athlete and sportsman who made money when he first came here, plunged and lost it all, and miniature golf was his safety island. The old Brokaw estate on Hollywood Boulevard was intended to be the site of a fine hotel—when Wall street went broncho. It is Shady Greens golf course now and doing nicely.

Anything to Be Different

As the newer courses multiplied the striving for individuality grew pronounced. In fact, there are so many of them now that unless one is somehow distinguished from the others it hardly attracts the passing customer. Landscape and scenic artists have capitalized that fact and besiege the owners of courses with proposals to wall them in with scenic backgrounds. One course just opened on Hollywood Boulevard, the Eskimo Village, is laid out amid icebergs and polar scenes, with an icebound ship in the background, and bearskins over the benches on which one sits to rest. A beautiful course going in on Beverly Boulevard is a Japanese garden and another is colonial Spanish in architecture. One on Temple street features a ship and the big one now building at Fourth and Vermont—the most ornate we have seen—has a castle in the center. "We started out to spend $50,000 here," Gus Lewis, one of the owners, told us, "but when we saw how things were going we decided to spend $100,000, and now it looks as if our total cost will run to $150,000."

The first courses opened cost only about $2500. Now the minimum construction cost is around $5000, with the sky as the limit.

Golf Courses Back to Back

There are several places in the city where you see three of these courses in a single block or even on adjoining lots. Yet many of them cover enough ground to give their patrons a good, long walk in the open air.

And that may be the explanation of the mystery. Rob Wagner says it's because the American people are rebelling against being overly-entertained. They have got so in the habit of sitting still and letting professionals entertain them that they were missing all the fun of entertaining themselves, and miniature golf gives them the "out" they were unconsciously yearning for. That may be a good theory. But one of the golf course managers has one which may be better:

"This is the one place," he says, "where mother and father and the kids can get together and enjoy wholesome pastime. The little kids, the big kids and the grown-ups all enjoy it, and there's no chance for anything smutty or suggestive, as there is at a good many picture shows. Of course, we're getting too many courses. Some of them are bound to fail. Some already are failing. But the good ones will survive, for this thing is here to stay."

That's optimism for you. But just look at the courses some of those folks are building and you'll see that the miniature golf business is full of optimists.

POETRY FOR THE PEOPLE
By James J. Montague

Laugh your troubles away,
Though your lot may be hard,
And the cares of the day
Prove unpleasant.
If your luck should be rough
Keep on smiling, old pard,
And you'll dine upon truffles and pheasant.
Though life may be bitter,
Remark with a grin,
That you won't be a quitter
And then you will win.

Though the market may smash,
When you're up to your neck
And you lost all your cash,
Without warning,
Sing a song in your heart,
Rise up out of the wreck,
And you'll get a fresh start
The next morning.
Though doom may be certain,
Though nothing goes right,
Just pull up the curtain
And in comes the light!

Do not grumble or sob,
Though your coat is worn out
And you haven't a job,
Or a collar.
Let a jovial smile
Put your troubles to rout,
You can't start a new pile
With a dollar.
This advice I can spout,
With amazing facility,
Though to carry it out
Is an impossibility!

CHINA IN THE DEPTHS

II.—THE REMEDY

BY FRED HOGUE

China is in the depths. Left to their own resources without interference, except from Russia, during the nine years that have elapsed since the Washington conference, the Chinese have proved unequal to the task assigned to them. China is bleeding from two gaping wounds, militarism and banditry.

China has refused to follow the example of her progressive neighbor, Japan, refused to take advantage of the opportunities offered by free association with the occidental powers.

One has but to compare the record of China during the last seventy years with that of Japan, to realize the economic benefit to China and to the world if a similar awakening could take place in China. The imagination can hardly visualize the commercial activities that would develop across the Pacific.

The awakening of China must not be a military awakening. The present world civilization is fortifying its position by turning from war to industry; by producing agricultural and industrial machinery instead of implements of war; by training its young manhood in industrial and intellectual activity in place of in military activity.

China possesses an area greater than the whole of Europe, possesses about one-fourth the population of the world. But the standard of living is lower in China than in any other country that aspires to be recognized as a world power. Three-fourths of its territory is lacking in the very rudiments of civilization. About half the railroads it possessed under the Manchu emperors are no longer operating. No new roads are being builded. The existing roads are not kept in repair.

There is so little security in China that the Chinese banking houses and industrial establishments are located in foreign concessions. The Chinese do not dare to trust their personal fortunes to Chinese administration.

Like the Bolsheviks ten years ago, they are engaged now in an orgy of pillage and terror. But what they are destroying will not be so quickly restored. If they are to take their place as a responsible people, if they continue to aspire to the status of a world power they must learn to keep step with the progress of modern civilization.

They must be disciplined. If they are not capable of self-discipline, they must submit to foreign tutelage.

I am fully aware that this form of admonition will awaken a vociferous protest from the Chinese politicians; and from many well-meaning but impractical people in the United States and elsewhere.

There are those who will insist that the Chinese have a right to live their lives in their own way, that they must not be deprived of the privileges of self-determination. But that is a theory which can no longer be applied to modern states and peoples. We have reached a point in human progress where the whole earth must be organized as one great community. In its present condition, China is a menace to civilization.

The right of occupation of land even is a limited right. You may own a lot in a city, surrounded by homes with well-kept lawns. You may try to assert your right to do what you please with that lot; but you will find that right withdrawn as soon as the lot becomes a menace to your neighbors. You may not erect an edifice on that lot which is a fire trap. In your residence you must install modern plumbing, to protect the health of the neighborhood. You may not permit the lot to remain uncared for, to grow up in weeds; for the weeds become a fire menace and the seeds will be carried by the winds on adjoining property. You cannot permit the residence to be occupied by those who break the law.

Just as your relation as a lot holder to your community is the relation of China to the comity of nations. In the interior of China is no modern sanitation. China is a vast swamp where malignant diseases breed. The yellow fever cannot be exterminated as long as breeding places for yellow fever remain in the interior of China. It is carried by the interior to the frontiers and from the frontiers into other nations. This is equally true of a dozen other malignant diseases. The health of the rest of the world is imperiled by the lack of sanitation and modern medical facilities in China.

Shanghai is the wealthiest and most populous treaty port in China, and Shanghai is the most populous city in China. Its location was only a great fever-infested swamp when it became a treaty port. More Chinese live in that treaty port than in any other single community in China. A similar condition exists at every treaty port. They are all overcrowded with Chinese who desire to live under foreign regulation and control.

While Shantung was under German and Japanese government control it was one of the most progressive spots of China. Since it has been returned to Chinese political control—which means exploitation and spoliation by Chinese war lords and bandits, the native population is fleeing into Manchuria at the rate of 1,000,000 a year.

And why to Manchuria? Because Manchuria is entirely in the sphere of Japanese influence recognized by the Lansing-Ishii agreement; because Japan will not permit civil war in Manchuria. Although nominally a part of China, there is a security for life and property in Manchuria unknown south of the great wall.

The Chinese people as a whole are not responsible for the present chaotic, bloody, plundering life of misery and terror which they are forced to endure, because they can find no avenue of escape. They are held in practical slavery by the war lords, after the oriental fashion of Persia and Assyria in past centuries.

It is not by choice that the Chinese rice grower sees the mud walls of his paddy broken down by armed men marching through his fields. It is not with his consent that his boy is carried away to serve as a slave and as rifle fodder for some military dictator. He does not approve a government that seizes the railways for military use, leaving his crops to rot for lack of a market while not more than fifty miles away other Chinese are starving for the lack of the food going to waste.

But what are the masses to do about it? They are too poor, too weak, too unlearned to defend themselves against such exploitation and spoliation. It is becoming monthly more apparent that no help is coming from within, that the war lords are not interested in the fate of that part of the population unfit for military service.

How are they to be protected? How are their prayers to be answered?

These are questions our western civilization, including the Japanese, must be prepared to answer. Some may desire the solution to be wholly an occidental one, but Japan is in a position that cannot be ignored.

To attempt to ignore Japan in any solution of a problem of the Near West would be as silly as the attempt of the Holy Alliance 100 years ago to settle certain problems affecting the South American states without reference to our own young republic.

Europe is no longer self-sufficient to settle foreign controversies. Neither is our own country.

The purpose of the Washington conference, in so far as it related to the reconstruction and pacification of China, has failed in its purpose. However well intended, the experiment has failed, notwithstanding the perfect loyalty with which the foreign powers have kept the pledges made to each other and to China at that time.

Waiting longer is only standing idly by while all goes from bad to worse. There is no single group in China that can bring order out of the existing chaos. Any victory won will be only a temporary one. It is like four little tails each trying to wag a Great Dane.

The time has arrived when the nations signatory to the Washington treaties should be considering another conference—not for the purpose of further reducing naval armaments, but for the purpose of making use, perhaps, of some of the naval armaments still afloat.

The situation in China is not uncontrollable, although at present out of control. In the name of common humanity, in the name of our common civilization, in the name of morality and religion, in the name of justice through shielding the weak and restraining the strong, in the name of the free peoples of the world, the strong peoples of the world must combine to rescue the weak and the helpless of China from their own native oppressors.

No one person, no one people, can dictate a solution. That must be found at a conference of the powers, to which all the warring factions in China should be invited to send delegates. Justice must be rendered to the submerged millions of China.

We must keep in mind that good old Anglo-Saxon maxim, "What ought to be done can be done."

Certainly the hundreds of millions of exploited, plundered, harried, starving Chinese have a right to look to the peoples who came to them in the name of him who died on Mt. Calvary to come a second time in the name of common humanity and international good will; to free them from their oppressors and aid them to ascend to the triple peaks of political, intellectual and economic liberty.

For a century millions in this country have been praying for the religious regeneration of the Chinese. Thousands have been making monetary contributions to aid in giving the Chinese the benefit of western science and philosophy, to extend and improve educational systems. For forty years the American government has upheld the sovereignty of China; has protected China from the machinations of other governments seeking the partition of China.

But the time has now come when we who have been watching while others prayed must sound the alarm that the hour is approaching when the Chinese must be rescued from the flood into which they have wantonly plunged, or the best of them and the best that is in the rest of them will perish.

COLLEGE LIBRARY FUNDS

The undergraduate is to be better educated if books will do it. College libraries in thirty colleges are to be improved by a fund of $425,000 from the Carnegie Corporation. Public libraries throughout the world owe a debt to Andrew Carnegie, the boy who was so grateful for a lending library that he determined, if he ever had any money, to devote it to free libraries and beginning with the library in his home town, gave $50,000,000 toward public library buildings. The next step taken by the Carnegie Corporation was the provision of funds toward professional training for librarians and research work in the administration of libraries. College libraries are having their turn now in this great philanthropic scheme which began in the heart of a boy who loved a book and was too poor to buy one.

Dancer Jailed on Charge of Drunk Driving

Agnes Morrow

Was Agnes Morrow, 23 years of age, San Francisco dancer, driving an automobile while she was drunk?

"No!" emphatically stated Miss Morrow yesterday in the County Jail as she sought to explain a police report.

The erratic course of an automobile in which she and Hazel Conley, 20, 7232 Sycamore street, are asserted to have been riding down a Hollywood street last Wednesday night was the cause of it all, according to a report of Police Officer Jacobs.

The young women were arrested at Sunset Boulevard and Highland avenue, Miss Conley booked on a charge of being drunk in an automobile and Miss Morrow on a drunk-driving accusation following an examination at the hospital.

Japanese Trade Chiefs to Study Port Facilities

Prospects of greatly increased trade with Japan are seen by Chamber of Commerce officials in the expected arrival today of a delegation representing the Japanese Board of Trade and the Osaka Mainichi, one of Nippon's foremost newspapers.

Two groups of visitors from Japan have been making a trade survey of the United States and they will unite in Los Angeles for a study of shipping possibilities at the local harbor.

The visitors will be received by officials of the port and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce. They will tour the port and industrial districts.

The first group of visitors is expected to arrive at 8:30 a.m. via the Union Pacific. The other group will reach Los Angeles this evening.

Chaffee Inquest Set for Today

For the purpose of clearing up circumstances surrounding the death last Sunday of Frank E. Chaffee, chain-store operator, Chief Deputy Coroner Macdonald yesterday ordered an inquest for today at 1:30 p.m. at the undertaking parlors of Turner & Stevens, Pasadena.

An autopsy showed that Chaffee, whose body was found in his automobile in the garage at his home at 1069 La Cresta Drive, Pasadena, last Tuesday, died as the result of carbon monoxide poisoning. The inquest will seek to determine whether he took his own life or came to his death accidentally.

SHULER GOES FAR TO HIT AT COLLIER

Indorses Once-Suspended Lawyer, Knowing Record, in His War on Judge

Rev. R. P. Shuler's indorsement of the candidacy for the Superior Court of an attorney whose professional conduct is known to Shuler to have been such that at one time he was suspended from practice, as against the other candidate with a long, clean record as attorney and judge, was revealed yesterday by an inspection of Shuler's political "ticket" for Superior Court judges.

JUDGE FRANK COLLIER

Superior Judge Frank C. Collier, the incumbent, and R. C. W. Friday, attorney, are the two candidates in question. They are the sole candidates for Office No. 7.

Friday is a Los Angeles attorney, who was admitted to practice first in Montana in 1917. He came to Los Angeles in 1923, where he has engaged in the practice of law. In 1928 he was charged with violation of his duty and his oath as an attorney, and after a full hearing on the matter he was suspended for six months.

Briefly, the episode as revealed by the records, was as follows: It was charged that in December, 1924, an attorney by the name of Walter G. Lincoln was disbarred for a period of a year; that in the following April Lincoln was engaged as an attorney by one S. S. Schary; that Lincoln prepared legal papers, an answer to a court action against him, but Friday, without the knowledge or consent of Schary, signed the answer for filing in court; also that Friday, as notary public, signed and filed a notary statement to an affidavit from Schary, Friday representing that Schary had appeared before him and made the affidavit when, in fact, Schary had not done so.

The hearing was held before Judge Frederickson, with the bar association as the complainant. The judge found Friday guilty on the first count and not guilty on the second. Friday was suspended from practicing for six months, ending August 31, 1930. Friday, of course, had denied both charges. He did not appeal from the judgment of the court, however.

All of these facts were in Shuler's hands, with photostatic copies of the records, when he published his indorsement of Friday.

Shuler has since charged over his radio that Friday was guilty of only a technical violation of bar association rules, and that it was Judge Collier who suspended him. The record shows that Friday did "wrongfully, corruptly and wilfully and without authority" violate the State Code of Civil Procedure, part of the State law, and was suspended by Judge Frederickson.

Judge Collier has been on the Superior bench since 1924. His early education was received in California and he received his LL.B. degree from the University of Michigan. He was admitted to practice in California in 1901, and has practiced in San Diego, Prescott, Ariz., and Los Angeles, up to the time he went on the bench. He has served on the Superior benches of Ventura, Santa Barbara and Merced counties as visiting judge. He is 51 years of age and married.

Hebrews Plan Journal Here

Plans for a new Jewish publication in Los Angeles intended to promote good will and a better understanding between Christian and Jews were announced yesterday by Walter Secord, publisher of the Jewish Chronicle of this city and the Oakland Menorah.

The new periodical will be known at the Jewish Tribune and will be published monthly, starting October 1, Secord said. The editorial directorate will include a Protestant clergyman, a rabbi and a Catholic priest, according to the publisher's announcement.

'PETTING' HELD OVERDRAWN

Attorney Austin Testifies Relations With Wife's Half-Sister Merely Present-Day Cordiality

Denial that he hugged Marian F. Hoskins or held her on his knee was voiced yesterday by Robert E. Austin, testifying in Superior Judge Lambert's court, where Mrs. Vera E. Austin's suit for separate maintenance and Austin's cross-suit for divorce are on trial. Mrs. Austin testified Wednesday that she saw Austin hugging and lingeringly kissing her half-sister, Miss Hoskins.

"Did you kiss Marian?" Austin was asked.

"I don't remember," he replied. Later he said: "I may have kissed her on some occasions, but we never indulged in kisses as has been told here."

Austin, who is an attorney, told a different story of his afternoon with Miss Hoskins in a car near Mulholland Dam from the version testified by his wife. Mrs. Austin said she saw her half-sister sit on Austin's lap, hugging and kissing. Her husband yesterday admitted he and Miss Hoskins parked in the hills beside the dam.

"I read a book, Marian embroidered," said Austin. "She did not sit on my lap that afternoon or any afternoon. She was embroidering a square of white cloth for a hospital."

"Did you put your arm around her?" was asked.

"Possibly. It didn't mean anything except to be more comfortable in a car while driving," Austin replied.

"Did you kiss her on the way to Del Rey?"

"I don't remember doing so."

He admitted Miss Hoskins had driven him in a car to a downtown hotel on occasions, dropping him at the door, but emphasized that she never went indoors. Austin explained his visits to the home of Morley Sims in South Pasadena by saying he took his laundry there each week for Mrs. Sims to attend. Miss Hoskins lived there. Austin admitted remaining there overnight seven or eight times. He occupied a room by himself, he said.

On the night of February 1, last, he testified, he was awakened by pounding on the door of the Sims home. His wife called from outdoors for him to come out.

"I told her to go to grass," added Austin.

Over objections, Austin late yesterday testified to assertions set up in his cross-complaint of cruelty. In detail he accused Mrs. Vera Austin, his second wife, of forcing him to send out of their home his children by a previous marriage, Norwin, now 25 years of age, and Esther, 23. In 1920, he said, Mrs. Austin had him send the son to a military school and in 1921 urged that the daughter be sent to a boarding school.

Norwin sat yesterday with his father at counsel table, while Esther remained in the spectators' section. Both are married. Miss Hoskins sat within a few feet of the half-sister who accuses her and who sued her for $100,000 asserting alienation of the husband's affections.

Mrs. May L. Green, mother of Mrs. Austin and of Miss Hoskins, yesterday corroborated the wife's story about shadowing Austin at the dam, and at the Sims house. Morley Sims testified for the husband, saying that Austin was sleeping alone when Mrs. Austin called him out. Attorney Maurice Sparling represents the wife and Attorney John N. Helmick is aiding Austin in his case.

Father Denies Intention of "Stealing" Son

Richard W. Schraeder took his son, Richard, Jr., 9 years of age, to San Diego recently to give the boy a vacation and was nearly ready to return to Los Angeles when arrested, he told Municipal Judge Ballard yesterday in denial of the charge of child stealing filed against him by Mrs. Mary P. Pollock, 218 East Ninety-seventh street, the boy's mother. She has custody of the child by a Superior Court order, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman.

Mrs. Pollock declared Schraeder took the boy to go to a theater the evening of June 26, last, and did not return. Judge Ballard continued the preliminary hearing until September 12, next, for decision on a motion to dismiss made by William Christensen, defense attorney.

Publisher Asks for Early Trial

Fred Girnau, political pamphleteer, yesterday pleaded not guilty to a charge of libeling Dist.-Atty. Fitts in Municipal Judge Curtis's court. He waived jury trial and will be tried on September 4, next, Judge Curtis ordered. He is at liberty on $500 bail.

Through his attorneys, Girnau demanded that he be tried before next Tuesday, primary election day. Judge Curtis denied the request, declaring that he is unable to give the case preferential treatment to such an extent, although he set it for an earlier date than he would otherwise have done.

Battery Denied in Campaign Row

When Walter G. Stennett, 213½ North Reno street, former Rolph campaign worker, went to Rolph headquarters in a downtown hotel to collect salary due him and two stenographers whom he had employed, he was accused of misappropriation of funds and thrown out of the office, he complained to Deputy City Prosecutor Chotiner, who issued a battery complaint against three men named by Stennett as his assailants.

The three defendants, Maj. Carl Huntington, Frank Balfour and W. Morgan Evans, appeared yesterday before Municipal Judge Curtis and entered pleas of not guilty to the charge. At the request of their attorney, Leonard Wilson, they were released without bail pending trial which the court set for September 2, next.

Mrs. Byrne leaves her son, John Castle Byrne, and her daughters, Miss Beatrice Byrne and Mrs. Eugene Clark. Funeral services will be private.

Antielevated Hearing Slated

The Legislative Committee of the City Council yesterday declined to report a recommendation on the request of the Antielevated Association that the charter be amended to prevent the creation of assessment districts for elevated railways or subways, and the Council set next Wednesday, 11 a.m., as the date for a hearing on the subject.

POLITICAL RALLY TONIGHT

The Elysian Civic Association will sponsor a mass meeting this evening in the Allesandro street school. Candidates for State and county offices will speak.

Rogers Before Court in Thefts

Glenn A. Rogers, acquitted of a charge of murdering Officer James Costello a month ago, yesterday appeared before Superior Judge Wood for arraignment on two robbery charges.

The complaint accuses the youth of holding up two Los Angeles Railway conductors at different times and robbing them of their day's receipts.

Judge Wood fixed Rogers's trial for September 16, next, at 10 a.m. in Superior Judge Wilson's court.

FILM ACTORS WILL TALK AT RADIO SHOW

The judging board included Dr. F. B. Hassey, San Francisco; Dr. G. L. Betty, London, Eng.; Dr. H. T. Wellson, Mesa, Ariz.; Dr. Gustave Haar, Dr. Clyde Knouf and Abe Garlick of Los Angeles.

September 2nd, the "first day"

SCHOOL AGAIN! Back to school and back to the thrill of the "first day," when a new beret or a longer skirt or wider "cords" can conquer their world for the year!

SCHOOL AGAIN! And these are the new school clothes for girls, according to the August issue of "Vogue" . . .

"It is smart for children to wear cottons the year around. The familiar smock, with bloomers to match . . ." (The very thing Bullock's has prepared for "Tu-tu-Six and 7 to 10 in every-day cottons and fine French chambrays! $1.95 to $4.95) . . . "wool challis" . . . (And Bullock's has some quaint new wool challis dresses with wide pleated collars, $10) . . . "Blue chinchilla reefers, the kind with brass buttons and scarlet linings . . ." (At Bullock's in fine kersey and cheviot cloths, $10, $12.50).

"Nothing is smarter for the Young Person this season than a well-tailored suit" (Bullock's new ones are most interesting. A wool crepe with nipped-in belted coat and cleverly stitched skirt, $16.50). And there are the new Guimpe Dresses, $7.95, dresses with tucked boleros or flares on the sleeves, coats of tailored Llama cloth or tweeds with mushroom fur collars, boleros and capes, $19.50, $16.50.

SCHOOL AGAIN! And there is a new style in boys' trousers that "out-Oxfords" Oxford Bags.

These are Bullock's "Twenty-Too's", collegiate trousers cut full 22 inches wide! Suits, $18.50, "cords," $2.95, separate trousers, $4.95, all of them are "Twenty-Too's" this year. And for younger boys, there are the short trousers of rough tweeds and cassimere with buckled belts to match, $1.95. Besides, some pull-over sweaters or fine zephyr wool, $4.85, that "look like a million." And . . .

IN FACT, the whole Fifth Floor at Bullock's is brimming with exciting new school clothes!

Of Interest to Women

Society

By JUANA NEAL LEVY

One of the charmingly appointed affairs of the coming week will be a dinner with which Mrs. William Penny Anderson of Holmby Hills is entertaining at the Beverly Hills Hotel in honor of her cousin, Mrs. Clarence Crittenden Calhoun, wife of the attorney of Washington, who is making rather a hurried trip to the Southland in connection with a booklet which she has written for publication in "talkie."

The tea table will be centered by early fall flowers, roses and ferns. The hostess will be assisted by Mrs. Henry M. Willis and her own daughter, Mrs. Edward Kurton Strahan (Laura Anderson,) a number of friends being bidden to meet the visitor.

Mrs. Calhoun who, by the way, is a cousin of the House of Marr in Scotland, and were she a resident of the realm would be Duchess of Marr, has a most interesting home just outside the national capital, calling it Estate the American Ross Dhu, as it is copied after the Ross Dhu, the Calhoun estates in Scotland.

Her cousin, who recently succeeded to the title, has just presented her with the sword given to the Earl of Marr by "Bonnie Prince Charlie" when he first accepted the allegiance of the Scots.

Mrs. Calhoun, who is an authoress of note, has just completed her "memoirs," which include many interesting as well as amusing high lights on social, philanthropic, literary and scientific life in Washington as well as other large cities of the countries both in America and abroad. She is especially interested in the Universal Alliance, which has just started to memorialize the leaders of the world.

Of Rauscher

One of the most colorful weddings of the past week took place Monday evening at the Wee Kirk o' the Heather when Miss Helen Mildred Rauscher, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Coss of Indianapolis, became the bride of Clemm Lee Rauscher, son of Sidney Rauscher of Robinson, Kan. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Dillon Bronaugh.

Miss Clay Dawson Smalley acted as matron of honor while I. Rauscher served as best man. Mrs. Ralph Hamilton played the wedding march from Lohengrin, a lovely creation of French blue net in princess style was worn by the bride. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley.

The reception and wedding supper was held at the residence of Mrs. Coss on South Edgemont avenue with 150 guests bidden.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanscher will honeymoon in Canada at Lake Louise and Banff, after which they will return to Beverly Hills, where they will make their home.

Luncheon-Bridge

Many bouffant ladies in rainbow shades marked places for guests of Mrs. O. A. Day, 1428 South Bronson avenue, at a bridge-luncheon Tuesday at the Desuville Beach Club.

The party was given in honor of Mrs. Jack Duncan and her daughter, Miss Dorothy Duncan of Chicago, who will make their home in the Southland.

Those invited to welcome the Duncans included Mrs. Lawson Downs, Mrs. W. Olin, Mrs. William Myers, Mrs. A. Jackson, Mrs. K. Heath, Mrs. Harden, Mrs. Willard Nelson, Mrs. Fred Leach, Mrs. Henry Wyatt, Mrs. Ed Lummis, Mrs. William Thornton, Mrs. Lew Fenhobs, Miss Ross Hammond and Miss Vesta Harden.

Bunco with score prizes was won by Mrs. Weykoff, Mrs. Myers and Mrs. Lonnals.

Guest Here

Among visitors to the Southland this summer who have a host of warm friends here is Arthur McLaughlin of Toronto, Can., who plans a several weeks' sojourn here.

Mr. McLaughlin, who is organist at the Yorkminster Church in Toronto, was associated with the Toronto Conservatory of Music for several years. He presided at the organ of Immanuel Presbyterian Church, Wilshire Boulevard, last Sunday morning and last evening gave an organ recital on the open-air organ in Balboa Park, San Diego.

Charity Ball

The Los Damas Angelenas will give a benefit dance (formal) at Beverly Hills Hotel tomorrow evening with Mrs. David Ayers, president of the organization, as general chairman of the evening. Patrons will include Messrs. and Mmes. David Ayers, Manuel Ayulo, J. L. Cowgill, Robert Chapman, Albert H. Cheap, M. G. Belmer, Javier Frias, Alberto Guzman, Gabriel Milhe, Gordon Wetherham, Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Cannon, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. V. N. Reed, Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Loomis, Dr. and Mrs. A. Townsend, Mmes. Delina C. De Munos, Elena De Pena Gill, Conchita Pignatelli, Isabel Valle Cram, Ursula De la Vega, Otilia De Velarde, Misses Laura de la Puente, Marianita Servin, Beatrice Tarriba and Dr. Arturo V. Santiago and Dr. Fernando A. Guerra.

Visiting Here

Mrs. Dave Hochman and daughter, Ruth of St. Louis are house guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Joseph Zimmelman, at her home, 2150 South Hamel Drive, Beverly Hills. Mrs. Hochman is the wife of the violinist David Hochman of the Missouri city.

Mrs. Hochman and Miss Hochman have been extensively entertained since their arrival three weeks ago, motoring to Agua Caliente and Santa Barbara, as well as taking an enjoyable cruise to Catalina.

Church Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Helen May Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan A. Miller of 200 North Hidalgo avenue, Alhambra, to Eugene Porter Conser, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Conser of Milwaukee, was solemnized the 7th inst., the ceremony taking place in Pasadena Presbyterian Church with Dr. James Leishman officiating.

The bride wore a gown of shell pink satin with tulle veil held in place by a bandeau of orange blossoms and she carried white roses and orchids. Miss Helen Tindall was maid of honor and Misses Sybil Georgi and Ruth Taylor bridesmaids. Mrs. Albert Parr was matron of honor and Robert W. Kerr best man, while Reginald A. Boaus, John Paul Matthews, Maitland Straughan and J. William Miller ushered.

Miss Marian Mabee sang preceding the ceremony, after which a reception at the Miller home followed. Mr. and Mrs. Conser are motoring north on their honeymoon and after their return will make their home in Alhambra.

Club Entertained

Mrs. Addie Gifford entertained members of the Merrymakers' Club recently with a charmingly appointed luncheon at the Sea Breeze Club in Santa Monica, the tables being arranged on the broad galeria. Golden asters and daisies with a profusion of ferns centered the tables and covers were arranged for Mmes. One of the lovely weddings of the week was that of Wednesday afternoon when at 4 o'clock in the drawing-room of the home of Mrs. Joseph Brent Banning, 426 North McCadden Place, Mrs. Samuel Brown Thomas (Grace Mellus) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Mellus of La Salle street, became the bride of Charles C. Bull, with Rev. James Hamilton Lash officiating. After a wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Bull left on their motor honeymoon through the north and after September 5 will return to make their home here.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

When They Are Stiff

Egg whites will "point" when whipped enough. If you lift the beater out of the mass a piece of egg white will hang from it and decrease in size to a point. If you are a braver person and belong to the old school you will turn the bowl upside down and if the whites stay put, they are done.

One of Hubby's Uses

In these days of carrying home our packages, it is a foolish woman who has not her list of necessary articles made out so she can hand it to the man of the house when she learns he is going in that direction. It saves many burdens for the housewife as well as many trips.

Fresh Stains

A fresh ink stain may be removed from a carpet by pouring milk on it and pressing with blotting paper until it is all absorbed, but apply as soon as the accident occurs or it will not work.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

GRAFTS AS THEY PERTAIN TO CHILDREN

In the building in which my office is located, a very small boy is wont to make his way from office to office holding up a round bouquet of inexpressibly awful pink crepe paper roses with the mute plea to buy. It is inevitable that one's heart melts at his smallness, a coin is pressed into his hand and roses waved away.

The first day I experienced an emotion combined of pity for the child and gratitude that it wasn't my own. The next day when the larger sister appeared with the self-same bouquet and the self-same plea, my emotions went slightly rancid. A closer scrutiny of the roses discovered them to be identical with some peddled from door to door in an apartment-house 1900 miles away. It would seem that this graft was a nation-wide one, designed to make use of the sure commercial appeal of small children.

I heard recently of two boys who started out to make a tour of the world, without money. Splendid, thought I. They will learn how to earn money in all kinds of ways and just how far that money will go. They will learn the languages and customs of the people of each country in their enforced sojourns there. We could see no disadvantages in such a proceeding and much of educational value for the future.

But apparently this was not the plan. Instead these bright, attractive lads were bumming their way, certain of the goodness of human nature. Knowing that travelers are never averse to giving clean boys a ride, they make it their business to stay clean and neat, aware that a lifted hand by the roadside will win them a ride in the direction they want to go.

SUBTLE BEGGING

Once in the car they relate their adventure and count upon the generosity that awakens in every adult's heart toward youth and its aspirations to offer them cash, a bunk for the night and free meals. Their expectations are as sure of fulfillment as those of the small children who offer a dubious ware, certain that it will be refused and the cash for it be forthcoming. Such is generous, unthinking human nature!

But what of the parents? Are they blind to the sort of education their children are receiving? If they are in such dire need that they must send children under 5 years of age out on the streets to work for them, at least give the children something besides trash to sell. If the parents of these youths cannot assume the economic burden of their trip they have little right to shift that burden to the shoulders of any kindly stranger who is willing to assume it.

These children are learning only one thing in their tussle with the world and that is that cash, free rides and free meals are as easily gained by subtle begging as by offering some value for money received or earning it by the sweat of their brows. A poor lesson for any cheild to master.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

The Times' free cooking school conducted by Chef Wyman has been discontinued for the summer. Date for resuming has not been set but will be announced later.

TOMATO FRITTERS

Three cupfuls of tomatoes, one-half of a bay leaf, four tablespoonfuls of butter, four whole cloves, three tablespoonfuls of chopped onions, two tablespoonfuls of chopped pimintos, one-half cupful of cornstarch, one teaspoonful of salt, one egg. Melt the butter, add the onion and pepper, but do not allow the onion to brown, cook the mixture for five minutes, then add the cornstarch, that has been mixed with the tomatoes, cloves, bay leaf and salt. Cook in a double-boiler until thick, strain the mixture, add the well-beaten egg, pour into a shallow dish, that has been buttered and allow to cool. Cut into fancy shapes, dip in fine bread crumbs, well-beaten egg and crumbs, fry in deep, hot shortening.

CHEESE AIGRETTES

Place in a saucepan one-half cupful of water, and two tablespoonfuls of shortening or butter, and allow it to reach the boiling point, then add all at once one-half cupful of sifted flour, and stir until the mixture will leave the sides of the pan, cool the mixture, until it is blood temperature, then add one at a time, two eggs, and beat well between the addition of each one. Add four tablespoonfuls of grated cheese, half a teaspoonful of salt and a half teaspoonful of paprika, and beat again. Allow to stand in a cool place for thirty minutes, drop from a teaspoon in hot shortening, and fry until a golden brown. Drain and sprinkle with grated cheese.

SWEET YAMS SOUTHERN STYLE

Scrub the sweet potatoes and bake them until soft, remove from the oven, and cut in half lengthwise. Remove the inside, being careful not to break the skins. Mash the pulp, and add to it enough melted butter and cream to moisten well. Place back in the shells, mounding it up and seasoning with salt, paprika, and pour over them a little sherry. Brush the tops with melted butter, place in the oven, and allow to brown.

FROZEN FRUIT SALAD

One-half cupful of cream, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, one-half cupful of mayonnaise, one-third cupful of chopped pecans, one fourth cupful of crushed, drained pineapple, one-fourth cupful of stoned white cherries, one-fourth cupful of chopped, drained apricots, one small orange cut in small pieces, one small banana sliced thin. Whip the cream until stiff, add the lemon juice, and whip again, fold in the mayonnaise, add the nuts and fruit, folding them in a little at a time. Place the mixture in a mold or the freezing tray of the refrigerator, and allow to harden, cut into squares, and serve on crisp lettuce leaves, garnished with some of the fruit.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL, EVERY, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

IMPY HAS CHILLS

Jack Frost may pinch and make you ill,
But fear can give a greater chill.
—Mother West Wind.

"Well," said Timmy the Flying Squirrel to Impy the black Chipmunk, "I must be going. You see, I have had nothing to eat as yet and I am very hungry. Of course, I had that beetle a few moments ago, but that was just an appetizer."

"Do you mean to say that you haven't eaten a thing all day?" inquired Impy.

"Do you get up and eat in the night?" asked Timmy.

"Of course not," replied Impy. "That would be a foolish thing to do. I sleep all night."

"Well, I sleep all day, so, of course, I don't get up to eat," said Timmy. "Good-by."

Timmy jumped over to a small tree growing beside the old stone wall, ran rapidly to the top, and seemed to Impy to simply jump off into space. He saw him for just a moment against the sky and Timmy had disappeared. Impy sat right where he was, thinking over what he had learned from Timmy. He knew that he ought to go down into his home and go to bed. He knew that that was the only sensible thing to do. But it wasn't real dark yet and Impy felt a certain amount of excitement in staying out. He felt as if he were very bold and brave.

At last he decided that he was getting a bit sleepy and that it would be wise to go to bed. He was just about to move when, from the top of a small tree very near him, came a strange quavering cry. It wasn't so very loud, but there was something in it that started the cold chills to running all over Impy. It was the cry of Spooky the Screech Owl. Impy didn't know this, for he had never heard Spooky before; but he did know that somehow a strange terror had taken possession of him. Cold chills ran all over him. He was too frightened to move. He simply couldn't have run. This, though he didn't know it, was a very good thing. Had he moved, Spooky the Screech Owl would probably have seen him. As it was he sat there motionless and Spooky did not see him at all.

Again came that quavering cry; and again the chills ran all over Impy the black Chipmunk. How he did wish that he had gone to bed with the rest of the family. He no longer felt bold and brave. He felt just scared. That was it, scared. He felt almost too scared to breathe. He just sat there—a little black, frightened chipmunk filled with an unnamed fear.

He saw him for just a moment against the sky, and Timmy had disappeared

It seemed to Impy that he sat there ever and ever so long before he heard that voice again, this time over in the Old Orchard. Actually it was only a minute or two. Even then, although he felt sure that the unknown owner of that voice was no longer close at hand, Impy did not dare move. Suddenly there was a light thump right beside him. Had not Impy been too frightened to move, he would have jumped right off the stone wall. But he was so frightened that he was beyond jumping.

"Did you hear Spooky the Screech Owl?" inquired Timmy the Flying Squirrel.

"Wa-wa-wa-was that Spooky?" chattered Impy. "I di-di-di-didn't know who it was."

"Yes, that was Spooky," replied Timmy. "I thought I would just come over here and see that you were all right. Now, if you'll take my advice, you'll go to bed."

"I'm going," replied Impy; and without another word, not even saying thank you or good night, he dived down between the stones of the old stone wall.

Very Little Pressing

The man or woman who always puts his or her suit on a hanger as soon as it is removed will rarely have to worry about the tailor. It is the careless handling after removing that usually causes the mussiness and creases.

Keep Them Clean

Each week brush off the soot that gathers on the coils of the gas hot water heater. Less gas will be required to heat the water if the coils are kept clean.

Life in Europe Less Strenuous, Visitor States

"If Europeans are as hard up as we have been led to believe I failed to see it," George A. Reimers, vice-president of the Title Guarantee and Trust Company, declared yesterday on his return from a four months' trip to England, Scotland, France, Italy, Austria, Czecho-Slovakia, Germany, Holland and Belgium.

"My investigations abroad convinces me that California business is more fundamentally sound than that of any area in the world. They don't work abroad as we do here. They take things too easy. There is no place like California.

"The unemployment situation in Germany and England, however, creates a serious condition. In England alone, 2,000,000 persons are without jobs. The English laborer pays a tax of a shilling on every pound he earns," said Mr. Reimers.

Miner Good at Distance Climb

It's lucky for our flagpole and tree sitters that George Kingdon, official of the United Verde Extension Mining Company of Jerome, Ariz., doesn't take up their pastime.

The veteran miner, who is 67 years years of age, admitted yesterday at the Alexandria that his morning workout is a climb from the 2000-foot level of one of the company's shafts.

Incidentally the visitor disclosed that big business is not too big to take a fatherly interest in its employees. Every time a child is born to an employee the company bestows a gold piece upon the youngster.

Thefts Charged to Finance Men

Rapp Powers and Cliff Wilson, automobile finance promoters, yesterday were charged with fifteen counts of grand theft in a complaint issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. McIsaac.

The complaint charges the defendants discounted false contracts and received payment for them.

According to McIsaac, the case involves approximately $15,000.

SOUTHLAND LEADER IN SOCIAL WORK

Mrs. W. S. James

RITES FOR MRS. JAMES TOMORROW

Norwalk Hospital's New Hall Named in Honor of Philanthropic Worker

Funeral services for Mrs. W. S. James, who died last Wednesday at her home, 321 Shatto Place, will be conducted at the residence at 3 p.m. tomorrow, with Rev. T. C. Marshall officiating. Cremation will follow at Rosedale Cemetery.

Mrs. James, who was 71 years of age and who lived in Los Angeles for the last forty-three years, was one of the outstanding social and philanthropic workers in California and for twenty-three years had been secretary of the Psychopathic Association of Southern California.

The new assembly hall at Norwalk Hospital for the Insane has been named James Hall in honor of Mrs. James, who was largely instrumental in persuading the State Legislature to vote appropriation of funds for establishment of the institution.

Mrs. James was a native of England, but went with her parents to Chicago when she was a child, later moving to Southern California.

Salary Pleas Filed Against Fitts Committee

Failure of the campaign committee of Buron Fitts, gubernatorial candidate, to pay salaries for activities on behalf of the Fitts campaign was charged yesterday by James Ross Mitchell and Roy M. Alexander in complaints filed with the State Labor Bureau. Mitchell and Alexander both say that $50 is due them. They said they were engaged by Evelyn White and Helen Werner.

The cases were set for a hearing next Thursday at 3 p.m.

Four similar complaints against the campaign committee of Mayor Rolph, also a candidate for Governor, will be heard at 11 a.m. Monday. These complaints were filed by V. A. Parks, seeking $350; Walter Stennett, seeking $83.33, and Miss Marquette Bradley and John E. Howell, Jr., each seeking $41.66.

Jury Chosen to Try Juan Reyna in Slaying Case

After two days of questioning, defense and prosecution attorneys yesterday accepted a jury in Superior Judge McComb's court, to try Juan Reyna, who is charged with the murder of Verne A. Brindley, Los Angeles police officer.

It is charged Reyna seized Officer Brindley's revolver when the latter sought to arrest him, and shot him to death while seeking to escape.

DIET OF COTTON REMOVES PIN

Spinach Also on Menu of Baby Harold Kern Who Swallowed "Safety"

A diet of cotton and spinach successfully removed an open safety pin from the stomach of little Harold Kern, only a few months of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kern, 1262 Elysian Park avenue, yesterday at the General Hospital.

The infant swallowed the pin last Sunday. He was rushed to the General Hospital and placed under the care of Dr. Simon Jesberg, consulting physician, and Dr. Oscar Reiss. He was immediately placed on the diet of cotton and spinach which successfully caused the removal of the pin without a surgical operation.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

[Requests for recipes and information pertaining to the proper preparation and serving of food will be answered in this column every Friday. Address all requests to A. L. Wyman, Laboratory Kitchen, 434 Arden avenue, Glendale.—Ed.]

NUT BREAD

L.E.C., Los Angeles, Calif. Sift three cupfuls of sifted flour with five teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt and a half cupful of sugar, beat one egg and add one and one-half cupfuls of milk to the flour, with one and one-half cupfuls of chopped nut meats. Place in a well-oiled and floured bread tin and let stand in a warm place for thirty minutes before placing in a moderate oven. It will take about forty minutes to bake.

STUFFED STEAK WITH VEGETABLES

Take two pounds of round steak that has been cut at least two inches thick and split it through the center with a sharp knife, leaving one side uncut. Stuff it with a dressing made by mixing two cupfuls of fine bread crumbs that have been browned in butter or shortening, with one large onion chopped fine, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of marjoram, one-half teaspoonful of thyme, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, then add to the mixture one slightly beaten egg and one-half cupful of cold water. Mix thoroughly, stuff the steak, bring the edges together and tie securely. Cut four slices of bacon in small pieces and place them in a Dutch oven, or a heavy saute pan. When the bacon fat is hot, sear the steak on both sides. Then place around it, carrots that have been scraped, and small whole onions, cover tightly and cook over a slow fire for about one hour, then uncover, season with salt and paprika, add small whole peeled potatoes, replace the cover and continue the simmering until the potatoes are tender.

COCOANUT COOKIES

Cream one-fourth cupful of butter or shortening, and cream into it two-thirds of a cupful of sugar, add one unbeaten egg, and beat well. Sift one and one-half cupfuls of sifted flour, with three teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one-eighth teaspoonful of salt, and add to the butter mixture, alternately with one-half cupful of milk, then stir in two cupfuls of cocoanut and a half teaspoonful of lemon juice. Mix thoroughly and drop from a spoon on an oiled and floured baking sheet, placing them at least an inch apart. Bake in a moderate oven.

GRAPEFRUIT CAKE

Beat the yolks of five eggs, and gradually beat into them one and one-fourth cupfuls of sugar and beat for ten minutes. Sift two cupfuls of sifted flour with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of salt. Sift three times. Add to the sugar mixture alternately with a scant half cupful of grapefruit juice and one-fourth cupful of cold water. Add three tablespoonfuls of grated grapefruit rind, mix thoroughly and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the five eggs. Place in oiled and floured layer-cake tins and bake in a moderate oven.

GRAPEFRUIT ICING

Place in the top of the double boiler two and five-eighths cupfuls of sugar, the unbeaten whites of three eggs, three-fourths tablespoonful of grated grapefruit rind and nine tablespoonfuls of grapefruit juice, set over boiling water, and as it cooks beat it with a rotary egg beater until the mixture will stand up in peaks when the beater is removed. Remove from the heat and carefully add one and a half teaspoonfuls of lemon juice and one-fourth teaspoonful salt, and beat again until stiff.

NUGAT CREAM

Place one cupful of sugar in a heavy saute pan, and place it over a very slow fire. Stir it until it melts, but do not let it burn. As soon as the sugar is melted, add one cupful of chopped nut meats. Have an oiled flat dish, and pour the mixture into it in a thin sheet, and let it remain until it is cold. When it is cold, place it in a cloth, and pound to a fine powder. Place one cupful of table cream in a sauce pan with one-fourth cupful of sugar, heat it, and add one tablespoonful of plain gelatine that has been dissolved in four tablespoonfuls of cold water. Stir until the gelatine is dissolved, remove and cool, when it begins to set, stir in three-fourths of the pounded nut brittle, one cupful of stiffly whipped cream, and one teaspoonful of vanilla. Either place in the trays of the refrigerator or in a mold that has been rinsed in cold water, sprinkle with the remainder of the nut brittle, and chill until it hardens.

PANCAKES

B. McG., Westwood Hills, Cal.: Sift one and one-half cupfuls of flour with four tablespoonfuls of corn starch, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, and one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, and one teaspoonful of sugar. Beat the yolks of three eggs, to a light cream, and add to them three-quarters of a cupful of milk, and a half of a cupful of cream. Then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the three eggs, beat well, and add one tablespoonful of melted butter. Place a spoonful of the mixture on a griddle that has been oiled but be careful not to have it to hot. Lightly smooth the mixture out. As soon as it begins to bubble, turn the cakes over.

Think your trouble has been that you have had your iron too hot, and have been baking your cakes too hard. I have found they are much better if you make them about the size of a dollar, and then the edges won't crisp so much.

CONCORD GRAPE JELL

G. W. A., Los Angeles, Cal.: You did not state in your letter if only the one kind of grapes were used. If you mixed them the others may have been too ripe and there was not enough pectin. Your method was all right, for the first part of your recipe, but you should have allowed the mixture to boil after adding the sugar until testing on a cold place with a few drops of the juice, it would have jelled, but think, that if you use the pectin which you mention and go just according to directions on the bottle you may be able to save it, and have a thicker jelly.

WIDOW'S TRIAL FINISH DELAYED

Case of Mrs. Oesterreich Fails to Reach Jury

Protracted Pleas of Counsel Upset Expectations

Deliberations on Her Fate Likely to Begin Today

Protracted arguments of counsel yesterday provided the case of Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, on trial before Superior Judge Hardy for the murder of her husband, from going to the jury, as had been anticipated.

When court adjourned for the evening Defense Attorney Le Compte Davis was in the midst of his address and told the court he would require more time. As Dep. Dist.-Atty. Costello still has to make the closing argument for the prosecution after Davis finishes, it is apparent that the jury will not begin its deliberations until late today.

DEFENSE ARGUMENT

All yesterday morning and part of the afternoon Attorney Jerry Geisler, also defending Mrs. Oesterreich, told the jurors why he believes they should find the woman defendant not guilty of the charge of murder. Analyzing the evidence bit by bit, he asserted there was not "one iota" of it directly connecting Mrs. Oesterreich with the shooting and nothing to show she conspired with or aided or abetted Otto Sanhuber, her attic lover, in committing the crime.

A feature of Geisler's argument was his plain statement that he was not seeking to condone Mrs. Oesterreich's admitted immorality and her unfaithfulness to her husband.

PLEA AGAINST PREJUDICE

"But for this black sin there is another and a higher judgment than yours coming," said Geisler to the six men and six women, all of whom are middle aged, that comprise the jury. "Her morals are not on trial here. You should not let any prejudice that her personal conduct may have awakened in you influence your judgment of the clear facts of this case. If you do so you are violating your oaths as jurors."

Attorney Davis in his opening remarks was more sympathetic toward his client. He said the evidence showed Mrs. Oesterreich had a sincere affection for her husband despite her infatuation for Sanhuber.

Davis ridiculed the theory that the woman urged Sanhuber to kill her husband that the "garret ghost" might leave his attic abode and take up a residence downstairs. He pointed out that almost immediately after the killing Sanhuber and Mrs. Oesterreich parted and did not see each other for years.

A crowded courtroom listened to the pleas of the two defense attorneys and a crowd congregated in the corridors without. As has been the case every day since the trial began, Mrs. Oesterreich was forced to walk through a gauntlet of curious persons who congregate in the hallways to watch her enter and leave the courtroom.

Thomas E. Scott Rites Scheduled for Tomorrow

Thomas E. Scott, 63 years of age, senior member of Scott Brothers, clothiers, on Hill street, died yesterday afternoon at his home, 1212 Arapahoe street, after an illness of a month.

He and his brother went into business on Spring street thirty years ago. Six years ago the store was moved to its present location on Hill street.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Blanche Scott, and their daughter, Gladys Cecelia Scott.

Funeral services will be conducted at the home at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow followed by requiem mass at St. Thomas's Church, Pico and Mariposa streets at 9 a.m. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Peggy De Mille to Wed Fineman

Peggy De Mille, 20-year-old daughter of William C. De Mille, pioneer motion-picture director, yesterday announced her engagement to Bernard P. Fineman, according to dispatches from New York, where she is appearing on the stage in productions of the Theater Guild. She is quoted as saying it was "a case of love at first sight" and that the engagement has received the approval of her parents. The marriage, the dispatch stated, probably will be solemnized before Christmas, after which Miss De Mille expects to retire from the stage.

Fineman, the groom-to-be, is an associate producer at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios. He is a veteran film executive, having served for several years as general production manager at the old F.B.O. studios, now known as the R.-K.-O. studios. He has been married before, having wed Evelyn Brent, film star, in 1923. They were divorced in 1927.

Names Urged for Theater Job

A communication from Mayor Porter, inclosing a telegram from George W. Martin of St. Louis, recommending the appointment of David E. Russell as manager of the new Greek Theater in Griffith Park, and a recommendation from the West Coast Hollywood theaters, urging the appointment of V. W. Garrett, were referred to a special committee by the Park Board yesterday for investigation and report.

The committee consists of President Socha, Commissioner Swanfeldt and Supt. Shearer.

AL G. BARNES GAINS IN RESTFUL NIGHT

Marked improvement in the condition of Al G. Barnes, noted circus man, was reported from Roosevelt Hospital yesterday. The announcement said he spent a restful night and his rapid recovery is indicated.

WOMAN VIOLINIST AT BOWL TONIGHT

Kathleen Parlow

Hailed by many critics as the leading woman violinist in the world, Kathleen Parlow will appear in the Hollywood Bowl tonight as guest soloist, playing Lalo's "Symphony Espagnole."

Although born in Canada, Miss Parlow received all of her early music instruction in California. She made her real debut in Germany at 17 years of age.

Enrique Arbos of Madrid, who opened his local engagement last night, has selected a highly varied program for this evening, including selections by Spanish, German and Hungarian composers.

Only five more Bowl concerts are to be given this season after tonight's performance.

Actual Case of 'Nothing to Wear' Related

A girl must have clothes if she expects to work in a public restaurant, according to Frances R. Gaylord, 20-year-old waitress, who yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of driving an automobile without the owner's consent, when arraigned before Superior Judge Wood.

After pleading guilty to the charge Miss Gaylord was granted permission to file an application for probation. A hearing will be held before Judge Wood September 8, next.

Miss Gaylord, through her attorney, Dan Critchley, asserts that she shipped her clothing to San Diego after having been promised a position there. A few days later, however, she discovered that the position already had been filled, and sought some means of obtaining her lost apparel.

As a result she appropriated an automobile owned by Pressley Shipman of 2454 Southern avenue, South Gate, and started to drive to San Diego, but an alert traffic officer at Tustin arrested her for driving a stolen car.

PALATIAL HOME READY FOR CLUB

which it was built, the club's roster includes mainly the names of men who have been and are instrumental in development of the Southland.

Harry E. Thompson, club manager, has been active in guiding the new headquarters to completion on scheduled time. On a trip east he visited nearly twenty of the nation's finest clubs and reported that the local institution has a home that is unexcelled in this country.

He declared the successful completion of this huge noncommercial undertaking is attributable in a large measure to the efforts of President Haskins.

This tribute also was expressed by Robert D. Farquhar, chief architect, who was aided by George W. Kelham, consulting architect. Structural engineering was handled by the Brunier Company of San Francisco; general contractors for the building were the P. J. Walker Company of Los Angeles. Cannell & Chaffin, Inc., are responsible for the furnishing and interior decoration under direct supervision of Cuthbert Homan.

SUITES FOR MEMBERS

Fifty-four bedrooms—six of them suites with sitting rooms—are included in the upper stories to be occupied by members. There are six elevators, four for passengers. A two-floor garage has a capacity of 200 cars.

The top floor includes a double squash court, adjoining Turkish baths; a gymnasium and sun-bath equipment. A billiard room is located on a lower floor and there are two card rooms, one equipped with side Juncheon tables for noontime games.

The long foyer running from the Flower-street main entrance to the dining-room facing a terrace on Hope street, is flanked by a great living-room, 100 by 40 feet with a twenty-four-foot ceiling. The dining-room also is twenty-four feet high, paneled with American oak. English oak panels line the living-room, which is furnished with comfortable overstuffed furniture and contains two massive hand-carved Florentine tables of great value.

ARRAY OF ANTIQUES

It is declared by Homan, Farquhar and Thompson that the imported pieces and genuine antiques used in furnishing some of the rooms form a collection that can not be duplicated.

This includes, besides the Florentine tables, two Spanish mirrors, crystal lights from Venice, Italy, Venetian sofas, tapestries and urns.

Every effort has been extended to make the ladies' floor attractive to the feminine eye. Their quarters include a foyer in which are hung eight paintings of women by Alson Clark, internationally known artist; dining-rooms, private dressing rooms, and a reception room furnished with genuine Louis XV antiques.

The men's and women's living and reception rooms face the Public Library park. Outside terraces, harboring rare plants and comfortable outdoor furniture of a new design, afford a view of part of the city.

An idea as to the size of the structure and the equipment necessary to furnish it is gained by the announcement that it took ten acres of carpet to cover the floors.

In making public details of the new structure the California Club, according to Thompson, made its first statement for publication in twenty-five years.

Young Belgian Realty Dealer Adjudged Sane

Ludwig Bradac, young Belgian real-estate dealer, was adjudged sane by a jury in Superior Judge Fleming's court yesterday, after a trial of the suit instigated by his brother, Anton Bradac, who sought to be appointed guardian of Ludwig's $30,000 estate.

On the stand, Ludwig asserted that his brother had conspired to bring charges that would result in Ludwig's being confined in an asylum with his brother his guardian.

AIR LINE SUED

William H. Joyce, who on August 23, flew on a Western Air liner to Oakland, filed suit for $29,208 against the Western Air Express yesterday for damages for the loss of hearing in his right ear, which he asserts is a result of the flight. In his petition Joyce declares the ship was "carelessly and negligently" flown from a height of 18,000 feet to near sea level, and that the resulting change in air pressure ruptured his ear drum.

POPULAR PAIR PLAY "REDUCING"

Raoul Walsh's Next Titled "Women of All Nations;" Lewis Stone Assigned Role in "Ex-Mistress;" Oakie Vehicle Dubbed "Sea Legs"

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

The success of those two popular screen cut-ups, Polly Moran and Marie Dressler, was so great in "Caught Short" that it was a foregone conclusion they would be cofeatured by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in a succession of comedies.

The very next one, indeed, is already being arranged for and will be called "Reducing." In it one or the other or perhaps both will own a beauty parlor and reducing business.

At present Miss Dressler is playing a leading role in "Dark Star," while Miss Moran is having a short vacation.

Charles Reisner is to direct "Reducing."

RAOUL WALSH WILL DIRECT EPIC FILM

A sweep and power possessed by very few directors characterizes Raoul Walsh, so it is not unexpected that he has been chosen to direct epic films.

His next picture for Fox, we learn, will have to do with the women of all nations. In fact, that will be its title—"Women of All Nations." It will have to do with the influence and characteristics of women of different lands and their peculiar significance to their countries.

Walsh has just completed "The Big Trail," which promises, we hear, to be one of the outstanding successes of the Fox year.

Lotta Woods, who has written nearly all of Douglas Fairbanks's scenarios and captions, is writing the story for the Walsh picture.

LEWIS STONE IN WARNER SPECIAL

Every once in a while Warner Brothers seem to feel that nobody except Lewis Stone can suitably enact some especially difficult male lead. He played in "The Office Wife" for that organization, and now he has been signed to play the third featured role in "Ex-Mistress."

Strange things occur in picturedom in regard to combinations of players, and this picture is no exception. Bebe Daniels played Little Hal in "The Squaw Man" at the old Belasco Theater on Main street as a child actress, and Lewis Stone played the hero role. This is the first time since, I believe, that they have worked together. Roy Del Ruth is to direct.

Two for "East Lynne"

While no contracts have yet been signed, it is known that Conrad Nagel and Clive Brook are being sought by Fox for the leading male roles in "East Lynne," which is to be one of the big specials of the year. Nagel is free-lancing, but Brook is under contract to Paramount. One cannot imagine more suitable players for the roles.

Frank Lloyd is to direct the old favorite when it is made as a talker, and various interesting location trips are planned.

Oakie's Picture Named

Jack Oakie has been worrying along so far through his current starring vehicle without the story's having any title.

But yesterday Paramount officials bustled about and got together with the author to christen the piece. They are calling it "Sea Legs," according to the announcement of B. P. Schulberg. George Marion, Jr., wrote the story and Victor Heerman is directing. Oakie, incidentally, is now one of the real successful comics in the picture industry.

Kay Johnson Plays Lead

When Lawrence Tibbett starts work in "The Southerner," written by Bess Meredith and Wells Root, rumor has it that no less dependable and charming an actress than Kay Johnson will have the leading feminine role.

Miss Johnson has been distinguishing herself ever since she entered pictures. Now it is said that her appearance as leading lady in Cecil B. De Mille's "Madame Satan" will make her more famous than ever.

Four for "Cimarron"

Four additions have just been made to R.-K.-O.'s "Cimarron," which Wesley Ruggles is directing, we learned yesterday.

Frank Beal, Nance O'Neal, Ann Lee and Lillian Lane are the players in question.

Betty Alden With Fox

Another New York stage favorite, Betty Alden, has succumbed to the lure of the talking pictures.

Miss Alden has been signed by Fox officials to portray a role in "Lightnin'," Will Rogers's new starring vehicle. She joins a notable supporting cast.

The actress has been in many eastern stage successes under the Belasco, Woods and Miller banners. She is said to have a promising future in the talkers, if tests are any sort of criterion.

Young Explorer Here

Word comes that Varick Frissell, the interesting young explorer, who, although still in his twenties, has been made a Fellow of the Royal Geographic Society, will return here next week to complete distribution arrangements for his "Vikings of the North," the first dialogue production to be made with the Labrador sealing country as background.

Frissell took his cast, headed by Louise Huntington, Charles Sterrett and Capt. Bob Bartlett, and staff, with George Melford as director, with the sealing fleet, to the icepans of the Atlantic, and all scenes for "Vikings of the North" were made in that frozen country.

AIR RACERS WIN PROTESTS

Take-off Field for Chicago Flight Changed and Flyers May Set Own Departure Hour

Wishes of the five flying participants in the coming nonstop air race from here to Chicago to change the local take-off point from Los Angeles Municipal Airport to Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport and to allow each pilot to select his own take-off time instead of starting together were granted yesterday.

Wires received from Carl F. Egge, contest secretary of the 1930 National Air Races in Chicago, by the five flyers, Roscoe Turner, Lee Schoenhair, Art Goebel, Bill Brock and Wiley Post, granted the protests filed by the pilots on Wednesday.

They will be allowed, Egge wired, to start on any of the nine days following tomorrow with the stipulation that they land on Curtiss-Wright Field, Chicago, scene of the national races, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 7 p.m., central standard time.

Last-minute adjustments on the racing ships—all Lockheeds and capable of top speeds of around 200 miles an hour—will be made today.

Ill Luck Has Lead Role in This Picture

Loss of jewelry in the excitement of seeing a motion picture shot on one's lawn is no reason for suing the film folk, Superior Judge Yankwich decided yesterday. He granted a nonsuit for the defendant in the case of Mrs. Mabel McNeal against Paramount Publix Corporation.

Driving home alone, Mrs. McNeal said, she tied a $1550 diamond ring and a $300 pin in a handkerchief. Arriving at her home, 609 North Rossmore avenue, she found a motion picture being filmed. She walked toward the picture folk. When she reached the group her handkerchief was gone from her hand.

"Loss in the excitement is too remote to place responsibility therefor upon the company," ruled Judge Yankwich, in granting a nonsuit.

ARBOS PLEASES ON DEBUT HERE

Spanish Batonists' Arrival Signal for Ovation

Close of Bowl Season Holds Promising Outlook

Hispanic Numbers Enjoyed By Large Audience

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Applause liberally bestowed by a large audience caused the arrival of Enrique F. Arbos to be a gala event last evening at the Hollywood Bowl. The close of his first concert was the signal for a demonstration, which portended promisingly for his stay until the end of the season. He brings the breath of a new land and its inspirations to the hillside amphitheater, and unquestionably he will add brightly to its romantic and musically stimulating history.

Arbos is the first conductor aside from Karl Kruger heard this year who is new to the Bowl public and Kruger had been heard with the Philharmonic Orchestra. The Spanish director set several precedents of his own, to inaugurate his reign here.

In the arrangement of his orchestra he followed the older pattern, with the second violins in the foreground on the right, the 'cellos in the center, directly in front of his stand, the double basses at the left and the brasses at the right.

These more or less ocular details increased somewhat the individuality of his debut. Added to this is the fact that he has a very definite personality. He resembles Herta as to beard but is much slighter of stature.

The Arbos individuality certainly shows in his Spanish interpretations. He is decidedly independent in his feeling for this music.

It was the latter part of the program that especially captured the popular fancy, including as it did the Albeniz-Arbos "Le Fete Dieu a Seville" and "Triana" from the suite, "Iberia," and Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Caprice Espagnol." In this same portion of the concert came also, the very lovely suite for the Strings by Corelli.

Here, I felt, the Arbos style was much more freely manifested than in the Symphony in D minor by Cesar Franck. In this great work it was the allegretto that was outstanding, the opening of the closing movements being well played, but not notably. One can attribute this naturally to the conductor's single chance in the morning at rehearsing the orchestra. He was also slightly handicapped by being forced to direct with his left hand at times, due to an attack of neuritis in his right arm. But his beat seemed none the less potent and emphatic.

Arbos exhibits marked finesse, particularly in his presentations of lighter compositions. The Corelli group—old dances idealized—was really magical in its quality, and the audience responded with warmth to the rendition of the three selections—"Sarabande," "Gigue" and "Badinerie."

The Albeniz compositions are exquisite in their instrumental coloring. The combination of celesta, harp and muted horns at one point held a rare enticement. Much deft shading of tone and rhythm pervaded the Triana, and "La Fete" was alluringly pictorial. One can really see the Spain—at least of imagination—in these poems in tone.

The Caprice Espagnole as given by Arbos has many vivid touches. Personally I would have liked to have heard him conduct it after he had achieved full familiarity with the orchestra. He knows the rhythmic spirit of this Russian interpretation of the spell of his country, however, and gave the work as a whole with glamour.

The delicacy of the Arbos style was admirably shown in the Allegreto from the Franck symphony. The final movement had its share of strength and esprit. I cannot be as enthusiastic, however, about this rendition as the majority of the others. The Overture to "Der Freischutz" was given as the opening number.

The Arbos sojourn offers indication of providing a unique close to the current summer concerts.

VICTORY OF WOMAN TOLD ON SCREEN

New Film at Paramount Handled from Feminine Viewpoint

BY ELENA BOLAND

Conversationally analytic, seeking to define the characteristics of classes, "Anybody's Woman" takes feature place at the Paramount this week.

Paralleling its title, "Anybody's Woman" is a woman's picture. Although the original story, "The Better Wife," was written by Gouverneur Morris, the film has been attacked from the feminine viewpoint. Zoe Akins and Doris Anderson made the screen adaptation. Dorothy Arzner, the only woman in Hollywood to hold such a position, did the direction. The star, likewise, is a woman—Ruth Chatterton. The theme is, not a woman's regeneration, but a woman's victory.

On the program it may be found that "Anybody's Woman" is an all-talkie. This statement should be ratified to "too talkie," for dialogue, good as it often is, holds too much prominence in the film's construction. Action as a whole progresses, but rarely do its segments —within themselves.

Establishing character relations and atmosphere, an introductory opening discloses Miss Chatterton, weary of heat and "bad breaks," discussing life and men with her boarding-house pal, Nan. There doesn't seem to be much doing in either direction and the Chatterton droops a new blond head. Nan lifts a helping hand and turns on the electric fan. The wonder of invention wafts Miss Chatterton's carefully concealed King's English across to the hotel room of Neil Dunlap, who is pouring forgetfulness into himself by the pint. His wife, it seems, had been a lady and left him. Fanned by electricity as well as sincerity, Panay Gray's voice falls upon his ears as it wonders plaintively whether it pays a girl to be hard-boiled or not. Realizing that here is a jewel of a woman, if a bit tarnished, he marries her that night.

From then on the plot expands into the personal tribulations of the couple as well as the social clash caused by a Dunlap's fall from aristocracy. Back of the mannered elegance of Dunlap's family and fancy friends is shown a shallow snobbery.

All this is, of course, in contrast to Panay's exceeding womanliness. Despite uneasy awkwardness she proves her stuff, pulls her husband back on his feet, but fails to win his love. No telling what would have happened had not Paul Lukas put in a suave and sure foot. Risen from the people, like Panay, he appreciates her and thus is drawn a tardy triangle.

The solution, for one who is deft at problems, is not hard to decipher.

Taste, always a quality of Miss Arzner's work as well as of Miss Chatterton's, is consistently present in "Anybody's Woman."

Performance is one thing for which Ruth Chatterton may always be relied upon. She strikes a note of pathos in Panay which has strength because it never whines. The role is one of those things which she appears to enjoy doing best; the woman whispered about.

A righteous dignity, which grows upon him as his difficulties increase, becomes Clive Brook better than his comic efforts. Under ordinary conditions he is the capable technician.

However, it is Paul Lukas, as Gustav Saxon, the sympathetic friend, who carries off masculine honors. He has not to date once failed in making whatever he does outstanding.

There are other meritorious names among the cast: Huntly Gordon, Juliette Compton, Virginia Hammond, Cecil Cunningham and Tom Patricola.

The short subjects run to humor with the comedy, "Prize Puppies," and a Talkertoon, "Swing, You Sinners."

MELODRAMA OPENS RUN AT R.-K.-O.

Universal Film Featured by Acting of John Wray as "Czar of Broadway"

BY JOHN SCOTT

Another melodrama of suave racketeers and night clubs, "Czar of Broadway," has reached these parts and aside from the superior acting of John Wray, remembered for his fine portrayal of Himmelstoss in "All Quiet," reveals nothing to become excited about. The picture holds interest, it is true, but the authenticity of certain sequences, particularly those in the newspaper office, might be questioned by any who would care to do so.

"Czar of Broadway" is the current film feature at the R.-K.-O. Theater, starting yesterday. It tells of a polished but unrelenting man who obtains his pin money from the building bearing his name and a night club, and his big money from shady pursuits. As the czar, John Wray presents a vivid characterization, forceful and exceedingly interesting. Mannerisms that the actor revealed in "All Quiet" are again present in the new film, such as his manner of walking with a slight jerk. The military bearing is still with the actor. It is decidedly not unpleasant.

Then there is a reporter, John Harron, whose status is ever in doubt, even until the end of the story. He meets Bradley, the underworld king, quite by accident through Bradley's girl, Betty Compson. In the film it seems taken for granted that Miss Compson just had to attract his attention, even before the racketeer requested her to. Perhaps it was merely coincidental. At all events he becomes a pal of Bradleys, presumably to get "something on him" for his editor, who has brought him all the way from San Francisco for that purpose.

The manner in which the story is finally worked out is more or less plausible. Other characters appear in the story, Frances, the killer; McNab, the editor, and Harry Foster and Dane Harper, incidental racketeers. Frances is portrayed by Claud Allister, certainly a novel role for this actor. The other characters are enacted by Edmund Breese, Wilbur Mack and King Baggot.

As Connie Colton, the lady in the case, Betty Compson has a good chance to exhibit her pleasant personality. She sings once a la Ifeien Morgan. John Harron does good work in the reporter part and if a more clearly defined story would doubtless have been more convincing.

"Czar of Broadway" was produced by Universal from a story by Gene Towne, who also handled the dialogue. William James Craft directed.

On the stage Mr. Wu and his Chinese Show Boat provide the bulk of the entertainment. Miss Jue Sue Tai and a Chinese girl band are also included in the act. Wu presents some impersonations of notables. Other exhibitions of dancing, singing and chatter are offered by Maxine and Bobby, Edith Bow and Ed and Tom Hickey. Short subjects include a Pathe comedy wherein cowboys sing and dance like veterans of the footlights.

Stage Recalls a Favorite Son

Elliott Nugent,

Who has been devoting his time to motion pictures of late, has responded to the urge of the footlights and will enact the leading role in "The Poor Nut," starting Sunday matinee at El Capitan.

Second Week of 'Top Speed' Starts Today

The second week of "Top Speed," with Joe E. Brown, starts at Warner Brothers Hollywood Theater today. Bernice Claire, Jack Whiting, Laura Lee and Frank McHugh play supporting roles.

The comedy has proven one of the most popular laugh films at the Hollywood theater, according to the mangement. "Top Speed" is Brown's first starring picture and starts him off on a new series of comedies in which his name is to be billed above the title of the film, it is reported.

First National studio is sending him on a two months' personal appearance tour with "Top Speed" in the principal key cities of the East. Following that he leaves for a six weeks' trip to Europe.

BYRD FILM ON VIEW

"With Byrd at the South Pole," a stirring and actual picture record of the daring commander and his men, who defied the elements to secure data on an uncharted part of the world, is now on view at the Fox Figueroa Theater. The film will show today and tomorrow.

STUDENTS OF M.-G.-M. HOLD NEW FROLIC

"Good News" on Screen at Loew's; Wolf Returns to Local Footlights

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

The co-eds of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer University continue their horseplay in "Good News," now at Loew's State Theater. The horseplay was begun in "So This Is College;" but this time there are some new cheer leaders, among them Stanley Smith, Bessie Love, Mary Lawlor, Gus Shy and Lola Lane. Cliff Edwards, the schoolboy with the uke, alone remains. And still the pictures are almost alike; it must be the atmosphere at old M.-G.-M.U.

De Sylva, Brown and Henderson's peppy musical score crops up intermittently, with three numbers—"Varsity Drag," "Good News" and "The Best Things in Life Are Free"—predominating. The "Drag" sequence is effective yet. Other tunes featured are "I'd Like to Make You Happy" and something about the mountains kissing the big blue sky.

For those who like their college comedy in large doses, the present effort should prove as satisfying as its predecessor. This Gus Shy, who is anything but, is an amusing comic as stage comics go; to him fall the plum "gags" of the picture. Mary Lawlor, another Broadwayite, possesses a charm which is only glimpsed in the swift-moving activity. She plays opposite Stanley Smith, the singing juvenile. Lola Lane appears as the mild blond menace to romance, but is given no opportunity to wax melodic. Not the least of the comedy reflects the spotlight upon the gamin Miss Love, who heats a group of earnest students at an Olympian game of craps. Then, too, there is Dorothy McNulty, a shade on the boop-a-doop type, to get hot, with saxophone encouragement.

They may not be very erudite, but they have a good time. Most of the dignity is supplied of presiding in our better institutes of learning rests with Thomas Jackson, as a football coach, and Frank McGlynn, representing the faculty. The only genuinely human "shot" in the whole film, if you are looking for them, is a flash of Prof. McGlynn at a window, nodding to himself as he watches the campus revelers. But it is incongruous here as well.

Edgar MacGregor, credited with the stage direction, may consider all such honors as redound to "Good News" his. Practically every scene is played to the camera, as if it were the audience. A Technicolor finale, showing a wedding rehearsal in a room the size of a coliseum, brings everybody out in his party clothes.

And on this large note the picture ends.

The music on the screen is conducted by Abe Lyman. Not to be outdone, Panchon and Marco introduce another "name" band leader on the stage this week. He is Rube Wolf, come home from points east.

Wolf, a little more dapper, a little less timorous than of yore, and as homely as ever, presides over a charming and often novel "idea" called "Southern." He was welcomed with much beating together of hands yesterday; Jimmy Lyons, monologuist, Hatt and Herman, "bouncers," and a colored tap-dancer sharing in the general acclaim. The girls of the ensemble sported convertible hoops—voluminous skirts, that is, which turned astonishingly into diminutive Aunt Jemimas at the bend of a hip.

Fox News contains some remarkable pictures of the Hindu uprising in Bombay.

Filmarte will Screen Russian Film Tonight

"A Fragment of an Empire," which opens tonight at the Filmarte Theater, is said to display a dynamic art in the pathos of its realism.

The picture is from a Moscow studio.

Feodor Nikitin plays a leading role. The photography deserves special praise, it is asserted, the picture being filmed in Odessa and Leningrad.

Frederick Ermler directed the Russian film.

DRYS WARNED OF VOTE PERIL

Fitts Declared Only Hope to Beat Rolph, Wet

Bay City G.O.P. Leader Says Young Out of Race

Committee of Doctors Asks Justice for South

The dry vote of California will go for nought unless it is concentrated behind Buron Fitts, according to Felton Taylor, first vice-chairman of the Republican County Central Committee of San Francisco. Taylor notified the local Fitts headquarters that Gov. Young is practically eliminated and that the contest is now between Buron Fitts and James Rolph, Jr.

"Clement Calhoun Young, who is supported by the Hiram Johnson machine, is out of sight. He will not receive a corporal's guard vote in Southern California," wrote Taylor, "and will receive a very light vote in Northern California.

ROLPH WET

"Buron Fitts, a strong Republican party man, is being supported by those people who believe in law and order and law enforcemen and, therefore, he will win. James Rolph, Jr., is a wet and is being supported by Matt I. Sullivan, Democratic boss of San Francisco, and law partner of Hiram Johnson. It is becoming very evident that the Anti-Saloon League, which has given its indorsement to Young, will not have very much influence in this contest, as the dry vote will be wasted unless united behind Buron Fitts."

Members of the medical profession yesterday were in receipt of a letter signed by Drs. Robert V. Day, president of the Los Angeles County Medical Association; Harlan Shoemaker, John V. Barrow and Charles W. Decker, comprising the Buron Fitts-for-Governor medical committee.

JUSTICE ASKED

"The doctors wrote: "Buron Fitts's election as Governor means no reprisal upon the north but it will mean fair play and justice to Southern California that supplies 65 per cent of the State's tax money. Let's, as medical men, rally to the standard of Buron Fitts and do our part to insure a united prosperous California."

At the meeting at the Hollywood Kiwanis Club yesterday a straw vote of the membership gave Young, 15; Rolph, 10 and Fitts, 34.

Fitts's headquarters received additional encouraging news from the north yesterday in a letter from the Republican Club of Berkeley in which it was stated:

"There is absolutely no question up here but that Gov. Young's chances for re-election have gone glimmering. He is completely eliminated as a contender, and the man who now looms largest on the horizon of Northern California is James Rolph, Jr., the long-time Mayor of San Francisco.

SOUTHLAND DERIDED

"This statement may give a chill to our friends in Southern California who are following the politically inspired advice of the Anti-Saloon League, in Marshall Stimson and John R. Haynes's scheme to lead them blindly into the C. C. Young camp. But they may as well face the situation now as later, a vote for C. C. Young today is a vote for Rolph.

"We can also charge a conspiracy on the part of the San Francisco newspapers against the candidacy of our Southern California candidate. They give both Rolph and Young liberal space in reporting their meetings, etc., but for Fitts they have but little or no space. In fact, a lot of people who should be much broader-minded up here still think and even speak of the populous end of the State in terms of derision. They don't seem to think Southern California can produce competent material to fill State offices. What a rude awakening they will have some day when you people in Southern California become sufficiently cohesive to use your voting strength in demanding the recognition you are entitled to.

"Remember our statement, Young is politically dead, Rolph is the man Fitts is competing against."

Fitts, who was in Tulare county yesterday, will be back in Los Angeles tomorrow for two addresses in Long Beach, one at Bixby Park before the Texas State Society and the other before the Republican Club. In the evening starting at 6 o'clock, he will make a flying tour of San Fernando Valley, speaking at North Hollywood, Burbank and San Fernando.

COMMERCE COLLEGE ADDS TO FACULTY

The college of commerce and business administration of the University of Southern California, established in 1920, enters upon its tenth anniversary with the opening of the academic year 1930-31 in September. Four new faculty members have been added to the teaching staff.

Dr. Thomas K. Urdahl, chairman of the economics department of the University of Wisconsin, is professor of banking and finance. Park J. Ewart is newly appointed instructor in commerce. Ford K. Edwards has been named instructor in transportation, and John P. Kennedy lecturer in finance.

ESSAY WINS SCHOLARSHIP

For the best essay on "The Advantages of Osteopathy as a Professional Career," Miss Doris Granicer of Glendale has been awarded the one-year scholarship offered by the Los Angeles Osteopathic Society. The scholarship is in the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons of this city.

BURON FITTS RADIO SCHEDULE

Buron Fitts will be on the air four times between now and primary election day, Tuesday, it was announced at his headquarters here yesterday. His schedule follows:

Tonight, 8:30 to 9 o'clock—Station KFRC, San Francisco; KHJ, Los Angeles; KMJ, Fresno, and KGB, San Diego.

Tomorrow night, 7:30 to 8 o'clock—Station KFRC, San Francisco; KHJ, Los Angeles, and KMJ, Fresno.

Monday night, 6:45 to 7 o'clock—Station KHJ, Los Angeles; KFRC, San Francisco; KMJ, Fresno, and KGB, San Diego. 7:30 to 8 o'clock, KNX, Los Angeles.

Monday, Mrs. Harriet Works, prominent Republican worker, will precede Mr. Fitts on KHJ hookup, speaking from 6:30 to 6:45 o'clock.

BAR VISES CANDIDATES FOR BENCH

Aspirants Indorsed by Legal Associations Best for Posts, Says Bailie

Summing up the qualifications of candidates for Superior Court who have been indorsed for election by the Los Angeles Bar Association, Norman A. Bailie, president, said last night in a radio address over KMTR that the indorsed candidates are men of good legal training and ripe experience as trial judges.

He explained the secret ballot of the plebiscite, which included for the first time the twelve bar associations of Los Angeles county, and which gave overwhelming majorities to Judge Arthur Keetch, Henry M. Willis, John L. Fleming, Harry R. Archbal, Hartley Shaw, Edward T. Bishop, Frank C. Collier, J. Walter Hanby, William Haslet and Walter Guerin.

"The Bar Associations of Los Angeles county submit these indorsements to the voting public for their consideration," Mr. Bailie said. "We make no campaign against any candidate not indorsed. We submit our recommendations for your guidance as a part of the work of civic betterment in which we are engaged.

"These indorsements are the result of a secret ballot of 2000 practicing lawyers throughout the county as to those who are best fitted to pass on the lives, the liberties and the property rights of the citizens of Los Angeles county during the incoming six years. We need such men as these on our Superior bench."

AUTOPSY ORDERED IN BATHTUB-DEATH CASE

In order to determine the cause of death of Fred Moehr, 40 years of age, of Monrovia, whose nude body was found Wednesday night in a bathtub in the hotel in which he lived, an autopsy was ordered yesterday by Chief Deputy Coroner Macdonald. Moehr, investigation by deputy sheriffs disclosed, had been drinking heavily for the last ten days and is believed to have died as the result of alcoholism.

BARNES IS BADGERED POLITICALLY

Opponents at Referee's Hearing Seek Source of Campaign Support

Denounced by the supporters of George H. Barnes, candidate for Congress in the Tenth District in opposition to Joe Crail, as an example of "vicious politics," Barnes was haled into court yesterday for a referee's hearing on an automobile collision damage suit which was tried in January, 1928.

The political character of the court hearing yesterday, in the opinion of Barnes and his supporters, was clearly shown by the fact that many of the questions asked the Congressional candidate by Bruce Wallace, attorney for the plaintiff, Simon Frybush, related exclusively to the campaign of Barnes against Crail.

An effort was made to force Barnes to make known the names of those paying for his campaign automobile stickers, billboard advertising and other campaign activities. The candidate replied that he was not responsible for the financial aspects of his campaign, and had not personally expended any money.

The casually routine nature of such a proceeding ordinarily passes unnoticed in the more important court transactions of the day, but the questioning of Barnes had obviously been "tipped off" to newspapers actively campaigning for Crail, as press representatives ordinarily assigned to less obscure matters were on hand demanding complete stenographic records of the episode.

Barnes last night asserted that he is not entering a contest of personalities with Crail, and that the apparent attempt to harass and embarrass him will not affect his decision to stick to the main issues of the campaign.

The hearing brought out the fact that, largely as a result of Barnes's years of unpaid work as executive head of the American Green Cross, a national organization devoted to reforestation and conservation, he is without extensive personal means.

Trojan Coach Has Birthday

Howard Jones, University of Southern California varsity football coach, will celebrate his forty-fifth birthday anniversary at his home in North Hollywood tomorrow. The Trojan mentor, who starts his sixth season of coaching at Southern California next month, has ranked among the top-notchers in his field ever since his college days at Yale. In 1909, at the age of 24, Jones coached the Eli team to a national championship and gave six all-Americans to Walter Camp's team.

CRAMP PUT IN WOOD'S NET WORK

Sidney in on Way to Win Over George Lott When He is Slowed Down

NEWPORT (R. I.) Aug. 21. (AP)—A painful leg cramp today ended the impressive winning streak of Sydney Wood, 18-year-old New Yorker, who has been burning up the eastern tennis courts this season. Sydney had George Lott, Davis Cup singles player, at two sets all in their Newport Casino quarter - finals match and was stroking accurately and expertly when the cramp forced him to slow down.

Lott also slowed down to match the New Yorker's pace. He managed to enter the semifinals by clinching the deciding set for a 6-4, 7-5, 4-6, 4-6, 6-4 victory.

Lott, seeded second in the historic Casino play, led three other highly ranked stars into the second last round, where he will clash with his in-

ENGLISH STAR SCORES EASILY

Other Victories Carried Through Three Sets

Marjorie Morrill Downs Ethel Burkhardt

Baroness Levi Conquers Virginia Rival

BY TED VOSBURGH
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS (N. Y.) Aug. 21. (AP)—Other players here may falter and drop a set now and then but "Bouncing Betty" Nuthall marches steadily forward through the ranks of America's foremost stars in the direction of the national women's championship.

Nineteen-year-old Betty won today, 6-1, 6-1, from slender little Dorothy Weisel of Sacramento, while the three other survivors of the original field of fifty-seven contenders all were extended to the limit in three-set battles.

This sturdy English girl, who carries her racquet upraised between strokes and swings it like a bludgeon, beat down the defenses of the California youngster through sheer power, ran her from corner to corner with deep drives until she was near exhaustion and varied her tactics now and again with soft drop shots that just wafted over the net for clean placements.

SHOTS INADEQUATE

In the face of that disconcerting attack little Miss Weisel found the shots with which she conquered Sarah Palfrey yesterday were almost pitifully inadequate.

After taking the opening game of the match on her service she lost seven games in a row, managed to win one, again on her own delivery, then dropped five more and with them the match, although she never ceased to fight back with all the strength she possessed.

The competitive thrills that were lacking in Miss Nuthall's easy victory were found in abundance in the other quarter-finals in which Marjorie Morrill of Dedham, Mass., defeated Ethel Burkhardt, San Francisco, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2; Mrs. Anna Harper of San Francisco stopped Mary Greef of Kansas City, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4, and the amazing Baroness Georgio Giacomo Levi of Italy overcame Penelope Anderson, Richmond, Va., 4-6, 6-4, 7-5.

In the semifinals tomorrow Baroness Levi meets Mrs. Harper and Miss Nuthall clashes with Miss Morrill.

Mrs. Harper, a spry little left-handed player who is the sole remaining California representative, needed all her courage and coolness under fire to pull out her match with Miss Greef after trailing in the final set. The result vindicated the present national ranking, which places Mrs. Harper at No. 5 and Miss Greef at No. 6, and gave additional ammunition to the tennis fans who maintain the San Franciscan should have been sent to England with the Wightman Cup team this summer instead of the Kansas City girl.

SMASHING VICTORY

The most exciting match of the day was that in which the former Maude Rosenbaum of Chicago, now the Baroness Levi of Rome, volleyed and smashed her way to victory over Miss Anderson.

The Richmond player was the picture of form but her opponent, a chop-stroke artist of rare ability and acrobatic skill, continually attacked until at last she carried the day through sheer aggressiveness and courage. Miss Anderson also put up a great fight and warded off four match points in the tenth game of the final set, only to lose in the twelfth.

All four of the seeded doubles teams came through successfully, and the semifinals tomorrow will pit Betty Nuthall and Sarah Palfrey against Miss Anderson and Miss Morrill, and Mrs. Harper and Edith Cross, San Francisco, against their fellow - Californians, Josephine Cruickshank and Marjorie Gladman.

The top-seeded team of Miss Nuthall and Miss Palfrey was hard pressed in the quarter-finals by the stalwart young team of Dorothy Andrus and Virginia Hillsery, but greater experience finally carried them to victory at 4-6, 6-2, 6-4.

CHICAGO'S LEAD CUT TO TWO GAMES BY NEW YORK

Blake, Teachout Soundly Belted by McGraw's Athletes; Errors Put Windy City Team in Hole

CHICAGO, Aug. 21. (AP)—John McGraw's Giants from New York presented a bear-training act in Wrigley Field this afternoon, and when it was over had a 13-to-6 victory over the Cubs in the first game of their vital series and were only two games behind Chicago in the National League pennant battle.

The Giants belted Sheriff Fred Blake and Bud Teachout for fifteen hits, took advantage of every Cub shortcoming, and presented a defense that left no opportunities for easy scoring.

The Cubs dug the pit from which they were unable to hoist themselves, before a man was out in the first inning. Clarence Blair muffed Hughie Critz's grounder, and Eddie Farrell followed up by booting Leach's roller. Blake walked Lindstrom Critz scored and Terry was safe at first as Farrell threw out Leach at second. Ott walked and after O'Farrell had flied out Jackson singled, scoring Lindstrom. Wallie Roettger then produced the blow that wrecked the Cubs — a homer into the right-field bleachers, which gave the Giants a six-run working margin.

The Cubs picked up one in each of the next two innings on homers by Blair and Gabby Hartnett, and added two more in the fifth. The Giants, however, stayed right in there, scoring twice in their half of the fifth. The Cubs still were in the ball game until New York staged another uprising in the eighth. Five singles, an error and a sacrifice sent Blake to the showers, and before Teachout could stop the affair, the Giants had five more runs.

The Cub fielding, which was almost flawless against Brooklyn last week, was little short of comical at times today. Three times Wilson, Blair and Farrell failed to get together on pop flies back of the infield, and three times they let them drop for hits that figured in scoring. On top of that, three infield errors aided the hustling New Yorkers in their quest for runs. Score:

PERCY WILLIAMS WINS

Olympic Champion Captures Heat of 100-Yard Dash in 9 3-5s. at British Empire Games.

HAMILTON (Ont.) Aug. 21. (AP)—A spectacular victory for Percy Williams, Olympic sprint champion, and the unexpected defeat of Lord David Burghley, England's titled hurdle star, featured the second day of the track-and-field championships of the British Empire games today. At nightfall, England and South Africa each had three more championships to its credit.

England captured the three-mile run, the hammer throw and the half-mile run while South Africa accounted for the shotput, discus throw and running high jump.

Williams's great victory was scored in a heat of the 100-yard dash. He was off to a bad start and needed all his vaunted speed to win from W. Gerhardt of South Africa, with J. R. (Buster) Brown of Edmonton, third. Williams's time, ◆◆9 2-5s., equalled the Canadian record set by Cyril Coaffee in 1922.

Lord David's defeat came in the first heat of the 120-yard high hurdles when he trailed J. H. Viljoen of South Africa to the tape by inches. Viljoen's time of 14.3s set a new Canadian record for the event only to be superseded a few minutes later when H. O. Davies of South Africa was timed in 14.7s. Although beaten in his heat, Lord David's second place qualified him for the finals on Saturday.

H. Hart accounted for two of South Africa's championships. He won the shot put with a toss of 47ft. 10in. and then won the discus throw with a heave of 138ft. 11in.

BRITISH POLO PLAYERS TROUNCE PICKED SQUAD

ROSSLYN (N. Y.) Aug. 21. (AP)—The British polo team, here for the challenge series with the United States for the International Cup in September, signalized its competitive debut on Long Island turf today by trouncing a picked Argentine American quartet playing under the name of Greentree by thirteen goals to five, in a match shifted to Talbott Field from the Whitney estate in Manhasset.

Because the British were obviously not yet rid of their sea legs and up to form no handicapping allowances were given. Otherwise the invaders, a thirty-three goal combination, would have been hard pressed to outscore the twenty-six-goal opposition, consisting of John Hay (Jock) Whitney at No. 1, Jack Nelson, the Argentine veteran at No. 2, J. Watson Webb at No. 3, and J. C. (Cokie) Rathborne, the Yale star, at back.

Capt. C. T. I. (Pat) Roark, No. 3 and field leader, scored six goals and was easily the most effective player on the British side. Lacey, the Anglo-Argentine veteran making his first American appearance since 1928, was not hitting the ball with accustomed accuracy or assur-

Three-Run Rally in Ninth Gives Acorns 9-to-8 Victory

OAKLAND (Cal.) Aug. 21. (AP)—The Oaks came through with a brilliant three-run rally in the ninth here tonight to defeat the Hollywood Stars, 9 to 8.

The game was marked by a small riot following the calling out of Johnny Vergez at the home plate by Umpire Henry Manning. Vergez tried to score from second base on the same play which resulted in Anton being out at the plate when he tried to score from third on an infield roller. Vergez was trying to sneak in as Bassler had his back turned after making the play on Anton. Fans threw hundreds of cushions about the field and it looked for a time as though it would be necessary for Oakland to forfeit the ball game.

Following a clearing of the field Ray Brubaker singled to center field to score Buzz Arlett from second base with the winning run.

Hector McDonald and Teddy Palacios Clash Tonight in Hollywood Stadium

LIGHTWEIGHTS TOP PROGRAM

Mexican Battler will Enter Ring Short-ender

Winner of Tonight's Fight May Get Hess Go

Northwestern Boy is Rated High in Canada

A pair of promising young lightweights, Hector McDonald and Teddy Palacios, top the Hollywood American Legion Stadium fight card tonight. McDonald is claimant of the Canadian lightweight championship. Palacios is a boy who has been developed around the smaller clubs in Southern California and boxing men predict Teddy will make a name for himself in the boxing racket. McDonald has been made favorite for tonight's fight because he has had more experience against topnotch fighters and he is a clever boxer and very fast on his pins.

GOLDIE HESS

Goldie Hess has a date to fill at the stadium two weeks from tonight. The winner of the McDonald-Palacios bout will probably get that shot. McDonald was originally signed to meet Hess, but rather than wait around for Hess to get in shape Hector took the fight with Palacios.

The main event tonight figures to be a close fight. Teddy Palacios showed he could fight when he met Johnny Lamar at the stadium and floored Johnny and had an advantage during the early rounds of the fight. Only lack of experience prevented Palacios from beating a seasoned veteran like Lamar. Johnny had to use all of his ring generalship to beat Teddy during the closing rounds of the fight.

Strong preliminaries support the main event. Freddie Hawkins and Leonard Bennett, lightweights, fight the semi-wind-up. Hawkins is picked to win this fight. He is another boy who has been going over with a bang at the smaller clubs. Bennett is a tough hombre who likes to fight and this bout should be close.

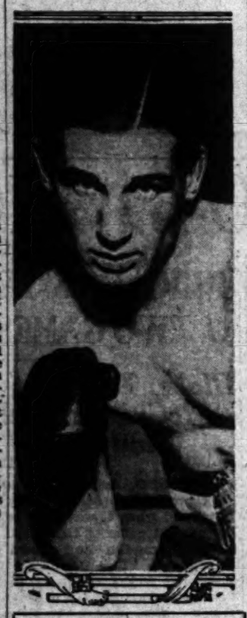
Joe Bitto is seen in the special. He fights Joe Goeders, a lightheavyweight. Bitto is the more experienced and should win. Ralph Leonard and Jack Kay, welterweights, will fight in the second spot, a four-rounder, and Leon Lomelli battles Richie Parr in the curtain-raiser.

GILL AWARDED JOB

HONOLULU, Aug. 21. (AP)—Eugene L. Gill, former athlete of Oregon State College, was appointed director of physical education and intramural sports of the University of Hawaii today.

TOPS BILL

Here's Hector McDonald, who heads tonight's program at the Hollywood Legion, meeting Teddy Palacios.



Rovers Battle Buccaneers in Uplifter Tilt

In the polo match for Sunday at the Uplifters' Club the Buccaneers and the Rovers are to resume hostilities. In their last meeting several weeks ago, the Rovers emerged in front after a hard battle and they are confident that they can repeat in the ensuing contest. However, Lionel Pedley and his Buccaneers think otherwise and are planning to force the pace from the opening throw-in.

The Rovers under the leadership of Snowy Baker form a well-balanced, hard-riding aggregation with plenty of power but they will be facing a very strong defensive pair in Lionel Pedley and Clair Brunson.

The game will get under way promptly at 2:30 o'clock with Hugh Blue in the role of referee. Announcements over the public-address system will acquaint the fans with all the details of the game and for the benefit of those who are unable to attend in person, radio station KMTR will put the game on the air play by play.

COMBS, LITTLE ANNEX MATCHES

Enter Semifinal Round of Spreckels Cup Event

CORONADO COUNTRY CLUB, Aug. 21.—The 1930 annual A. B. Spreckels Cup golf tournament is going to be a battle of juniors. That was made sure today as the lopping of the crowned heads continued and four young golfers, the oldest not more than 21, advanced to the semifinal round.

ERNIE COMBS

Russell Osgood, young San Diego Country Club golfer, staged a decided surprise when he defeated E. G. "Speed" Martin, 1 up in twenty-two holes. Martin yesterday put Jack Gaines, medalist, out of the running in the first round. Osgood and Martin staged a close battle all the way around with seldom more than a single hole separating them.

Osgood won when he put his second shot within three feet of the pin on the fourth extra hole and sank his putt for a birdie three. Martin took a par four.

Clifford Little, Los Serranos; E. F. Coombs, Virginia Country Club, and "Gig" Bramstedt, Coronado, also advanced to the semifinal round. Little won from Gail Stockton, San Bernardino, 3 and 1; Coombs easily beat A. A. Mathewson, 3 and 2, while Bramstedt had to come from behind to defeat Bill Jacks, Girard, 2 and 1.

Tomorrow Osgood plays Little and Coombs meets Bramstedt. The semifinal round will be of 36 holes. All other flights will finish tomorrow with the cup flight final scheduled for 36 holes Saturday.

LARGE FISH SIGHTED OFF SANTA MONICA

There are plenty of signs of yellowtail, dolphin and marlin swordfish off the coast, it was learned last night from Cliff and Jack, operators of the live-bait boats Thrush and Palisades at Santa Monica. Anglers, who go after these larger fish, should be properly equipped, for they give a fight that the angler will remember ever afterward.

Good catches of barracuda, bass, halibut and bonita were made during the last week from both boats, the skippers also declared. Several unusually large halibut were taken from the ship Palisades.

SMITH, ABENDINO MIX

Don Smith and Frankie Abendino, a pair of hard-punching lightweights, will box the eight-round main event on the weekly boxing card at Compton tonight. A card of four-round bouts makes up the preliminaries. They are: Gordon Shaphard vs. Frank Jones, 140 pounds; Paul Leach vs. Paul Chaney, 130 pounds; Rito Martinez vs. Joe Delvar, 124 pounds; Joe Bravo vs. Don Arnoth, 130 pounds.

But it will be a trifle difficult in trying to put on another Sharkey-Stribling fight this winter after their last meeting. It can be done, but there will be quite a lot of gagging. Stribling has bounded into the middle of the argument, but not far enough to be named as the out-and-out challenger.

Plenty of people think Carnera could whip any of them, but he has been barred in so many places and there are few leading heavyweights around who care to meet him at any price. Carnera's record may mean practically nothing, but his size and speed indicate a lot.

Zahniser Wins Game for Suds

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21. (AP)—With Paul Zahniser pitching good ball and his team-mates contributing timely hitting, Seattle defeated the San Francisco Seals, 8 to 5, today. The visitors landed on Elmer Jacobs for three runs in the opening inning and pushed over another batch of three in the fifth frame. Zahniser held the locals to eight safeties. Dutch Holland of the Indians hit a triple and a homer to drive in three of the runs.

LARGE FISH CATCH FROM BARGE LISTED

J. A. Wilkinson of Hollywood yesterday made the prize catch aboard the Star of Scotland fishing ship, anchored off the coast at Ocean Park, it was announced by Capt. Arnold.

Wilkinson hauled in many barracuda and halibut and some bass, his bag for the day being one of the largest caught from the steel vessel since the Alaska trader was opened to the public several months ago, according to officers of the boat.

The Way to Power

In a recent radio talk Babe Ruth brought out the point briefly that wrist action is the main basis of power in baseball hitting and also in golf. In a longer private talk he went well beyond this point. "I don't believe," he said, "that the average fellow has anything like a true line on the value of wrist action in hitting anything—a baseball, a golf ball, a tennis ball or a polo ball. If you watch most of them you will see they are trying to hit with their bodies, with their shoulders, with their arms—with almost everything except their wrists."

"Where do you think most of the trouble comes from?" I asked him.

"I think it comes because most of them are overanxious, all tied up, too tense. They start by gripping too tightly. That kills off the hands and wrists. Their wrists get locked and then they have to swing their shoulders and bodies in. You'd be surprised how far a fellow can hit a baseball using only his wrists.

I know I've been caught off guard or out of position on a sharp-breaking curve, which has forced me to slap at the ball using only my wrists, and—now and then—I have watched that ball sail over the fence. The wrist is the main spring—both wrists in baseball and golf. If you get them to work, the rest is fairly easy. If you don't get them to work, you are not going to do any good hitting. You can't get any speed in closing a door if the hinges are rusty and won't work. Hack Wilson must have great wrist action, for no short, stocky guy is going to hit that many home runs without a lot of it."

Polo Survivors

The polo eliminations seem to have reached a point where at least three of the team are reasonably safe. They are Hitchcock, Pedley and Guest. The battle for the fourth spot has been a wild and wolly scrimmage among Earl Hopping, Boeseke and Williams. There is so much high-class competition now that the job of making the team may be tougher than the international matches later on. At least it is tough enough. Polo has come with a rush in the last few years from one ocean to another, and when you get down to the assignment of naming four men from the entire country the situation is bound to be tied up with tangles. There can be no other way.

As for Tangles

There is nothing in the way of tangles just now that approaches the heavyweight situation. The snarl there is all knots. In the first place there is Schmeling; who is he to fight? If Sharkey beats Campolo he will be no closer to the title than he is today, since Campolo has never figured in the argument. If Campolo beats Sharkey he will be an immediate contender.

Plenty of people think Carnera could whip any of them, but he has been barred in so many places and there are few leading heavyweights around who care to meet him at any price. Carnera's record may mean practically nothing, but his size and speed indicate a lot.

ENTERPRISE AND YANKEE WINNERS

Each Captures Second Race in Official Trials

Both Yachts Break Previous Record for Course

Columbia's Old Mark Goes by Boards in Tilts

NEWPORT (R. I.) Aug. 21. (AP)—Yankee and Enterprise each won its second straight race today in the official trials for selection of the defender of the America's Cup and each broke the previous record for a thirty-mile triangular course, Yankee by the widest margin.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON

The record broken was that set by the Columbia, the cup defender of 1901, which sailed the cup course in 2h. 51m. 48s. Yankee bettered that record by 3m. 49s., and Enterprise bettered the old mark by 2m. 28s., much to the discomfort of Weetamoe, the Morgan-Nichols candidate, which followed her home.

In the fastest thirty miles ever sailed by a racing yacht Yankee steadily drew ahead of Whirlwind, which had been regarded as a good heavy-weather boat, in a brisk northeast wind which ranged in velocity from twenty to twenty-five miles an hour.

The sea was unruly, but the Boston boat gained on each of the three legs.

The first leg was a reach, the second a beat to windward and the final ten miles another reach. Yankee lost her jib halfway down the second leg, but loss of that sail area failed to impede her, for under single head rig she widened her lead over Whirlwind at each of the next two marks.

The result of today's trials made Yankee look like a better million dollars than ever before. For each of the four candidates represents a sporting investment of about that amount.

Because they were more evenly matched the race between Enterprise and Weetamoe was probably the more exciting from a spectator's standpoint. Harold S. Vanderbilt took Enterprise over the starting line more precisely than did George Nichols with Weetamoe, and from then until the finish the house of Morgan saw the house of Vanderbilt between it and the pace makers.

Enterprise led Weetamoe at the end of the first ten-mile reach by twenty-four seconds. After the next leg, a ten-mile beat to windward, Enterprise had widened her lead to four minutes and twelve seconds. When Weetamoe broke out a jib topsail on the final leg Enterprise continued under jib and staysail as her only head gear. Possibly had she carried more sail, her margin of victory might have been wider. She led Weetamoe by three minutes and eight seconds at the finish without having risked her rigging on the dash home.

The drubbing administered to Whirlwind by Yankee was less impressive, despite Yankee's record-breaking time, because Whirlwind as usual went on her own erratic way. She split tacks and tacked more frequently than the Boston boat.

CRAMP CAUSES WOOD'S DEFEAT

ternational team-mate, Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex. Allison advanced through an extra-set victory over Frank Shields, New York youngster, 6-8, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Bill Bill Tilden, top-seeded national and defending champion, was called upon to face Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., in today's quarterfinals. The old master's injured hip was greatly improved and he scored a straight-set victory, 6-2, 6-3, 7-5.

Big Bill will have another interesting match tomorrow for his close friend and doubles partner, Frank Hunter of New Rochelle, N. Y., managed to gain the other semifinals position in the lower half of the draw by outsteadying Van Ryn to the tune of 8-6, 4-6, 6-3, 1-6, 6-4.

Play in the doubles, also reduced to the semifinals stage, was featured by the elimination of Lott and Johnny Doeg, the national champions, by Jack Tidball and Gerald Bartesh, Los Angeles youngsters, 6-3, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3. Tilden and Hunter almost gave youth another fling when they engaged in a three-hour battle with Keith Gledhill of Santa Barbara, Cal., and Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena, Cal., and finally won, 6-1, 6-4, 12-14, 8-6.

Wilbur Coen, Jr., Kansas City, and Harrison Coggeshall, Des Moines, became semifinalists by defeating Phil Neer, San Francisco, and E. W. Feibleman, New York, 6-8, 7-5, 6-2, 8-6. The other bracket in the upper half of the draw was taken by Berkeley Bell, Austin, Tex., and Gregory Mangin, Newark, after upsetting G. Lyttleton Rogers, Ireland, and J. W. McPherson, New York, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4, 6-3.

"THE HAIG" HAS UPS AND DOWNS

Walter Shoots 77 in First Round of Western Open

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANWOOD GOLF CLUB, ORION (Mich.) Aug. 21. (AP)—Harry Hampton, the rotund Scot from Chicago, adopted the role of the inevitable dark horse today to trot away with first honors in the opening eighteen-hole skirmish for the western open golf championship.

WALTER HAGEN

The bespectacled professional gained his lead today with a dazzling 69, three strokes under par and one shot ahead of Clarence Gamber, Detroit professional who shattered perfect figures with a 70 and finished second.

A spectacular record-equaling 31, four strokes under par on the first nine, was the powder that blew Hampton into the lead and held him there today. Perfect approach shots that sailed his ball to within easy distance of the cup and steady employment of his putter brought him four birdies on the 3201-yard stretch, while he played the remaining holes in par. He posted a 38, only one stroke over par on the return.

Although a heavy cross wind and a brief downpour of rain stopped the heavy assault started against par in yesterday's qualifying round, most of the favorites with two notable exceptions stuck in the running. The exceptions were Tommy Armour, defending champion from Detroit, and Walter Hagen, who topped the qualifying round with a record-breaking 67 yesterday. A bad 40 on the first nine stopped Armour and he finally came in with a 78, nine strokes behind Hampton's score, while Hagen took a par 35 out and then slumped to take a 42 on his backward nine for a 77.

Only two others shattered par today—Bob Shave, Marion (O.) professional, and the veteran Al Watrous, Detroit, who shot 71's.

One stroke behind them with perfect 72's were "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn of New York; Densmore Shute, Columbus, O., and Emerick Koscis, Detroit professional. Seven shot 73's and among them were such favorites as Gene Sarazen of New York and Emmett French of Southern Pines, S. C. Horton Smith and Johnny Farrell of New York, two more favored threats, staggered in with a pair of 74's to cling to the ranks of the leaders. They played most of their rounds during the rain.

DE LARA IS BEATEN IN NET MATCH

Local Court Star Drops Quarter-Final Match to Thomas Markey

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—George Jennings of Chicago, defending champion, today defeated Ted Drewes of St. Louis, 11-9, 6-2, 7-5 in the quarter-finals of the national public parks tennis tournament.

After dropping the first set Dooly Mitchell steadied to take the next three in a row from Bob Considine in a match which was the major upset of the day. The scores were 3-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4. Both are of Washington.

Mitchell will play Thomas Markey, Indianapolis, in the semifinals tomorrow. Jack De Lara of Los Angeles was eliminated by Markey, 6-4, 6-8, 6-4, 6-1.

KATHERINE W. TAKES FEATURE BORDER

AGUA CALIENTE, Aug. 21.—Providing a startling upset, Katherine W., flaunting the colors of Mrs. Frances Walters, galloped under the wire a nose ahead of A. C. Russell's Luke, Jr., to capture the Altasal Handicap, feature event on today's racing card.

Given a gallant ride by Jockey Eddie Bernier, who previously had reached the winner's circle aboard Dixie Beauty in the first race, Katherine W. came forward in the final strides to get the verdict. Starkist, of the College Inn Stable, was four lengths behind, in third place.

The Del Paso Handicap, fourth fixture on the program, went to John Coburn's Brud after a close skirmish with Bad Boy. Dapper copped the show. Cecil McHugh scored his second victory of the afternoon with Brud, having piloted Argue ahead of the field in the second race. The results:

First race, six furlongs, claiming—Dixie Beauty, first (Bernier); Black Mis., second (Meredith); Straight Flush, third (Cochran.) Time, 1:13 4-5.

Second race, one mile, claiming—Argue, first (McHugh); Thos. Lynn, second (Johns); Bells of Winchester, third (Mart.) Time, 1:39 2-5.

Third race, five and one-half furlongs, Allowance—The Cheshire Cat, first (Turk); Clarabel A. second (Wolf); Cleore Conard, third (Jones.) Time, 1:06 4-5.

Fourth race, six furlongs, the Del Paso handicap—Brud, first (McHugh); Bad Boy, second (Johns); Tony Graham, third (Turk.) Time, 1:12 4-5.

Fifth race, one mile, claiming—Peregrine, first (Bernier); Tom Byrd, second (Meredith); Baldwin, third (Johns.) Time, 1:39 4-5.

INSURANCE MEN ELECT OFFICERS

S. B. Mason Heads Mutuals' National Association

Chicago Expected to Get Next Convention

Delegates Leave Today for Catalina Island

Delegates to the thirty-fifth annual convention of the National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies yesterday elected S. B. Mason of Bloomington, Ill., president to succeed Burton S. Flagg, of Andover, Mass. Mason has been vice-president of the organization.

James S. Kemper of Chicago was chosen vice-president for the ensuing year. Harry Harrison of Worcester, Mass., O. E. Hurst of Lexington, Ky., Justin Peters of Philadelphia, Pa., and George W. Miller of Bucyrus, O., were named directors for the three-year period expiring in 1933.

Harry P. Cooper of Indianapolis, Ind., who has been secretary since 1914, was re-elected.

Chicago is expected to be chosen for the next convention.

Dr. J. L. Leonard, professor of finance, University of Southern California, was the chief speaker at yesterday's session, discussing the advantages of co-operation.

In the afternoon the majority of the visiting delegates and their ladies journeyed to Santa Ana for a Spanish barbecue. The concluding entertainment feature of the gathering will be a trip to Catalina Island today.

Latin America Called Fertile Field of Trade

"The greatest sphere for commercial expansion in California, which today is in its infancy, is toward Western Latin-America," Dr. C. N. Thomas of Santa Monica told the Foreign Trade Club of Southern California at the City Club yesterday. In discussing "Mexico in Transition," Dr. Thomas, who is a close student of Mexican and other Latin-American conditions, dwelt on the importance of the recent gathering here of Latin-American representatives.

"This is simply the beginning of larger conferences that will take place between our State and the people to the south of us," he predicted. Dr. Thomas referred to the development of trade relations with Mexico and discussed in detail the resources of the west coast of Mexico, analyzing the types of residents there, and the way in which California can be of aid to her Latin-American neighbors.

Program Drawn for Sunday Fete to Aid Mission

Committeemen in charge of entertainment yesterday completed the program of the outdoor festival to be given at Luna Park, formerly Selig Zoo, Sunday, for the benefit of the historic Mission San Miguel.

Speakers will include Orra E. Monnette, president of the Los Angeles Library Board; Earl Le Moyne, Los Angeles Parlor Native Sons of the Golden West, and Joseph Scott, Ed C. Furpuss and Frank J. Barry, attorneys. The addresses are to be augmented by dancing and singing acts from leading Los Angeles theaters. Earl Le Moyne will be master of ceremonies, and the concessions and other attractions, to be open at 10 a.m., are to be in charge of Harry J. Lelande.

The affair, under auspices of the California Restoration Society, is first of a series to be given in all sections of the State toward raising $50,000 needed to rebuild the mission.

Mercury Hits 90 and Drops

The mercury touched 90 deg. at yesterday's hottest moment, then started to drop rapidly. By 4 p.m. it had declined 7 points and was still in retreat, said Col. H. B. Hersey, government meteorologist.

Light, variable winds were promised for today, although the forecast indicated blue skies with moderate temperature. Warning was issued by the Weather Bureau that low humidity will increase the fire hazard.

ACTOR IN HOSPITAL AFTER FILMED DUEL

Too much realism in motion pictures is responsible for Toofic F. Simon, 24 years of age, being in Hollywood Hospital. In a scene on location, Toofic and another actor engaged in a pistol duel in a Fox picture being directed by Victor Fleming. The shooting brought the actors to close quarters, and Toofic's right arm was painfully burned.

SOUNDS LIKE BUILDING BOOM

But Insurance Men Aren't That Kind

What's in a Name?
E. S. Nail, left, and W. H. G. Kegg with coat-of-arms suggested by Times staff artist.

MR. KEGG AND MR. NAIL, who are not in the hardware business, but rather in the insurance, banking and lumber businesses, are happily sojourning in Los Angeles. They are accustomed to being "kidded" about their names, because they've been business partners and close friends for twenty-seven years. They've been written up in national magazines, and are known as "The Happy Family."

Their official names are W. H. G. Kegg and E. S. Nail. They come from Mansfield, O., and are here in attendance on the thirty-fifth annual convention of the National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies and the fourteenth annual convention of the Federation of Mutual Fire Insurance Companies, both of which are being held at the Biltmore.

Mr. Kegg is secretary and treasurer of the Lumberman's Insurance Company of Mansfield, of which Mr. Nail is president and founder. The latter is also president of the Farmers' Savings and Trust Company and of the Mansfield Lumber Company.

FILMS OF EXPLORER EXHIBITED

Photographic Record of Yucatan Trip Shown by Robert B. Stacy-Judd

The adventures of a Hollywood architect as the driver of an antiquated flivver and the rider of a stiff-legged mule through the tangled jungles of Yucatan, Mexico, were shown to a small group last night by motion pictures taken last spring by Robert B. Stacy-Judd.

Mr. Stacy-Judd made the showing in his office at 6262 Sunset Boulevard and gave illustrations of his travels from the time of his arrival at Merida, Yucatan, until his return to Los Angeles.

In addition to his photographs of the Sacred Well at Chichen-Itza, Mr. Stacy-Judd displayed a number of relics, silver and stone ornaments taken from the sacrificial basin. He explained they were once the prized possessions of the virgins sacrificed at the weird well rites.

Continuing his journey beyond the known Mayan ruins of Chichen-Itza, Mr. Stacy-Judd told of the discoveries made by the expedition of the New Orleans Tulane University, which included an hitherto unknown city and temple near Kobah. He photographed an arch of triumph which had been erected in honor of some Mayan victory and explained that it was similar in construction and detail to many of the noted European arches.

He photographed and described several unknown but elaborately decorated temples and buildings and pointed out particularly an apartment building approximately 200 feet square and originally rising to seven stories.

Mr. Stacy-Judd made the Mayan explorations for further data of his study of the architecture of that ancient race which he hopes to introduce as an original American motif.

Russian Film Director Feted

Fifty members of the writers and directors branch of the Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences entertained Sergei Eisenstein, Russian director, in the academy rooms at the Roosevelt last night.

Frank Lloyd, motion-picture director, presided as toastmaster.

That the 100 per cent dialogue picture is not what it was hoped to be was the statement of the Russian director. He said that something, which corresponds to a close-up in the silent pictures, is needed to make it a real success.

He related his experience in talking pictures of the Russian peasants and said that they were successful because the actors were doing things naturally and without effort.

MAINE PUBLISHER TRAVELS BY PLANE

A. W. H. Gannett, Maine publisher, probably holds the world's record for civilian air travel. When he left here yesterday morning on Western Air Express for his home, he exceeded 100,000 miles of airplane riding. He has toured Europe, North and South America, and likes his own country's services the best, he declared. He stopped here overnight after flying down from Seattle.

FREED YOUTH REARRESTED

One month after he was released from Juvenile Hall for participating in fifteen burglaries, Joe B
